

VOLUME V.

edge."

ADVERTISEMENTS Inserted on Reasonable

MADGE MORRISON,

The Molalia Maid and Matron.

BY MRS. A. J. DUNIWAY,

"AMIE AND HENRY LEE." "THE HAPPY

BOME," "ONE WOMAN'S SPHERE,"

[Entered, according to Act of Congress, in the year 1875, by Mrs. A. J. Duniway, in the office of the Librarian of Congress at Washington City.]

CHAPTER XVIIL

The new farm hand was assigned to a sleeping place in the barn, which Madge had found time during the afternoon to fit up for his accommodation; the elder members of the numerous household were early consigned to their beds, in house, while Mrs. Perkins, obeying

Throughout the lonely hours of the silent night she essayed to watch beside her mother, scarce trusting herself to doze lest some change in the patient might pass by unheeded. No sound, save the steady breathing of the slum-

the plodding hours.

away till she should send for them.

ETC., ETC., ETC.

AUTHOR OF "JUDITH REID," "ELLEN DOWD,"

ceed with my story, madam."

PORTLAND, OREGON, FRIDAY, APRIL 14, 1876.

your custody and services, madam, and necessary legal steps to divorce me from much dexterity Madge moved about the "YOURS TRULY'S" MONTH IS UP. said Yours Truly. "But I object to bethough I detest the relic of barbarism a bad man." that makes a wife the helpless creature "Has he been cross to you ?"

"No." of her husband's will, there is another side to the picture. I once loved a "Has he deserted you ?" woman, madam. She was a perfect "No." "Has he neglected to support you ?" Hebe for loveliness of person-she proved a very Aspasia in disposition."

try. "Talk good English, please, Mr. Mor-"Well, I cannot assist you. I must rison; your learning mystifies me." "I'll get you books to read," was the should be well stocked with knowl- like a maniac upon this question."

"I wish my brain were stored with understanding," said Madge, dryly. "You don't seem to want me to pro order to insure perfect quiet in the in all women." "You're mistaken, madam. You will my own existence, but I can love no "duty" in large letters engraved upon nearest neighbor's the two younger of life, that you have not lost faith in in honor. When I saw my mother incessantly, seemed to nerve her to conchildren, with directions to remain either men or women. Sometimes both throw her life away as a sacrifice upon tinued strength. After what seemed, tote the role."

> "They prove it, though." "You're in a bitter mood, ma'amwhat did you say your name was ?" "I didn't say." "I beg pardon." "Go on with your story."

berer under the influence of a powerful opiate, accompanied the ticking of the "The woman I loved became my affianced. I was wealthy. I lavished is all dispelled. I repudiate, utterly and ing star. little clock that aimlessly dallied with every loxury upon her. I trusted her altogether, every shadow of a claim he "It's been there, shining all the time,

But Madge was occupied with herself and her own perplexities.

"Mother will awake all right, I know, hopes upon the altar of her affections. were he to learn that before marriage to to strugle harder than ever, as, inspired for I feel it in my bones," she said to She was an orphan. I paid her ex- him I was a mother, and, instead of the by the new hope, she urged her manherself; "but will I dare to tell her that I penses at school. I did not want to virgin love which I had promised to be- gled and manacled body onward. am bound to an ill-starred fate, even as hurry her into matrimony. She loved stow upon him, I had only a widowed she is? O, my God, why can these me, as I believed, and I was content, heart to lay at his feet." things be? Surely marriage ought not What do you think the denouement "George Hanson! did you to be so full of emptiness. All there is was?"

