

HOME NEWS.

A District Grange was organized at Albany last week.

The gross valuation of all the property in Washington county is $2,186,465.

The Warehouse in Brownsville are all full, and still the grain continues to come in.

The time for holding the Jacksonville camp-meeting will be October 21 instead of September 25th.

Four immigrant wagons, which left the State of Minnesota last May, passed through Albany last week.

C. E. Dulois has started a glove manufactory. See ad. We'll notice his enterprise more fully next week. Give him a call.

Go to the Oregon Iron Works for cooking stoves. We are using one from their foundry and can bear testimony that it is good. They are cheap, too. Patronize home industry if you would prosper.

A Grange of Patrons of Husbandry was organized under the name of "McMinnville Grange" on Saturday last, electing the following named officers:

Alexander Reed, Master; H. C. Dale, Overseer; A. K. Oids, Lecturer; Win. Burnett, Chaplain; Dwight Crawford, Steward; Wilson Cook, Assistant Steward; George Oids, Gate Keeper. For the lady officers Miss Virginia Oids was elected to that of Ceres; Mrs. Durlan, Pomona; Miss Cook, Flora, and Mrs. Fuller, Lady Assistant Steward.

Sam. Corwin's small-pox remedy has proved effectual in staying the ravages of this loathsome disease among us. We have seen a dozen well authenticated statements from those who were afflicted who recovered with very little inconvenience, and were left with very few marks of disfigurement. None that took the remedy have died, and almost all cases of relapse upon ordinary treatment terminated fatally. The medicine is a preventive as well as a cure. Those who were exposed to the disease and took the remedy invariably escaped the contagion. Every family should keep it in the house.

WOODBURN MEETING.

WOODBURN, Sep. 24, 1873.

At the Spiritualist Grove meeting to be held at Woodburn Station on the O. & C. R. R., commencing October 3d, 1873, and to continue three days, a good time is expected and everybody is invited to come. Let all that can do so bring tents, blankets and provisions and come prepared to camp, but for those who cannot camp there will be a restaurant provided where they can get meals at all times. There will also be a large shed on the ground with straw for sleeping; but bring your blankets, and in addition to this there will be tents and beds prepared sufficient to accommodate all mediums and speakers from a distance. Mrs. Belle A. Chamberlain and other good speakers are engaged for the occasion.

Yours respectfully, C. C. COOLBY, Chairman of Committee of Arrangements.

WRIT OF SPECIAL ELECTION.

To the Sheriffs of the several counties within the State of Oregon.

WHEREAS, At a general election held on the third day of June, A. D., 1872, the Hon. Joseph G. Wilson was duly elected representative of the State of Oregon in the Forty-third Congress of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Since the said election, said office has become vacant by the death of said incumbent; and

WHEREAS, By provision of the Constitution of the United States, and the laws of this State, it has become the duty of the Governor thereof to issue his writ of election to fill such vacancy. Now, therefore, I, L. F. Grover, Governor of the State of Oregon, do hereby command you and each of you to notify the several judges of election within and for your several counties, to hold a special of representatives in Congress to fill the vacancy aforesaid, on Monday, the thirteenth day of October, 1873, and that you cause all proper notices to be given thereof according to law.

Given under my hand and the seal of the State of Oregon, at Salem, [L. S.] this tenth day of July, A. D., 1873.

L. F. GROVER, Secretary of State of Oregon.

SUMMER SUGGESTIONS.—A writer gives the following ideas on "Small-Pox," which may be of benefit to some persons afflicted in this way: "About a year since I saw in a newspaper an account of a case of small-pox, written by the party himself. After suffering a long time from the attack, and having to a considerable degree recovered, he experienced suffering even from the rays of the moon. This led him to the reflection that it was not altogether the heat of the sun that produced prostration. After much research he discovered that the injury came from the chemical ray, and not from the heat ray. He was guided to this by observing the fact that a photograph could not be taken through a hollow glass. Accordingly he lined his hat with two linings—one of orange yellow to arrest the heat ray. Thus prepared, he went where the rays of the sun were most intense with perfect impunity. It is well known that the negro is seldom or never sun-struck. The color of the skin over the skull being of the orange yellow may assist in accounting for the fact. I practiced upon this suggestion all last summer, lined my hat with green and orange yellow paper, and had confidence enough in the truth of the theory to neglect my umbrella, which I had never done before. I mentioned it to many, who tried it, and in many cases that came under my observation, they uniformly asserted that the oppressive heat of the sun upon the head was much relieved."

WHAT WILL CAN DO.—A friend in the interior of the State writes as follows: "There is an old gray-headed man in our neighborhood who had for more than thirty years been a slave to the alcoholic demon. One day a friend who was addicted to the use of tobacco, said to him: "John, you are too near the grave to be indulging so in intoxicating drink!" "You leave off your tobacco," said the old man, "and I will quit drinking!" They shook hands upon it, and that man, to whom many supposed the sudden withdrawal of the accustomed stimulant would be death, and in whose ability to abstain from liquor scarcely any one had any confidence, has for years past violated the pledge that he gave half-banteringly to his friend. So much for a determined will.

A certain doctor, who sometimes drank a good deal at dinner, was summoned one evening to see a lady patient, when he was more than "half seas over," and conscious that he was so. On feeling her pulse, and finding himself unable to count its beats, he muttered, "Drunk, by Jove!" Next morning, recollecting the circumstances, he was greatly vexed, and, just as he was thinking what explanation he should offer to the lady, a letter was put in his hand. "She too well knew," said the letter, "that he had discovered the unfortunate condition in which she was when he visited her," and she entreated him to keep secret, in consideration of the enclosed—a hundred dollar bill.

