The Lewis and Clark Exposition Company has sent out official invitations to the different counties of Oregon to make an exhibit and con tract for space at the fair. Cities, municipalities and counties are invited to take active part in every city and organized commercial body in the state will receive the same circular invitation The official invitation to Umatilla county is as follows: Portland, Ore., Feb. 21, 1904. An official invitation is hereby extended to Umatilla county to make a special exhibit, either in its own behalf or in connection with some other body, municipal or otherwise, at the Lewis and Clark Centennial where they will make their home is Exposition to be held in Portland in the future. 1905. It is the purpose of the exposition to encourage comprehensive exhibits by counties and by chambers of commerce, boards of traje and other commercial organizations. For exhibits of this character, illustrating the resources, industries and progress of communities, the following regulations have been pro-

First. The preparing and installing of exhibits by counties or organizations will be left to the counties or organizations in whose name CALLED TO PORTLAND BY or under whose authority the exhibits are made. Counties or organ izations may erect separate build ings, or may install their exhibits in the state building of the state in which the county or organization is located Space will be provided on the ex position grounds for all buildings erected by counties and organizations and no charge will be made therefor. Plans and specifications for such buildings shall be submitted to the director-general for his

Very Narrow Margin.

The wool bought here and shipped East for sale cost Mr. Scheurman 48 cents, and he is now selling It for an advance of 1/2 cent, and out of this has to come the interest on the investment, storage and other charges, so that the margin is very small. The demand this year is about the same as a year ago, and there will be more wool from this part of the country at least, and taking everything into consideration, it is very likely that the buyers will not be willing to give as much as at the last sales. They want a margin of tion, if the purpose of the officers about a cent a pound, and will attempt to buy at such a figure as one found that has no one interestwill give them this after the charges of transportation, scouring and incidentals are counted in. Whether the growers will stand for this is not know, for they were not satisfied with the process last spring. and it is hardly likely that they will smile when the market falls. The buyers claim to be about standing even on their buys, and desire a cent margin, so that, in order to get this, either the market will have to rise or the price to fall.

Possible Influence of War, The war is brought out to bear on the former proposition and the con tention is that if it hangs on for an extended time the cloth makers wil get the benefit of an .ncreased de mand, and wool will rise as the demand grows. That is a good deal in the nature of a dream at the pres who has been stopping at the Hotel ent time, however, as the summer is coming on and it will be a long time cused of doing a little sleight-of. before the demand would be creatwill not be affected to a preceptible a board bill of $10.50, a $20 bill and degree.