of it that ought not to be, exists through "She met some brainless bumpkin In her excitement Madge had not noone-sided power. I understood it plainly and married him," said Madge. "These ticed the change her vehement speech Again she journeyed on. The way est a man is positively known to appreenough when my mother married Jason things always turn out this way in real had wrought in the face and manner of grew yet more difficult, and the muddy ciate. Instead of treating her as though Andrews. It was only when it came life, In novels there are exceptions, her only auditor. my turn to rush, like a fascinated moth, Some grand, lordly man, in novels, af- "Yes, that's his name, sir; and he has so hot that she could scarcely endure to old gentleman is so desperately afraid into the blistering blaze of an imagin- ter much tribulation, becomes the hus- a moral duty to perform in another di- walk therein. After a while the walls that she'll leave him with another job ary experience, that I was blinded with band of some charming divinity in rection. Before God I am not his wife, of her narrow prison grew lower nud of "nothing to do" upon his hands, that ernor didn't finish the sentence. the light of love and became a prey to muslin, and all trouble ceases with the no matter what the laws of man may broader, and the light shone yet more he almost abashes her with his obseflames that were too powerful-that marriage ceremony. In real life the decree. I should knowingly commit a brightly at the top. Rising suddenly to quiousness sometimes, though, in truth, pale and interesting partner for life be directed to other uses. burned where they should only have trouble begins where the novel leaves it nameless crime in the eyes of God and make the last effort to mount the top- it takes a good deal of this last commodwarmed and comforted me. Why did off."

George Hanson cross my path, and why "She became fascinated with a de- won't !" did I so dearly love him? As he was signing villain," continued the narrato me only three days ago, I remember tor, "and, even while she was subsisting as he with difficulty restrained his emo- hearth, the babe asleep upon her bosom, month, though, and to tell you of it is and love him still. As he has been upon my bounty, she was living in se- tions, "you and I have henceforth a load and the morning star peeping at her the reason why this letter is begun. since I became his property, I rebel cret and guilty alliance with a man in of shame and sorrow to endure in com- through a rift in the window curtain. against-I loathe him; and that, too, whose veins my own kindred blood was mon. That man-I somehow suspected "I'll wade through all my trouble and bill, governor," demurely remarked & Strauss', where all the other girls of A boy may because I cannot help it. But what flowing. The result was as might have it yesterday-is the destroyer of my outlive it," she said, as she rubbed her Yours Truly, after the said dignitary the period are getting their spring outshall I do? Why have I learned this been expected. As the sun, in kissing youth's dream, the perfidious wrecker smarting toes. "I know I'll conquer; had finished a hearty supper and was fits. bitter lesson by personal experience? the rosebud, tears open its petals and of my life's happiness."

"He never has had the opportunity to baby in her tired arms, she fell asleep been barely tolerated about the house as in her chair and dreamed. She saw herself weighed down with honor; had he kept me convinced that the babe she bore on her bosom was so honor, I vowed that, come what would, struggling, she saw, just above the sum-I should be true to my own self. I mit of the steep ascent, through which married George Hanson, believing- she was now wading, ankle deep in how old I've grown since then-I mar- seemed almost boiling hot-just when ried him believing that he loved me, as hope and strength alike seemed ready purely, disinterestedly, devotedly, and to desert her, she saw, at the top of the honorably as I loved him. The illusion mountain, a bright and steadily beamfarther than I would have trusted my- has upon me, just as he would repu- but I couldn't see it because of the self. I built my brightest and holiest diate every claim I might set up to him, bluffs," she said, aloud, and she seemed gasped the new acquaintance.

the angels, if I should submit; but I most steep of the great ascent, she awoke ity to satiate a girl of the period. to consciousness, to find her feet almost for I feel it in my bones."

room, warming the milk and feeding ing made the unrenumerated vehicle of And such a glorious freedom that the little one with a careful tenderness month has brought her, Mrs. D. that was just as willingly bestowed as You see, while she had been a servant though other than angel witnesses had without wages, nobody except dear, taken note of her devotion to a labor of good, patient mother had thought of apduty and love. Then, with the hushed preciating her. Indeed, she had long an expensive cumberer of the cow-yard, kitchen, piano and parlor; and nothing say, however, that, although you talk heavy manacles, that galled her flesh but her innate self-esteem had suske an oracle on some topics, you act ike a maniac upon this question." "Listen to me, Mr. Morrison! If feorge Hanson had proved to me that was and fretted her spirit, while she toiled in climbing a rocky accliv-tion of a wide-awake girl of the period. But the story of her wordy altercation with the governor had gone abroad amused reply. "A brain like yours like an oracle on some topics, you act and fretted her spirit, while she toiled tained her in her well-earned reputa-George Hanson had proved to me that perpendicular walls frowned at her in with the governor had gone abroad he was sincere; had he continued to the dense gloom of a moonless night. among the hired men; it had spread and baby without compensation. Re- smiles. Others weary you by their seimpress me that he was the soul of The journey seemed to be endless, and from them through the neighborhood; member, I'm likely to marry should that the dateness-wooden people, who mistake gravity for virtue. Some talkers offend "Yes, I do; or I should, only I have pure, unselfish love for me was the heavy that her arms almost refused at independence; Dick and Phil had each come of the dear creature if I haven't liveness; others by their caution and lost faith in all men, and I'm afraid only motive that prompted him to be- times to carry it; but an irresistible tor- had a "disturbance in their families," saved any money ?" your story will make me lose confidence come my husband, I would have died rent of tangible impulses, that took on caused by their wives' determination to Madge's command, dispatched to the find, before you have seen much more man after I find that he is not my equal wands that they waved about her head before she knew it, your correspondent said Yours Truly. "You were to give and once in a great while you fall in are had, but exceptions do not consti- the altar of a man whom she could not in her great sorrow, to be an age of spasms of economy, and sent them off lying-in hospital, I'll be reasonable in the duties which pertain to the present. foolish child that I was !-- it's strange muddy water that, strange to say, the governor's "failure" would make

