

LEE'S REMAINS BACK TO OREGON

METHODISTS WILL RE-ENTER ASHES OF JASON LEE.

Pioneer Missionary Who Started First Missionary Work in Oregon to Be Brought Back and Buried by His Wife in Salem Cemetery—Is Now Resting at His Boyhood's Home in Canada.

The conference of the Methodist Episcopal church held at Eugene City, among a number of other things of a great deal of importance, has decided on a step that should have been taken a great many years ago in justice to a great man, and one whose labors made possible much of the greatness of not only the Methodist church in this state, but of all that great territory at one time known as the Oregon Territory, but now comprising all of the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and part of Montana, says the Salem Statesman.

This refers to the bringing of the remains of the late Rev. Jason Lee to Oregon and depositing them in the lot beside those of his wife and child, in Lee Mission cemetery, in the eastern part of this city.

This matter should have been attended to long ago, this, but the money necessary for the removal was not so readily forthcoming. Now it is said that the funds are supplied, although the name of the donor of the amount necessary is not known.

A committee from the Oregon conference, consisting of A. M. Smith, president of the board of trustees of Willamette university, Rev. Dr. Coleman, president of the university, and a like committee from the Columbia River conference, consisting of Mrs. Smith French and G. M. Booth of The Dalles, will meet at the Imperial hotel today to perfect arrangements for carrying out the proposal.

Rev. Jason Lee was the first Protestant missionary to come to the Oregon country, and the first mission established on what is now the Oliver Beers place on Mission Road, to the north of this city, which was established there in 1824. Ten years later the mission was removed to this city, then just being established.

Rev. Jason Lee was accompanied in his earlier work by his cousin, Daniel Lee.

There yet remains but the matter of detail, as the family of the late missionary have consented to the removal.

The summer of 1844 Jason Lee spent in Washington City, giving much information to all inquirers concerning Oregon. He was taken sick, however, and returning to his former home at Stansand, Canada, he died March 12, 1845, in the room in which he was born. His remains thus were buried at that place.

Jason Lee's daughter by his second wife, Lucy Ann Lee, was for many years a teacher in the Willamette university and later married F. H. Grubb, who survives her and is now living in Portland.

The grave in which lie the remains of Ann Maria Pittman, first wife of Jason Lee, and beside whom the remains of this great missionary will be laid, is in a small enclosure in the Lee Mission cemetery in the eastern part of the city, dedicated to the burial of the more prominent missionaries and their wives.

TO SUPPRESS IMMORALITY. Western Citizens Ask for Removal of Bawdy House Near City Limits.

From the mayor and council of Weston and several farmers residing near that village, comes a remonstrance against the actions of a certain Nancy Jane Smith, who, it is alleged, is conducting a house of questionable character, near the city limits. Acting upon the request of the Weston officials and adjoining residents, Deputy District Attorney H. E. Collier, this afternoon filed an information against the woman, charging her with conducting a bawdy house.

The friction existing against the Smith woman and the city of Weston is of several months' duration. She first opened up a resort in town. She was arrested and fined by the justice of the peace. Her defense was that she was conducting a laundry.

The latest move on the part of Nancy Jane Smith was to open a small house, east of Weston, just outside the town, but the city fathers declare she cannot remain even there, and have called upon the county officials to help preserve the peace and dignity of the community.

WARDE AND KIDDER. "Salambo" to Be Played by Stars at Frazer October 10.

Few plays in recent years have caused the enthusiasm that has been accorded Wagshal and Kemper's gorgeous dramatic spectacle, "Salambo," which will be presented on Monday night, October 10, by Frederick Warde and Kathryn Kidder.

The plot of the play is a story of ancient Carthage once the most powerful and wealthy city in the world. The central characters are Matho, a barbarian chieftain, which will be assumed by Mr. Warde, and Salambo, a priestess of one of the Pagan temples, which will be played by Miss Kidder.

