

REPUBLICAN CLUB

BEGINS BUSINESS WITH ONE HUNDRED MEMBERS.

Elected Officers, Adopted Constitution and By-Laws and Will Hold Regular Meetings—Will Be a Pacifier and Promoter of the Party's Best Interests and Wholly Devoid of Selfishness—Will Not Be Dictated.

Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, was honored again last night when about 100 of the young men of this city organized the Roosevelt Republican Club of Pendleton.

Roy W. Ritter was selected by the members of the organization to fill the presidential chair, L. G. Frazier was elected vice president, J. H. Gwinn secretary, and Frank J. Macey treasurer.

The constitution and by-laws were reported by a committee which has for the past two weeks been at work on them, and the organization was made permanent.

It was decided to meet hereafter on the second and fourth Thursdays in each month until such time as the work of the club shall have been done and the success of the reunited party be a matter of history.

Special programs will be arranged for the meetings of the club, well known and entertaining speakers will be secured, and the sessions will be both interesting, instructive and beneficial.

J. H. Gwinn, F. J. Macey and Charles W. Myers were appointed as a committee to have in charge the commencement to swell the membership until it takes in every republican in the city and vicinity over the age of 18 years. There will be no limit to the maximum age.

The war-cry and trumpet-call of the club will be harmony. It will represent republicanism, acknowledge no leader except the great principle of the party. The organization will not submit to the dictates of faction, campaign bosses, or pledge itself to the support of any national seekers after nomination to county, state or national offices. It will follow the example of the state convention and will not be swayed and held by the strife in the party in this part of the state. Such is the plan as outlined by the managers of the club, which will make its first appearance as an entertainer and instructor at the court house on the evening of March 24, when an elaborate program will be presented with music by the club quartet and speeches by some of the republican speakers of the county who do not represent one faction or the other.

WOOL BUYERS COMING.

J. H. Gwinn Receives Letters From All the Prominent Wool Men Who Have Attended Former Sales.

J. H. Gwinn, secretary of the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association, is in receipt of letters from all the prominent buyers who have attended former wool sales in this city, and they all inquire as to the prospects for the wool clip in this county this year.

It is evident that all the former buyers will be on the ground with several new buyers, and that the excellence of the Umatilla clip. George W. Abbott, of Boston, the buyer who had the misfortune to break his leg on the depot platform at The Dalles, last year, while attending the wool sales in Eastern Oregon, has written to Mr. Gwinn that he expects to be present, and in closing his letter says in regard to the market prospects:

"As the situation now is, wool will be some lower than last year, but the American Wool Company, on account of their large production, is the chief factor in making prices for goods. They have offered their goods at less than a year ago.

"If sheep have done well, growers may perhaps realize as much per head as they did last year, even if prices are lower on the clip, as the clip averaged from one to one and a half pounds, less per fleece than usual, on account of the severe winter and the scarcity of feed.

Mr. Gwinn has written letters to the principal buyers to the effect that Umatilla county wool will be of an extra good quality this year, and that owing to the general conditions of the market, the grower here will expect a good price for his wool and that it might as well be understood first as last that the sheepmen were not scared at the prospects of alleged low prices.

APPRAISERS APPOINTED.

Will Look After Apportionment of Wad Estate Among Creditors.

Judge Fitz Gerald yesterday appointed Thomas Thompson, George Perringer and Lee Moorhouse as appraisers of the estate of A. B. Wade. The men will make an inventory of the estate as soon as possible and report to the court of bankruptcy. Their report will be audited and if correct the disposal of the estate for division among the creditors will be made as soon as the necessary sales can be made.

The board of appraisers was appointed as it was, for the reason that the men on it were not in any way connected with the estate. Notices were interested in the bank. They are, therefore, in a position to act in a perfectly impartial manner in the appraisement.

TAXPAYING.

Large Volume of It Done by Mail, Involving Much Work.

The sheriff's office is busy today, but the business looks like a calm beside the rush of the last few days of the tax payments. Yesterday was the last day under the law that the sheriff could grant a rebate, and the office was full of people all day waiting for their turn.

Up to last night it is estimated

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it to-day. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No soaking! Add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers to-day. 10 cts.

that $125,000 was handed over the counter at the office in payment of taxes, but this is estimate, and may be either too high or too low. The office force does not know the exact amount, and will not for a week or so.

The office safe is full of letters and statements with checks and orders attached for payment of taxes by those who were unable to reach the city in time for their rebate, so sent the amount through the mail. As much of the time of the clerks as possible will be spent on this pie correspondence until all has been cleared out of the way and the receipts sent back with the rebate marked. In the meantime, the office is taking money for taxes, or at least is writing no receipts, until the rebate work is out of hand. It will take several days to get this part of the work done, the taxes represented by the letters amount to several thousand dollars, made up principally of small statements.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

Smith, Who Attempted Suicide, is of Unsound Mind.

Upon the complaint of his brother, J. B. Smith, of La Grande, H. C. Smith was today examined by the county court and adjudged insane. The court took the asylum on the night of or in the morning, by Sheriff Taylor.