> But, though Yours Truly was earning Yours Truly. wages, the sun rose and set as usual: the wind roared around the house and whistled in the key-holes, or shrieked through the fret-work in the gables as know myself !" before; the men, for aught Yours Truly could discover, ate roast chicken and mince pies as heartily as ever, and the heavens did not fall, though Dick did the governor. grumble "Did you speak to me, Madge?" asked Mrs. D., you ought to see the change our business relations have wrought in ily business, I'll be willing to foot the the governor. Yours Truly is now an bills." object of interest of the dollar and cent kind to him, and the only kind of inter- be welcome to come to the paternal roof many societies do the work which whenever they feel like it." "Whether they work or not ?" stream through which she waded was she were a burden in his household, the "Certainly."

"That means me !" said Yours Truly. "But you're a girl! and-" the gov-leaning languidly upon his arm; and the old gentleman had barely time to say "keep quiet, and you shall have the We came near having a genuine "My poor lady," said Mr. Morrison, blistered in the hot ashes upon the thunder-gust of discord at the end of the fifty dollars for waiting upon them," when they appropriated the best parlor, > and deprived Yours Truly of a longed-"My month is up, and here's my for visit to that grand opening at Lewis girls and women to obtain honorable leaning back in his chair, resting from Mrs. D., if you could imagine half the work if he is willing to do it. But a Correspondents writing over assumed signatures must make known their names to the Editor, or no attention will be given to their NUMBER 33. munications.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

It is very certain that we cannot have all your generous hospitality. If Phil too little of a bad thing. It is just as wants a family, let him foot the bills." true that we may have too much of a "Don't you love your brother ?" asked good thing. Any substance with a high flavor soon palls upon the senses if we have too much of it. No hungry man would care to sit down to a dinner of confectionery. Books made up of elewashed shirts, patched pantaloons, hid- gant extracts, or newspaper squibs, or miscellaneous anecdotes, are rather dry den old boots, burned fishing-tackle, reading. There are certain excellent cooked dinners, washed dishes, scrubbed qualities of character which some peoyou by their candor and communica reticence.

The man who censures without disasked crimination is of course a nuisance; and so is he who praises without discrimi-

Even the Bible cautions us "That's sense, an' that's business," nation. and once in a great while you fall in person, whose interest in close-fisted old papa-curmudgeons into As I've never graduated as matron in a the next world makes him oblivious of into ecstasies of doleful prophecy that my charges with Phil. Guess, seeing There are good people who give too into ecstasies of doleful prophecy that my charges with Fin. Guess, seeing much good advice, and sometimes wear occasioned them great happiness, beners. Parents may exercise too much "I'll never stand that !" roared the restraint over their children, and teachers demand too much study of their pupils. As a general rule, we have too "You're to charge it to Phil," said much talk and too little action. Too many speeches are made at public dinners, anniversaries, and meetings of "Charge my own boys for favors received in my own house? Not if I all sorts. Clergymen are expected to preach too many sermons, and occanow myself !" "Then you can foot the bills yourself." sionally may preach too long. Law-yers are apt to traverse the universe in a case of petty larceny. Physicians, "It beats the very old Nick " growled until recently, gave too much medi-cine, but they are doing better now. Too many women try to live by needle-"Can't help it," said Yours Truly. work, and too many men and women