The production has been acknowledged on all sides as one of the most alluring and magnificent stage spectacles presented in many years and excels anything heretofore attempted by the well known firm of Wagshal and Kemper.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Hamilton of Amherst, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infalible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by Tallman & Co. Trial bottles free.

Cautious Investor.

M. E. Harris, who went from Lincoln, Neb., last spring into the Greenhorn country, is in town. After a summer spent in the mines as laborer and prospector, Mr. Harris concluded that farming is a good deal less risky as well as more to his taste, and he will invest in farming lands next spring, after wintering in the Inland Empire and studying and observing first hand, the agricultural conditions. He will spend a month or six weeks in the Rainier country, expecting to return to Pendleton for the balance of the winter, if he can find employment in the vicinity on a farm. Mr. Harris has some means, and proposes to be extremely cautious about investing them.

SHOW PROCESS OF HEALING. Terrible Burns on Body of Mrs. Nave Show Improvement.

From the last of March to the first of October Mrs. Nave has suffered constantly from the effects of burns destroying the skin on one-third of the body, and still the wound is not healed, says the Walla Walla Union.

Six months of healing seems a long time, but Mrs. Nave's life was at one time despaired of and the process of skin grafting alone has succeeded in restoring her to the present state of health, and gives the hope of perfect restoration.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE. H. L. Swaggart Brings Suit for Dissolution of Bonds.

H. L. Swaggart, who brought suit in the state circuit court this afternoon for a divorce from Ida May Swaggart, alleges in his complaint that his wife has made life so burdensome for him that he cannot sleep nights. The defendant is charged with cruel and inhuman treatment and of falsely accusing her husband of undue intimacy with other women.

The Swaggarts were married in Eugene, Or., July 4, 1935. They have two small daughters, which the husband desires to be placed in his care.

Populists Won't Campaign Idaho. Harry Watkins, chairman of the populist state committee, said this morning that the work of their national committee was being devoted very largely to a canvass of New York state and city, of Colorado, Nevada and Montana. It might be that a canvass of Idaho would be made during the last two weeks of the campaign. Considerable literature is being sent out from the national headquarters, he said, and he thought it would have as good effect as the more expensive method of making a speaking campaign.—Boise Capital News.

PROHIBITIONISTS FILE PETITIONS

UMATILLA COUNTY WILL VOTE ON LIQUOR QUESTION

Last Petition Filed Yesterday Evening—The Liquor Issue Will Now Be Submitted to a County Vote as Well as a Precinct Vote—Total Number Necessary to Get County Vote Was 404 Names—October 8 Last Day of Filing.

The proposition as to whether the entire county of Umatilla shall be without saloons will be voted upon at the coming general election. The additional names necessary to bring the matter before the voters were filed yesterday afternoon with the county clerk. The petition was filed a fortnight ago, but 22 names were lacking to give the 10 per cent of the registered voters. The list presented yesterday contained 64 names.

The vote for supreme judge at the last election, taken as the basis, was 4938. Ten per cent would mean 493.8, or 494 names to the petition. The local option law requires that petitions must be filed at least 29 days before the date of election, October 8 is the last day for presenting petitions.

If the majority vote is in favor of prohibition, every saloon in Umatilla county will be closed. Several precinct petitions are also on file. The result of the county vote will not effect the precinct petitions in case the prohibitionists lose, and if any of these carry, even if the county vote is lost, saloons in their jurisdiction will be closed.

GOLCONDA TO OPEN. H. T. Hendryx Now in Portland, Speaks of the New Deal.

H. T. Hendryx of Sumpter, who has been identified with some of the largest promotions of the Eastern Oregon belt, departed from Portland last evening on the mission of reorganizing the present Golconda company, says the Oregon Daily Journal.

Details of the work now in hand are not vouchsafed, but Mr. Hendryx admitted that the rumors regarding the negotiations were correct. He and Alexander Prussing of Chicago have been working on a plan for reorganizing the Golconda company, and putting it in better condition than the property has been since first taken by the Messrs. English.

