WILL BOYCOTT UNION MINERS

Perpetual Ban Placed at the Same Time on All Firms Who Employ Union Men.

LAST DEPORTATIONS TO TAKE PLACE TOMORROW.

Troops Will Be Withdrawn This Week—Portland Mine Will Not Be Allowed to Reopen if It Employs Union Men, and All Union Men Will Be Excluded From the District—General Bell Declares the Whole Trouble Due to the Socialists Controlling Miners' Federation.

Cripple Creek, June 13.—The situation in both districts this morning is practically normal. The authorities, both civil and military, expect no further trouble.

Another batch of unionists will be deported tomorrow, and this will wind up the military campaign of driving men from the district.

Ban on All Union Miners. It is expected the ban will only be placed on the Western Federation of Miners and all other organizations to which the metalliferous miners belong.

The troops will probably be withdrawn from the district this week. Nearly all mines which closed Monday last after the independence explosion, resumed operations this morning.

When the Portland mines it will be found that all union miners have been forced to leave camp, thus forcing that company to employ non-union help or remain closed indefinitely.

General Bell, in a statement on his action deporting the miners, attributes the recent troubles to the socialists in the Western Federation who captured the organization two years ago.

Two Important Witnesses for the Defense Have Disappeared—A Pawnbroker Testifies He Sold a Revolver to a Man Answering the Description of Caesar Young—Little Probability That Mrs. Patterson Can Be Proven Guilty of Murder.

New York, June 11.—Nan Patterson was again brought before the coroner today.

The inquest was, however, postponed because the grand jury had not yet finished consideration of the case, and also because two important witnesses, J. M. Smith and wife, brother-in-law and sister-in-law of Mrs. Patterson, are missing.

When the district attorney tried to serve them with subpoenas it was found they had given up their apartments in the St. Paul hotel and left no address. It is possible they will appear when they find their testimony is wanted, but it is considered strange they disappeared.

A Sixth Avenue pawnbroker sold a revolver to a man and woman the day before Young's death. He gave a description of the man, which bears a striking resemblance to Caesar Young.

KILL ARMENIANS BY THOUSANDS

SLAUGHTER ORDERED BY IRADE FROM THE SULTAN.

Seven Thousand People Put to Death and Vast Quantities of Christians' Property Destroyed—Resettlement of Devastated Village Forbidden, and a Vast Region is Terror-stricken—Further Massacres Feared in Other Districts, and Are Probable.

The irade prohibits the resettlement of Armenians in the villages destroyed.

FOR BOISE BARRACKS. Extensive Improvements to Be Pushed to Completion.

Washington, June 10.—Secretary of War Taft is now considering the improvements to be made at the Boise, Idaho, barracks, and official action will be taken in a few days. It is planned to expend about $250,000 in the improvement of this army post, which was recently placed on the permanent list.

Quartermaster General C. F. Humphrey has recommended to the secretary of war that an allotment be made from the general appropriation or improvements at the army post of $300,000. In a memorandum submitted to a chief of staff General Humphrey sets forth existing conditions at the post and submits additional recommendations for improvements as follows:

"Most of the buildings now at the post were erected as far back as 1853. They are built of stone and brick, combined in some cases with frame additions. While they have been fairly well kept up by constant repairs they are becoming very old and will probably soon have to be replaced. There are at the post:

"Officers' quarters—Two double sets. Three single sets, making in all separate sets of quarters for seven officers.

"Non-commissioned staff officers' quarters, one double set for two non-commissioned staff officers. Hospital steward's quarters, one set.

"Barracks—Two barracks, each with capacity for 70 men; one cavalry stable with capacity of 65 animals; one quartermaster's stable with capacity for 50 animals; one hospital for eight beds; one small guard house; storerooms at the post are barely sufficient for a garrison of one company.

La Grande, June 10.—William Allen, a wood dealer of Huron, was assaulted by a thug in a dark alley in this city last night, but in the scuffle which followed, cut his assailant with his pocket knife and drove him off.

He had been in Allen's stable and was followed and assaulted before reaching the place where the thug gave the name of Robbins, and was identified by the cuts he had received from Allen's knife, being arrested in a saloon 10 minutes after the assault. He is now in jail at Union.

The Hilsch-Frank Co. is sending out hundreds of boxes each day to eastern and Montana points. This company receives every evening from Milton and Freewater an average of seven wagon loads. The berries are hauled over by four horse teams and loaded into Northern Pacific refrigerators.

The general healthful conditions at the asylum are indicated by the fact that at the time of the report not one of the 1350 inmates of the institution was in bed on account of sickness.

STOCK PRICES WILL BE BETTER

C. J. Millis Hopes to See a Brisk Movement at Fair Figures This Year.

TEMPORARY SURPLUS WILL BE SLOWLY REMOVED.

O. R. & N. Company Will Assist Stockmen in Reaching Available Range by Giving Extremely Moderate Rates—Surplus Stock in the Eastern and Central Stock Producing States is Gradually Going to Market—This Same Movement Will Gradually Extend to the West and Relieve the Situation.

C. J. Millis, livestock agent for the O. R. & N., who is in the city attending the wool sales, is hopeful of better prices for both cattle and sheep later in the season, and confidently expects a good movement of stock after they are placed in better condition for market on the summer range.

"Beginning at the Missouri river," said Mr. Millis, "all the great stock producing states of the west are more or less overcrowded with stock. Those in the west being more seriously affected in the sheep and cattle eastern and central states, because of their isolation from the great market centers.

"It happens that the surplus for the past few years has been held on the ranges, which causes only a temporary congestion.

"The country is gradually adjusting itself to the condition, and there must be a movement of stock to supply the increasing demand.

"This stagnation of the market is not a permanent thing. History repeats itself in the sheep and cattle markets as in the political and financial history of the country.

"People decline to ship out their surplus last year and the result is that the ranges are overcrowded and the country filled up with sheep that cannot be carried at the present prices by the buyers. The fact that all the country river has a surplus of sheep just now, does not mean that the surplus is a permanent thing.

"As the eastern surplus, nearest the great markets is gradually turned off, the movement will gradually extend to the west. The surplus, it is hoped, will be marketed later at better prices than are now offered.

"Even then the prices may not be what are considered good prices, but everything points to better prices.

"If the O. R. & N. can assist the stockmen in finding ranges where their sheep can be held until marketed or until time to return to winter ranges, it will be glad to do so.

"It will offer every inducement in the way of moderate rates, to help relieve the situation here. If the stockmen know of a summer range available anywhere here on the North, where the surplus stock can be held this season, the O. R. & N. company will take pleasure in assisting in carrying over the stock until such time as the market suits the owners."

Mr. Millis rejoices that wool prices are better than they have been for 10 years in Oregon. The active wool prices and the good prices at which the clip is being sold, takes away much of the uneasy feeling that would otherwise prevail in the stock situation in Oregon, and in fact, in the entire west.

Over 125 cars of sheep have been shipped out of the Heppner district in view.