Smith is the man who attempted suicide last year, and some three weeks ago by cutting his throat with a razor and slashing his wrists. He is an Englishman, 43 years of age, and was born in London. His occupation is that of a sawmill man, and his residence is given as Cold Springs, Mo.

The cause of his insanity is given as melancholy. Smith came to this country some time ago and had been living at the home of his brother, O. R. & N. H. Smith, in La Grande, and attempted to commit suicide by jumping into the river. He is now recovering from his wounds, and was thought to be able to return to his home in a few days, until mental derangement was noticed.

NEWS OF ATHENA

KING BROTHERS' MOTHER AFFLICTED WITH CANCER.

MARKET REVIEWED

MARKETS ARE DEAD FAR AS CONCERNS CHANGES.

The Only Thing That Has Happened Lately is Fresh Eggs—Almost a Dead Calm in the Wheat Market—Beef Market Extremely Slow and Governed by Local Demand.

The market is a dead one this week as far as any changes are concerned. Fresh eggs are bringing the farmers 16 2/3 cents a dozen, and that is about the only thing that has happened in the last five or six days. All the other prices are the same, and there is not any likelihood of a change for some time to come.

The wheat market is so quiet that the exporting companies do not see the necessity of informing the buyers of the price half the time, and they have to telegraph back to find out, if they happen to want to know, which is but seldom.

Beef is selling as fast as the people want a little meat to eat, but no faster. The buyers are shipping only such amounts as the market demands, and the farmers are not at all anxious to sell, for the quotations are low. They prefer to hold a time, and take the chances of bettering the figures afterward.

RETURNS FROM FUNERAL.

E. B. McFarland, of Adams, Attend-er Funeral of Brother, Who Was Drowned in Snake River.

E. B. McFarland, of Adams, returned today from Lewiston, Idaho, where he attended the funeral of his brother, Ephraim McFarland, who was drowned in the Snake river with another brother, Bert McFarland, on November 27, while rescuing machinery from the wrecked steamer "The River" at Mountain Sheep Rapids.

The remains of Ephraim McFarland were found only last Monday, and were being held at Lewiston, Idaho, for almost four months, and the other brother has not yet been found.

Mr. McFarland has written to all the officers of counties bordering on the Snake and Columbia rivers, to see if they have any information about the body, which he thinks the body has been washed down the river and may be found many miles below Lewiston.

Bert McFarland, the brother still missing, was 27 years old, weighed about 160 pounds, and had amalgam teeth in his upper front teeth. He was a veteran of the Spanish war, having served three years in the 35th regiment, company I.

Any information concerning a corpse of this description would be appreciated by E. B. McFarland, of Adams, Ore.

IRRIGATION LITIGATION.

Personal and Direct Inspection of Conditions on the Little Walla Walla.

Judge Ellis and A. D. Stillman left this morning for Malheur, where they will go over the ground of the Little Walla Walla and Hudson Bay irrigation companies, in order to more familiarize themselves with the condition of things in regard to the merits of the two sides in the litigation now before the court.

Their visit is in connection with the case now before the courts in which the Hudson Bay people wish to take water from the Little Walla Walla river above the ditch of the other company, which action has been enjoined by the court.

To all of my Friends and Patrons: This morning for Malheur, where my friends, Drs. L. L. and T. H. White, to whom I have sold my dental business in this city, I thought I would recommend the Drs. White as first-class dentists in every respect, and will esteem it a favor for any of my patients to place their cases in the hands of the Drs. White.

Respectfully, E. A. MANN.

Returned From California.

J. W. Young, a well known citizen of Weston, was in town yesterday. Mr. Young has just returned from a trip through California. He visited all the prominent cities and districts of interest in the state. He cut his visit short in order to reach Pendleton in time to pay his taxes and get the rebate, but through a late train reached here one day too late.

Catholic Cathedral.

Baker City Catholics will build a magnificent cathedral to cost $75,000. This is being done through the efforts of Bishop C. J. O'Reilly, whose home is in Baker City.

WILL HALLEY SERVE?

IS STRONGLY URGED TO TAKE NOMINATION AGAIN.

Large Business Interests Cause Him to Hesitate Before Making Race for District Attorney Again—The Church People Anxious for Him to Keep Up the Fight Against Gambling—Will Support Him Regardless of Party, if He Will Run.

The office of district attorney for Morrow and Umatilla counties is one of the most important offices to be filled at the coming election, and more people are inquiring about possible candidates for this office than about any other.

Owing to the extreme economy with which T. G. Halley has conducted this office during his term, and owing to his firm and uncompromising attitude on the gambling question, he has a large and enthusiastic following in all the parties, and has the solid support of the church people, who have expressed their hearty approval of his action in running one way.

Mr. Halley has large private interests, which he must attend to, and he is undecided yet as to his action in accepting another nomination, and until he makes his intention known, this office will be the chief center around which the greatest political activity will be found.

During Mr. Halley's term he has won a reputation in which the church people have been concerned. Owing to his advice and counsel, a great deal of costly litigation has been avoided and the county expenses materially reduced.