Arrangements for deep development and exhaustive explorations of levels already opened, while the milling plant resumed on the reserve in sight below the 200-foot level, is a general outline of what would be taken up if everything is adjusted satisfactorily.

Mr. Hendryx' trip to Portland with N. C. Richards, his attorney, was in furtherance of this work, which is said to have attained good progress already. The deal is expected to be closed some time this month, after which work at the mine would be resumed as quickly as possible.

ABSCESS ON ANKLE. Otto Koepken Underwent an Operation This Afternoon.

Otto Koepken was operated upon this afternoon by Dr. McPaul, assisted by Dr. Cole, for an inflamed and pustulous condition of the right leg just above the ankle. An abscess has developed from obscure causes, and the bone is affected. Mr. Koepken has been afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism for several months. A short time ago he went on a trip to the Coeur d'Alenes and while away seemingly caught cold in the ankle, which was affected with rheumatism and the result was as mentioned.

When the inflammation developed in the ankle the rheumatism almost entirely left other parts of his system. An exploratory operation was performed about a week ago. The operation today is to relieve the abscess of pus and ascertain how badly the bone is affected.

POLING PLACES. Election Officers Appointed Last Spring Held for Two Years.

Something more than four weeks yet remain before the voters of the United States of America assemble to ballot for a president and vice-president.

In some counties the officers who preside over elections are selected by the county courts or board of commissioners shortly before each election. In this county the court names these officials and selects the polling places every two years.

For the four precincts in the city of Pendleton the county court last spring selected the following voting places and officers: Pendleton—Corner Garden and Webb streets; chairman, T. B. Swearingen; judges, S. A. Alloway, J. A. Horn; clerks, S. S. Darnell, C. H. Penland, J. E. Earl.

North Pendleton—Main and Water streets. Chairman, F. B. Claggett; judges, J. M. Bentley, W. S. Badley; clerks, C. H. Hamilton, Frank Frazier, Lee Moorhouse.

South Pendleton—Court house. Chairman, L. A. Vogel; judges, L. E. Penland, G. Neuman; clerks, J. R. Dickson, T. P. Howard, T. D. Yates.

East Pendleton—Garden and Railroad streets. Chairman, W. H. Withee; judges, William Hilton, W. B. Hall; clerks, N. Berkeley, F. W. Hendley and J. P. Walker.

SHEEP SHIPMENTS. A. H. Sunderman, Pat Dougherty and Ernest Evans Sent to Howard.

A. H. Sunderman drove in 1209 head of prime 1 and 2-year-old wethers from his Meadow creek range yesterday, which, together with 1099 from Ernest Evans and 1509 head from Pat Dougherty, will be shipped by John Howard to Minnesota tomorrow.

All these sheep are in prime condition and are the top of the market in price and mutton. Mr. Howard estimates that over 100,000 head of sheep have been shipped out of Umatilla county since shearing.

WOULD COME TO OREGON. Northeastern Iowans Are Suspicious of Irrigation Booms.

Ed Twibell, a new settler west of Pilot Rock, a few miles, states that there would probably be quite a large immigration from Northeastern Iowa into that district if there were any assurance that it could be irrigated. Some of his people have been victimized by fake irrigation schemes and are suspicious and refuse to "take hold" upon the representations of anybody except those in whom old associations have bred confidence.

He states that in Northeastern Iowa to mention Pacific Coast Irrigation scheme that does not have some persons well known to the residents to vouch for it, is equivalent to endorsing an acknowledged gold-brick scheme. On the other hand, many of the people of that region are too prone to think that there is no part of Eastern Oregon that it is safe to locate in that is not irrigated.

WORLD'S GRAIN CROP. Amount Needed for Consumption Less Than the Amount Produced.