When I go voluntarily into the fam- try to earn something by their pen. We have too much so-called philanthropy, which, with the best intentions, only serves to aggravate the "But my own children must always evils which it seeks to cure; and too would be better and more cheaply accomplished by a few. If the percentage of receipts required by some of these great institutions in order to keep the machine in motion-expended in build-ings, salaries, agencies and stationerywere generally understood, we are inclined to think that many princely be Phil came in at this juncture with his quests now bestowed upon them would

How Prostitutes Are Made.

How to put an end to prostiution is a problem not easy to solve, but it is not difficult to perceive that its supply depends largely upon one chief cause, viz .: the barriers placed in the way of poor

A boy may be a scapegrace, and his character, but he can, as a rule, the governor, in a voice as solemn and reproving as the hoot of an owl. "I ought to ! I've darned socks, other girls had caught the infection of provident mortal, and then, what'll befor him ! I loved him far better than fantastic shapes and bore the word follow in the steps of Yours Truly, and the governor. become entities henceforth; so, almost was a local heroine who frightened me fifty dollars a month, and found, sir. with a saintly cause their prognostications concerning dollars extra."

somebody miserable.

Why should not this cup pass from leaves it at last to wither and blight, so me?"

A rap at the door startled her. "Who's there ?" she asked, in terror. ruin, ran away and left her to her fate Somehow her courage had forsaken her of disgrace and faithlessness." lately.

"It is I, Mr. Morrison, your hired man. Can I be of any service to you?" joinder. "The man who will desert his learning to be suspicious of all men. "I know, madam; but it doesn't seem tery to call a brute."

fair that you should be the only watcher ever, if you prefer to be alone, I have nothing more to say."

Madge had opened the door while he was speaking, and had half admitted him before she was aware of it.

great trouble."

"Can I be of any assistance to you ?"

stranger, something in his honest, sym- have the power, often; but women are "I do, with gratitude; and I assure pathetic gaze and pleasant, kindly voice their mothers, and under the same li- you, madam, that if the strongest tests that reassured her.

"I see that I can trust you," she said, frankly, "and I want your advice. I've license, then." been and acted like a fool."

"In trying to cure your mother?" and the visitor looked deeply surprised.

"No, no. Mother will be all right ever set eyes on her betrayer, I'll send a You said so a while ago, remember.

restless and couldn't sleep. I gave her would shoot a rabid dog."

a powerful vegetable opiate."

"What was it ?"

"That's my secret."

do you seek my advice ?"

"I want to know where to go or what to do to get rid of a matrimonial barorder."

been betrayed."

"How do you make that out ?"

my dear madam."

"So I thought when I entered the re- principles, as he claims to be, he should pardon." lation. But I find to my cost that not confine the practice of his theory to while the bargain is binding in every such women only as he holds claims sense upon me, it is in no sense binding upon, whether those claims be present upon my husband. I won't stand it." or prospective. He should, rather, hold self."

"I will help myself." "Poor child ! you little heed what you | what conditions." are saying."

Divorces were rare at the time of thoroughly." which we write, reader. True, the "No,I haven't, or I should know what row." reds of young girls had rushed into though; I'll not go back to the man who compact ?"

matrimony while they were yet chil- calls himself my husband." dren, had begun to bring forth discord- "Then you will act very wickedly." ant fruits, and occasionally some truant "I know better, sir. He stultified runaway slaves were advertised in the riage contract in its very inception." divorce was a badge of disgrace, and you only mock me by asking my ad- him.

few women would prefer it to death. vice."

"Was your affianced named Sara Per the villain, who was my own sister's kins?" . son, as soon as he had accomplished her

"Yes; but how did you guess it ?" the grandmother of Jason Andrews' has written some sensible advice con- ducats to his daughter gave him great first set of children, and, of course, his cerning the common treatment of this agony, "very well. I must give you a "That was very sad," said Madge. "It was devilish !" was the excited re- mother-in-law."

