State Temperance Alliance meets at Good Templars' Hall on Tuesday the 15th inst.

Those who desire first-class dentistry should call upon Barber & Nicklin, No. 109 First street.

The most complete and elegant drug store in the city is presided over by Wm. Pfunder, corner of First and Ash streets.

J. K. Gill, the popular stationer, First street, between Washington and Stark, has valentines grave, gay, comic, sentimental, or severe. Call and make your selections.

The Portland Library contains at present 7,785 volumes, 407 of which were added during the year 1877; 393 volumes were purchased at a cost of $461 25; 44 were gifts from friends.

Grand assemblies for skating every evening in the week at Wood's Museum. Wednesday evening exclusive to ladies. Come and see the 1,000 new attractions, receive instructions, and have a hearty laugh.

We are pleased to note the continued prosperity of the Hall-street Methodist Sunday School in this city, of which Hon. John F. Caples is the superintendent. The school is very largely attended, and it is a pleasant place in which to spend a holiday.

The monthly report of the public schools in this city for the month ending January 28th, shows an enrollment of 1,369 pupils, with an average daily attendance of 1,223. Of the number enrolled, 783 are boys; 686 girls. Number of days attendance, 24,945; absence, 1,543.

A. F. Johnson, Grand Commander C. R. C., left this city on Saturday, to visit portions of Marion and Lane counties in the interests of the Order he is so warmly able to represent. We hope the friends in the localities visited will aid him cordially in his efforts to extend its influence and popularity.

Revival meetings are being held during each evening of this week at the Hall-street Methodist Church, and will probably be continued during the coming week. Great success attends the preaching of the pastor, Rev. J. Flinn. Next Saturday and Sunday will be the regular quarterly meeting occasion.

The friends of temperance and members of the different Good Templar Lodges had a pleasant gathering at Good Templars' Hall on Saturday evening. Rev. Mr. Bentley delivered a short lecture, which was well received. Invitations, installation of officers and conferring degrees occupied the time of Multnomah Lodge until a late hour.

A. J. Dufur, Centennial Commissioner for Oregon, invites the public to examine articles collected for the Centennial exhibit from this State. These will be found in a room in the St. Charles hotel block, one door south of the hotel office on Front street, where the collection may be examined free between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5 P. M. of each day until the 17th inst., when they will be packed and shipped to Philadelphia.

D. J. Malarkey, United States Marshal, arrived from San Francisco on the "Ajax," having in custody Shepardson, who is implicated, by the confession of Phelps, in the stage robbery near Antelope Valley, in the summer of 1873. Four men have been tried and convicted of this crime, and are now serving in the State prison for the same. Shepardson was lodged in the county jail to await his trial before the United States District Court.

In making up your lists of periodicals for 1878, don't forget the West Shore, the only illustrated paper published in Oregon, devoted to literature in general, and the resources of Oregon and Washington Territory in particular. The ablest writers in the State are contributors to its columns; the engravings are executed by the leading artists on the coast. As a family journal it stands at the head of Pacific Coast publications; as a paper to send to friends abroad it has no equal—a single copy will give them a better idea of the Pacific Northwest than a year's number of any other paper. Sent postage paid for one year, $1 50; single copies, 20 cents. Address the publisher, L. Samuel, No. 5 Washington street, Portland, Oregon.

NEWS ITEMS.

STATE AND TERRITORIAL.

A post office has been established at Brooks Station, Marion county.

The smelters and silver mills of Utah pursue giving the product of one day's run to swell Utah's exhibit at the Centennial.

The school district at Tunwater, W. T., has voted a ten mill tax to raise money to build a more commodious school-house.

A revival of religion has been in progress at Oregon City for the past two weeks, during which many of the young people have been converted.

A monster salmon, reported to weigh 125 pounds, was caught at Dog-fish Bay, near Seaside, a few days ago, by the fishermen of that place.

Douglas county has paid $18,344 29 to the State Treasurer. Like Yamhill and Lane counties, Douglas claims to be ahead of all others in paying State taxes.

Fifty-three thousand two hundred emigrants came to this coast by the Pacific Railroad last year. This does not include first and second-class passengers.

Mrs. Annie Schwatka, a lady well known and highly respected, died at her residence in Salem, on the morning of the 3th inst. She leaves an infant but a few days old.

Henry Howard Starkweather, Representative in Congress from Connecticut, and brother of Hon. W. A. Starkweather, of Clackamas county, died on the 29th ult., at Washington.

Claude F., youngest child of P. L. and Irene H. Willis, aged 8 years and 24 days, died in Oregon on the 8th inst. of lung fever. Our warmest sympathies are with the parents in their sore bereavement.

Some 50,000 bushels of wheat still remain in store at Independence. From 10,000 to 12,000 bushels changed hands within a few days at the Farmers' Warehouse, the agent, Mr. Conway, estimates that 20,000 bushels will be held over by the farmers.

O. A. Brown has telegraphed to Senator Mitchell his resignation of the office of Special Indian Agent for this State, to take effect immediately. His reasons for so doing, it is said, are that he intends to visit California shortly, and may then go East with an invalid brother, at present residing in that State.