MISCELLANEOUS. SMALL-POX! AS THIS MOST LOATHSOME OF ALL the diseases, the history of this medicine cannot better be explained than by inserting the following letter.

DR. BORZEAU'S Small-Pox Cure and Preventive, Now prepared and kept on hand at my office, Cor. First and Main Streets.

One door from First, with a sure cure or preventive for that disease. The history of this medicine cannot better be explained than by inserting the following letter.

SAMUEL CORWIN, Proprietor, SAN FRANCISCO, July 2, 1872.

MY DEAR FRIEND, SAMUEL CORWIN—I have no doubt but you will be much surprised on receiving this letter, but perhaps, not more so than I was, when I was to hear from you. The manner in which I heard from you, I learned on a subsequent day. It is: I happened to be looking over an Oregon paper and noticed your name as representative elect, from Tillamook county. The article of pleasure which I experienced on reading is indescribable. The many acts of kindness which I received at your hands long years ago had never been forgotten, notwithstanding our correspondence has been broken for seventeen years.

Well, Sam, I won't attempt to give you more than the outline of what has transpired with me since we last corresponded. So many incidents of the past, in which you and I were connected, crowd upon my mind that I cannot think or write of myself. Does your mind ever revert to the past? Who has heard that you look me in the face, when those who should have been my best friends threw up on me—like a stone—a dagger? I had five on potatoes straight for six weeks—how good that grateful most grateful and grateful retreat I made from our poor innocent Jack, when we thought we were beset by a grizzly bear. Well, Sam, the events of 1852 recently furnish subject matter for my thoughts, and as I am writing to you, I cannot refrain from mentioning them to you, and upon my mind, I will dismiss them for the present to give place to that which will, perhaps, be of greater interest to you.

I pocketed eleven thousand dollars out of the "Deep Claim" you gave me in Mariposa, and started for home in June, 1852. I traveled four thousand dollars in real estate in this city, and left in care of McLean and Co. My property here has yielded me a handsome income, and enabled me to establish a business in New York city, in which I was very successful—sold out two years ago, when which time I have been trading in European countries. You know I used to have a weakness for traveling—well, it has been gratified to my benefit's content. While in France I was taken with the small-pox. The doctor of the fact told me that I was fortunate to have the disease at that place, as there was an old small-pox doctor near by who never failed to cure, no matter how bad the disease; and sure enough, I began to recover within four days of contracting it. I took the medicine, and in twenty-four hours I felt quite well. I was so much elated with the magical effects of the medicine that I determined, if possible, to obtain the formula, in which I succeeded, by paying liberal money and promising not to divulge it in France.

I see from Oregon papers that you have the disease among you. The enclosed package contains the formula and sufficient material for family use. I have cured all the small-pox I have come in contact with, and find it an infallible cure and preventive. When you answer this I will forward sufficient of the material to make you a fortune, as I have ample, and not assured I reciprocate.

I will close for the present and await anxiously your answer. Direct to San Francisco, as I will remain here about two months. Yours, etc., ISAAC RICHARDSON.

No person should be without this medicine, as the disease is now in various parts of the country, and may be coming to our doors. It is an old and true remedy. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." "The man that carries his coat on a fair day," etc.

CERTAIN CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!

DR. E. CHAMPLAIN'S LIGNEOUS EXTRACT!

Statement of Dr. E. Champlain. IN 1844, in Richland county, Ohio, I discovered this Extract, to be a Cure for Dyspepsia. The discovery was accidental in the services of a French, slave to the cure, effectively and permanently, every case to which it was applied, including many of long-standing that had defied every remedy of the medical science of the day.

I have resided the past eight years in Cleveland, Sonoma county, California, where, during all this time, I have cured all my friends who were dyspeptic, in case of their friends, and the circle continues enlarging so that to comply with all demands my whole time and attention must be devoted to this remedial interest. Hitherto any labor in this direction have been gratuitous; but on application at the Patent office, this Extract was examined and a patent issued on the 12th of August, 1872. The extract contains no alcohol or mineral substances, but is purely vegetable and composed in Nature's great laboratory by a thousand agencies, and is a member of Cleveland Lodge of Good Templars. Assured from past experience that the Extract will cure all cases of Dyspepsia, I feel confident it will meet a Great Need of the Civilized World.

Certificate of H. Glenn. East Portland, Feb. 26, 1873. Mr. E. H. Eubanks—Dear Sir—I would respectfully state that I have been troubled with indigestion nearly three years. Hearing of Dr. E. Champlain's Ligneous Extract, I obtained a bottle at Dr. Mack's Drug Store, and after using about one-half a bottle, was relieved of all symptoms of Dyspepsia, and have no difficulty now in properly digesting my food. I can conscientiously recommend it to such as are afflicted, knowing it to be a Cure. Yours truly, H. GLENN.

Certificate of Mrs. Ellen Freeland. Portland, Oregon, Feb. 8, 1873. Mr. E. H. Eubanks—Dear Sir—I would respectfully inform you that I have been troubled with Dyspepsia, and could get no relief until I got a bottle of Dr. E. Champlain's Ligneous Extract, and after using it, I feel that I will make a permanent cure. I have no doubt that it is a great relief to all who are troubled with the complaint. Yours truly, MRS. ELLEN FREELAND.