The Hungarian minister of agriculture in the current year is estimated to be as follows: Wheat, 84,400,000 metric tons (of 2,204 pounds each); rye, 29,500,000 metric tons; barley, 29,100,000 metric tons; oats, 45,800,000 metric tons; maize, 80,600,000 metric tons. This year's European grain crop is expected to be 14.1-5 per cent less than that of 1932. The shortage in the world's crop this year will amount to 5 per cent.

The amount required for consumption in the current year is estimated to be: Wheat, 86,428,000 metric tons; rye, 41,427,000 metric tons; barley, 30,880,000 metric tons; oats, 51,320,000 metric tons, and maize, 82,880,000 metric tons.

The discrepancy between this year's production and consumption will be made up from the "viable supply," which now amounts to 14,400,000 tons of grain.

All over Europe there exists a serious scarcity of feedstuffs for animals—George H. Murphy, vice and assistant general, Frankfurt, Germany.

WORKING DOUBLE TIME. O. R. & N. Dispatchers Are Holding Down Two Shifts During Rush of Business.

During the rush of business on the O. R. & N. system, the dispatcher's office at La Grande is having a strenuous time.

While there are but three regular dispatchers who are supposed to work eight hours each, the force is now working 12 hours each, and the division which extends from Umatilla to Huntington has been divided, each dispatcher working half a division, each way from La Grande.

This change has been made on account of the extraordinary business on the road. So many trains are now running that it is necessary for the dispatchers to handle the traffic over the entire division, and so this temporary change of work has been made.

The business shows no decline as yet, and it is not known how long the rush will last.

CONFIRMS GOLCONDA DEAL. J. A. Howard Says the Company is to Be Reorganized.

J. A. Howard returned yesterday from a trip "outside," presumably beyond Baker City at least as far as Pendleton, certainly to La Grande, on banking and mining business. Regarding the first named mission, he has no word to utter, but to say "things are all right," says the Sumpter Miner.

When placed on the stand and called on to give his testimony regarding the mining proposition, Mr. Howard had some cautious, guarded remarks to make.

He partially confirmed the report placed on the press wire at Pendleton regarding the resumption of negotiations for a reorganization of the Golconda company, and the financing of the deal along same lines. He confirmed that report to the extent that Alexander Prussing of Chicago, has undertaken the task.

Pushing Toward Burns. Chief Engineer West of the Sumpter Valley Railway Was Out to Tipton Wednesday, beyond which point he has a couple of surveying crews in the field, carefully selecting a route to John Day country, and endeavoring to find a feasible grade into the Quartzburg mining district. Mr. West announces that no extension will be made beyond Tipton this year.

It was largely, if not mainly, through the personal efforts of Chief Engineer West that the recent withdrawal of a large area of timber put in cold storage and hold for better prices.

The crop throughout the country is not a large one. While the crop is good in the Northwest it is light in the Middle West, even in New York state the crop is only an average one.—Boise Capital News.

Walla Walla Winners. Judge Thomas H. Brents returned Sunday from his vacation spent on the coast, and reports that his horses have been particularly successful in the show ring if not on the track. At the Salem state fair Earl and Helen Norton won respectively first and second prizes for standard bred mares four years old and over. Miladi B. entered in the same class, was awarded third prize. Louhallon first in the show ring being entered in the class of 2-year-old fillies. A prize was also awarded to Magaldi in the yearling filly class.—Walla Walla Union.

One Hundred Thousand Sheep Sold. A sheep raiser estimates that the number of these sold out of this county during the summer and fall is not less than 100,000, with a probability that the number is somewhat larger and that the average amount realized on them was from $1.75 to $1.80.

Freely Property Sold. E. T. Ward has sold to H. S. Scales, lot 1 block 67, with two residences, for $2100. The property was owned by W. R. Frey.

Teabo, the Chemawa baseball catcher, who has gained such a reputation throughout Oregon, and pleased Dalles people so when the Indians appeared on the diamond in this city, has made a catch for life this time, having been married yesterday to one of the Chemawa girls, who is now an assistant in the school hospital. Teabo is the school baker.—The Dalles Chronicle.
