At the advice and instance of Judge Hartman, neither Mrs. Sturgis not Mr. Byers joined in the suit to enjoin the enforcement of the assessment, and both paid the taxes levied against their capital stock in the First National Bank without reference to the suit and before the case was decided. Neither joined in the suit. The taxes on these shares of stock were paid for Mrs. Sturgis by George A. Hartman himself, who is her agent.

Further reference is had to the testimony of George A. Hartman in this suit, the suit being decided in favor of the county upon the testimony of G. A. Hartman and C. P. Strain.

If other taxes assessed against shareholders in the First National Bank of Pendleton have not been paid, it is no fault of Hartman's nor results of the county court, since the collec tion of delinquent taxes takes a regu lar course and there is no provision at law whereby the taxes of one person can be collected in any different

IS LABOR DEGRADING?

If Professor R. C. French, of Weston Normal, said that "nobody but a hobo works in a brickyard," as he is reported to have said, the young man who pelted him with stale eggs for the slur, deserves the sympathy of the community.

This sort of would-be aristocratic doctrine expressed by French's statement is not the right kind for a farming community, like Eastern Oregon, where half of the school population comes from the farm or the manual trades.

One-half of the high school graduates from Pendleton this week, are

The cheap white shirt aristocracy which despises the work-ingman, and frowns down the hard-handed laborer, is not the kind that should predominate in Eastern Ore-gon schools. The state should inves-tigate the remarks of Professor French, and if they are true, as re-ported, further prejudice against the Weston Normal should not be invited by keeping him there.