Hon. W. R. Dunbar, G. W. C. T. of the State, organized a lodge of Good Templars at Monroe on the 2d inst. with twenty-one charter members. The following officers were installed: Hon. W. J. Kelly, W. C. T.; Eva L. Stannus, W. V. T.; Dr. C. M. Boswell, P. W. C. T.; and Leander J. Starr, Lodge Deputy.

We have received Numbers 2 and 3 of the Pacific Coast Thoroughbred Stock Journal and Record, a monthly journal devoted to the improvement of stock and the interests of stock-breeders. It is edited and published by W. W. Baker, and contains a large amount of matter of interest and importance to those interested in such matters. Price, $2 50 per annum.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. England, of Salem, returned to their home in that city the first of the present week, from an extended trip in the Eastern States. It is needless to speak of the cordial welcome they received.

A CARD.

To the Editor of the New Northwest: I see in your most excellent sheet of the 21st of January, you call attention to our interests in Vancouver. As to the matter to which you refer, allow me to give the facts. More than one year ago, our board of church officers resolved that no one should lecture in their house of worship, except for church purposes. At the time alluded to by you, no one applied to me for our church. There was no meeting of the board, there was no revoking of their former action, and they alone were responsible, as the rules of our church, give them full control of their house of worship. I see in your article you also call attention to certain difficulties of two years since in which I was concerned. It is true that I was pursued by strange men, but did not attend the Oregon Conference as mentioned triumphantly. There was not a single vote against me on the final charge, which served as a rebuke to my enemies, and is not a fact that they fell into the pit which they dug for others? The Bible teaches that "in this world ye shall have tribulation." It was so with Daniel, with Joseph, and with the Apostle Paul; it is so with many good men to-day on the Pacific coast, and as well elsewhere. I trust that these explanations are satisfactory, and that nothing shall interfere with your zeal and able efforts in the cause of Woman's Suffrage, which I most heartily endorse. J. F. DeVORE, Vancouver, W. T., February 3, 1878.

We want Agents at every postoffice throughout Oregon and Washington Territory.

We notice that it is the habit of some journals to ignore even the existence of the journals to which they reply. As an example of the highest achievements of dignity and concert, this practice may take the premium. It nurses, you see, a complacent sense of the importance of your own journal to treat all other journals as not deserving a name. It would make a magnificent impression on the public mind to convince it that your own journal was the only one entitled to this common courtesy; but we fear the public will still think a paper is not worth answering if it is not worth naming. Of this splendid egotism the Register is a conspicuous example; but the virtue of the Index begins to yield to the contaminating influence of bad manners. Shall we rear a Centennial statue of arrogance and conceit? If so, it would not be difficult to obtain the necessary brass.—Note Age.

For a man's character there is nothing so salutary and purifying as death. The evil that men do is often interred with their bones, and good is often attributed to them which they never performed. "See nothing but good of the dead," seems to have been a proverb well kept in mind. In the presence of death our aspirations are softened, and our loves increased. Death adds perfection to the most perfect.

"I say, wife! what have you done with the other leg of these pants?" said old Bilkins, who, a little befuddled from his last night's spree, was trying to get into Mrs. Bilkins' plumback dress.

Generally during life is a very different thing from generosity in the hour of death. One proceeds from genuine liberality and benevolence, the other from pride or fear.

The London police have suppressed all the matrimonial newspapers in that city. They were an inducement for a good man to throw himself away on a poor woman.

Mr. James T. Fields has interviewed Jesse Pomeroy, the boy-murderer, and discovered that the wretched child has read fifty dime novels and other stories of violence.

A VALUABLE DISCOVERY.—Dr. J. P. Miller, a practicing physician at 327 Spruce street, Philadelphia, has discovered that the extract of cranberries and hemp combined cures headache, bitter bilious, dyspeptic, nervous, or sick headache, neuralgia and nervousness. This is a triumph in medical chemistry and sufferers all over the country are ordering by mail. He prepares it in pills, at 50 cents a box. The Doctor is largely known and highly respected.—[Philadelphia Bulletin.]

The National Gold Medal was awarded to Bradley & Ralston for the best Photographs in the United States, and the Vienna Medal to W. C. T., Dr. C. M. Boswell, P. W. C. T., and Leander J. Starr, Lodge Deputy.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY is an epitome of newspaper history. It is also regarded as an official register of circulation. This feature requires the closest scrutiny to prevent it from leading to abuses. The plan adopted by the publishers of the DIRECTORY to secure correct and trustworthy reports is rigid in its requirements, and is adhered to with impartiality. Successful publishers, who have something to gain by a comparison, are generally prompt, not only to send reports in conformity, but give Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co. such information as enables them to weed out unsubstantiated statements of pretensions in journalism. The popularity of the book, and the general confidence in its accuracy and good faith, are attested by the immense body of advertisements it receives. 4 26

MOORE & HOLLABAUGH, successors to J. Fletcher, at the old stand, 122 First street, known as the San Francisco Boot and Shoe Store, respectfully say to his old patrons and the public generally that we have marked down the old stock from 25 to 50 per cent, and intend to sell regardless of cost, having this day received a large stock of New Goods of the latest styles, which we will sell as cheap as the cheapest, endeavoring to suit all who may favor us with their patronage. Custom work of all kinds done in the latest styles and on new and scientific principles. Repairing done to order. Give us a call before purchasing elsewhere. All work warranted.