"I had never met her, or I should "I haven't asked for any help," an- own offspring, and the mother who have recognized her yesterday when I summed up this way : swered Madge, bridling, for she was bears it for him, in time of her trial, is came to dinner. I am glad she did not Treat your mother-in-law as a monster whom it would be base flat- know me. It would have spoiled all.

Let us keep our own counsel, madam. "You describe Jason Andrews, my We must be wise as serpents, but I am in a room with so sick a patient. How- adorable step-father, most faithfully." by no means certain that it is our duty be jealous of the affectionate attention to go to town and make a visit." "I don't care whom I'm describing, in this case to be as harmless as doves." "You now think I ought to live with has earned it. Your husband's heart but I know I'm speaking the truth." "What became of hel?" asked Madge. him, don't you ?" and there was a relief "I sent a check to her foster-mother, in Madge's sarcasm that revealed itself Help him love and cherish her. Think excited. whom I have never seen, and to whom in her voice.

"It is lonely," she said, apologetically. I did not reveal myself, for I had be- "I wouldn't live with him if I had to "Pardon me if I was rude, I am in come acquainted with my ideal in a turn border ruffian !" was the decided will be but for a little while; and when distant town, and selling out my posses- reply.

sious at a sacrifice, I left for California, "There isn't any black cloud floating work is over, and the shrivelled hands asked the man again, bending over the where I speculated till I became as poor over you," said Madge, "and I'm not are folded meekly on that bosom on There was something in the air of the sometimes, and tyrannical when they Do you accept the pledge?"

Ruth."

cense, would be as heartless as they." shall prove you unselfish and pure and SOME IMPORTANT DATES,-The "I hope they will never have the same good, I shall gladly retract my standing reader is constantly meeting with alludeclaration, made in agony and anger, "They ought not to have the license, that all women are selfish deceivera." and men ought not to have it, either. "No more of that, sir. All women My heart's idol is dead to me; but, if I are not bad, and all men are not, either.

when she wakes. She was feverish and bullet through him quicker than I Never did a nobler human being live given: than my poor father was. I believe my "That is because he interfered with brothers are growing up in his footsteps, one whom you considered your prospec- too. It will take a stronger specimen of England in 1421. tive property, sir. If you were indig- mental and physical manhood than

"I beg your pardon. I didn't mean to nant from principle, you would avenge George Hanson-such a one as yourself, purloin from your profession," and Mr. some other woman's injury in just as for instance-to cause me to lose faith Morrison smiled meaningly. "But why radical a manner, provided she had in human nature."

"Don't attempt to flatter me, madam. I understand the wiles of your sex." "I see the idea is new to you, sir. It is "And what motive, pray, would in-gain that has proved a fraud of the first new to all men. But, you see, the princi- duce me to be trying 'wiles' upon you, ple is the same, no matter what woman sir, even if they were in my line? The "Matrimonial bargains are for life, is betrayed, or how, or by whom. If compliment was honestly given, but I man is woman's protecter on general see it was out of place, and I beg your

"You're an anomaly." "I know it."

"You puzzle me."

"I don't care. And now, sir, if our "I don't see how you are to help your- himself responsible to her for all the compact is to be kept, we mustn't indulge women representatives of the press from under any obligation to remain with patiently exclaimed. wrongs she may suffer through men, no in sparring. It is quite time you re- all parts of the world. Their object is to you longer than they agree to. Re- here, and we know it, but everybody matter where he may find her, or under tired, sir. You see my mother does not extend hospitalities during the Centenneed watchers, and I fear that our talk nial year to ladies connected with the hurry-skurrying way in which hund- to do. I am resolved upon one thing, "And you will keep our part of the

"A Morrison never goes back on a bargain, sir !"

"Just so; I beg pardon," and the ential way that somehow completed the or Mrs. F. E. Benedict, Secretary, office swarm." days of a dispensation now dead; but a "If your mind is already made up, good opinion she had already formed of of the City Rem, Philadelphia.

The babe was by this time astir and plication to the Treasurer, and the pay-"Your husband has a legal right to "No; I want to be advised as to the clamoring for its midnight food. With ment of one dollar.

To be contin

Spinning-wheel invented, 1330.

Paper first made of rags, 1417.

Printing invented, about 1440.

Almanacs first published, 1441.

Engraving on wood invented, 1423.