His action in enforcing the law against gambling has met with especially warm approval from the church people, and more and more parties, and they are desirous of seeing Mr. Halley continue in office and pursue his campaign against gambling and other evils, until it is entirely stamped out in this vicinity.

While there are new men who would probably fill the office as gracefully as Mr. Halley is in the harness and has the matter at his fingers' ends, and they would rather see him continue for another term at least, $9.

John McCourt is mentioned as a possible republican candidate, and as Mr. McCourt is associated with Judge J. J. Ballery, one of the ablest lawyers in the state, his friends argue that he would make a good prosecuting attorney, but his attitude on the gambling issue is not known to the church people, and they prefer to keep a man in the office for another term, whose position on this important question is known, rather than to risk a new man, even though his politics may be more to their liking.

Strong pressure is now being brought to bear upon Mr. Halley, from the best people in the county, on all parties, to continue in this race, and it is thought that he will accept the nomination. The church people fear that a man openly favoring gambling may creep in, if a tried man is not supported by all those in favor of moral discipline in the city, and as the city council favors gambling, the church people should be all they have gained in the past two or three years.

With a vigorous man in this office, they argue, the evil will be so completely under control, within a year or two more, that public sentiment will then be absolutely against open gambling, and the efforts of the active moral forces in the community, will have borne good results.

NINE-TENTHS OF THEM ARE ACTUAL HOMESEEKERS.

They Come From Everywhere and Are Going Everywhere—All Intensely Interested in the West—Many Have Large Families and Are Energetic, Industrious and Hopeful.

"Where do they come from?" answered an O. R. & N. conductor this morning, when asked about the influx of the making of the homeseekers coming to Oregon, on the cheap rate this spring.

"Why, they come from everywhere and are going everywhere. There is no special starting point, and there is no special destination except that all are coming to Oregon."

"They get off at every station and are all homeseekers this year. There are but few regular sightseers among them, and very few of the return tickets will be used, as they are all coming here to stay."

"If I were guessing on the matter, I would place the proportion of actual homeseekers at nine-tenths of the total number of excursionists. They are a thrifty, honest, clean, industrious, energetic lot of people and never get through asking intelligent questions about the West, which prove that they are thinking and are coming to stay."

There are many families from Des Moines transferred from No. 2 to No. 8, their destination being Waverly, Wash., where they expect to stay for a short time.

E. D. Grimmett, father of one of the families, spent two months in Oregon and Washington a year ago, and returned to Iowa to remain permanently. He has nine children ranging from 18 years to six months old, and expects to handle 100 acres of land without hired help.

H. Miller, of Creston, Iowa, had seven children and is also going to grow beets at Waverly, where he expects to live the remainder of his life.

Letters of Administration.

A petition was filed in the probate court this afternoon by J. E. Killgrove, asking that letters of administration be issued in the estate of William J. Killgrove. The petitioner is a brother of the deceased, and upon the making of the widow of the right to administer, the letters were ordered the issue upon the filing of the bond by the petitioner. The estate consists of personal property to the value of $800.

Cattle Outlook Brighter.

While the cattle market continues very greatly depressed, there seems to be a gradual improvement in the tone of the market. Cattlemen have been very greatly discouraged by the indications as that with the advent of spring, conditions will resume a more normal basis and the outlook is for decidedly better prices. Many of the best forced on the market last fall because of the high price of feed and with the advent of spring this class of cattle will be held in great state for better prices. Many of those who are best posted on the situation are inclined to be very bullish in their views.—Rural Spirit.

THE FAIR

AGENTS FOR McCALLS PATTERNS.

JAPS NEED HORSES

TEN THOUSAND CAVALRY MOUNTS TO BE BOUGHT.

Eastern Oregon and Washington, and British Columbia Expected to Furnish This Supply—No Restrictions to Be Made on Color—1,000 to 1,100 Pound Horses Wanted.

The Japanese government will buy about 10,000 cavalry horses in Eastern Oregon, Washington and British Columbia this spring, if this number can be found.

While the agents of the Japanese government will be in the city and have been authorized to learn that the purchase of this consignment of horses will be made early this spring, and already inquiries have been secretly sent out as to the possibility of securing any part of this consignment.

The horses are to be of the same general requirement as those selected for cavalry service by the United States government, except as to color, and no line will be drawn on color. Anything that has four sound legs, a strong back and nerve enough to carry a 120-pound Jap will be acceptable, according to the inquiries made in this city.

As the country has been scourged over thoroughly by the United States government within the last year, horsemen doubt very much that any large proportion of this consignment of cavalry horses will be found in either Eastern Oregon or Washington.

The prices of horses are higher this year by 10 per cent than last year, and while it would be possible to secure a large number of 1,000 to 1,100-pound horses without any restriction on color, the regulation in favor of Eastern Oregon or Washington is against that.

An Outlet for Eden. The Eden people are getting tired of trails and pack animals and are making an effort to obtain a wagon road from what is called Devil's Lane by the river past Elbow and over the Lookingglass mountain into Elkin.

The road has been surveyed. Elgin has at present donated $250 and the Elkin
