"Political and consequent pecuniary relations and consequent pecuniary inde-pendence for women" is the subject of an arti-cle in the New Northwest. It would be pru-dence not to base too great hope on pecuniary independence following of course upon politi-cal rights. We know several men who have all political rights but never know what pecun-lary independence is; and of several others who have no political rights who have never-theless complete pecuniary independence. We are reliably informed that of some thirty cases in the city that have been kept from the knowledge of the doctors or police officers, that they might have opportunity to depend upon this remedy, not one has died; none are marked or pitted seriously, and the members o the family who have taken the remedy as a preventive have in all cases failed to catch the contagion.

We learn that Mr. Corwin labors un der two difficulties in introducing thi specific. The first is the press, which he cannot afford to pay for sufficient ad the physicians, who, like the lawyers until driven to do better.

hibited in Masonic Hall upon three evenings of last week to crowded houses. To say that the paintings are superb would fail to do them justice. With the exception of a few foreground scenes which mar the exactness of the work, they are simply true to nature, which is the highest praise that can be bestowed upon a work of art.

Messrs. Towl & Hawkins, the gentlemanly proprietors of the Paonrama, deserve great credit for having conceived the plan of this work for the purpose of inducing immigration to our State, as well as for their sensible appreciation of the merits of Col. Reedas a scenic painter. We learn that it is their intenton Territory and at the State and Territorial and county fairs of the Northwest, prior to going to San Francisco and the Atlantic States.