Printing introduced into England by Pumps invented, 1425.

Violins invented, 1477.

Hatchets first made in 1504.

1464.

Caxton, 1474.

Mrs. Perkins, awakened by her excla-

But Madge was away in dreamland, mation of delight.

and she did not hear.

A GOOD WORD FOR THE MOTHER-IN-"Her foster-mother is here. She is LAW .- Some man of sense and feeling look annoyed, as though dealing out tice to the descriptive powers of > much-abused but useful and necessary check on Ladd & Tilton. You can get part of humanity. His advice is the cash when you go to Portland."

"All right," said Yours Truly, "and TOU would your own mother; don't let her feel that she is a stranger in her son's present month, so they can rest a spell, ago, deemed a vulgar object, instead of asked "do the women pay the fines?" You ought to love her for the present month, so they can rest a spell, good husband she has given you. Don't I believe I'll not work either. I want he shows her; remember how well she "Thunder." shouled the governor. could not find room for wife and mother, vokes the thunder when he's the least bit any one. The word was ever carefully defendants did not appear, and fines of would be a poor, contracted one, if it of the vacant chairs around her hearth-"I don't hear any thunder." innostone-of the voices she misses that cently remarked Yours Truly. used to make melody in her heart. It "You're not going to town," said the her work is accomplished, when her governor, decidedly. "Why ?" asked Yours Truly.

"Because there's nobody here to do pear with handkerchief in hand. Havwhich your husband has wept out his the work. Phil will be at home this ing to speak of the handkerchief in the sleeping patient and listening with sat-isfaction to her measured breathing. Men are not in their power, hand on a pledge of fidelity and honor. Here's my when women are not in their power, hand on a pledge of fidelity and honor. joy to your heart if you can say, "She and your mother isn't able to wait on name, but referred to it as a light was to me as Naomi-I was to her as her, "Let Phil do it."

do this housework !"

"Why couldn't he? He's a supporter ions to inventions which have produced incalculable results in the devel- and protector of women. Now, govopment of modern civilization, and ernor, see here. There isn't a particle chiefs, if the wife of Napoleon I. had often finds himself at a loss to recall the date of this or that one. As an assistant in refreshing the memory, the most im- over the fields and bossing the China-

Muskets invented and first used in easily as he, and some of it a good deal better. I'm going to let him try my example, and handkerchiefs have rap- let him be unholy still." work awhile, and see how he likes idly become an important and costly that.' "You can't go !" said the governor, Post offices established in England, peremptorily, stamping his foot.

"Indeed !" ejaculated Yours Truly. "I mean what I say," was the stern rejoinder.

"Then good-bye, governor," was Roses first planted in England, 1505. Yours Truly's meek reply. Punctuation first used in literature.

"You don't intend to leave us in the

THE SEVENTY-SIX CLUB .-- There is a up, do you ?" and the governor woman's club which originated in Phil- trembled, more in trepidation than in adelphia, and has its headquarters anger.

there, which is composed entirely of "The hired men leave when they do you want others to see him ?" women journalists. It is called the "Seventy-Six Club," and is composed of "I see you have studied this question horoughly." need watchers, and I fear that our talk will disturb her. You will need rest to press from all parts of the world. The editors of papers and magazines, and la-and his wife and baby through their prepare you for the labors of to-mor-dies connected with them in any liter-troubles, in addition to the work for the jag. ary capacity, are requested to forward this farm, for fifty dollars a month; and their names at as early a date as possientitle those whose names are inscribed more. If Phil wants the luxury of a thereon to the privilege of the club. wife and baby, let him foot the bills, or

"I can't turn my boys away from The privilege of active memdership in the "Seventy-Six Club" is secured by ap-

"I'm sure that's your business, sir,' work that looms up before her as she excessive mastication, the only vigorliterally no chance. She is generally ous exercise he ever indulges in. "Very well," he said, though he did letter is so dull as to fail to do full jus-

"What'll you take to stay ?"

I'll stay on no other condition."

governor.

penny than a boy. YOURS TRULY.

In Liverpool some of these girls, and even women with families, are known "basket girls," against whom the THE HANDKERCHIEF SEVENTY hands of every man seemed to be raised. YEARS AGO .- The handkerchief, which Recently the police summoned a num is now an indispensable appendage of ber of them for obstruction while offerevery lady's and gentleman's costume, ing their wares near the fish market. It now, as the hir d men (all but one) are is of comparatively modern intro-to which the answer was given : mark of neatness, as now. Until the reign of the Empress Jose-"They almost all go to gaol, sir. If phine, a handkerchief was thought, in the amount is small they make an effort France, so shocking an object that a to pay, but if large they don't." The You know, Mrs. D., that he always in- lady would never dare to use it before cases were then heard, but most of the being asked what she had to say, re-An actor who would have used a plied "that she had five children to sunhandkerchief on the stage, even in the port, and went out on a Saturday even most tearful moments of the play, ng with her basket. When the police would have been unmercifully hissed: officer came up he kicked the basket. and it was only in the beginning of the upsetting the contents on the pavement. present century that a celebrated actress, Mile. Duchesnoise, dared to ap-It was very hard upon her," she said, for she could not afterward sell the fish, worth 3s., they were so dirtied."

Would it be surprising to learn that a course of the piece, she never could woman thus deprived not only of her summon courage to call it by its true means of living, but the little capital of 3s., which she had possibly temporarily tissue. A few years later, a translation of one of Shakespeare's plays, by Alfred acquired by pawning some article "Absurd ! You know he could not de Vigney, having been acted, the word clothing or bedding, was driven by this handkerchief was used for the first time policeman's conduct to prostitution?-English Woman's Review. on the stage, amid cries of indignation from the audience. I doubt if to-day MAKE YOUR HEAVEN HERE .- There French elegantes would carry handkeris no royal road or short cut to heaven. of the work Phil does, such as riding not given them the signal for adopting If you want a heaven for yourself in the them. The Empress Josephine, though really lovely, had ugly teeth. To con-the life that now is. world to come, prepare it for yourself in You have no portant inventions prior to 1600 are men, or going to town on the railroad ceal them, she was in the habit of reason to think that you will enter to collect rents from the houses you carrying small handkerehiefs adorned upon the next life in any wise changed have given him, but what I could do as with costly lace, which she continually in character from what you are when you leave this. "He that is holy, raised gracefully to her lips. Of course all the ladies of the court followed her him be holy still. He that is unholy And the character with which you leave this part of the feminine toilet; so that the world will be the slow and natural price of a single handkerchief in the growth of the years of your whole trousseau of the Duchess of Edinburgh | earthly life, and cannot be the result of would make the fortune of a necessitous family.—Phrenological Journal. anything else, the teachings of any the-ology or man to the contrary. The true conception of human existence doubt-family .- Phrenological Journal. less is as one in this world and the next HER LOVE HAD WANED. - They came -this is the rill, that the river; this the out of a Michigan avenue grocery, he dawn, that the day; this the bud, that carrying a big jug, and as they reached the flower: this the blade, that the full the walk, he said : corn in the ear. Heaven is not some "Now, Dolly, you carry the jug and thing to be won, or got, or bought, lurch just as you get your wages paid up, do you?" and the governor "I'd like to see myself!" she replied. either by ourselves, or somebody else "Dolly, do you want to see your husinto. band lugging an old brown jug through the crowded streets of the metropolis-land.

"Come along with that jug !" she im-"Dolly, there's a gallon of molasses in member, our bargain was only for a else will think it's whisky if I carry it." "Let 'em think."

"Dolly, if you love me, you will carry "I won't carry it !"

"Then I won't! I've got twice as ble, in order to form lists, which shall I won't agree to it, either, and that's much character to sustain as you have!" "Sustain it, then," she said, as she started for the wagon around the corner. They may address Mrs. E. S. Bladen, President, office of the Philadelphia do the work. Dick never said 'thank 'e, answer. Giving the big jug a terrific slave,' for all the hard work I did for his swing into the air, he let go his hold, woman was advertised by her lord, as himself, and morally nullified our mar-stranger bade her good-night in a defer-"'Lasses is nothing to principle !" he explained to the little crowd, and then followed on after Dolly.

under cultivation.

for us; but it is something to be grown In the next world you are simply your own old self, only moved on, and moved up. Swedenborg some where gives us a representation of persons who had died, and did not for a considerable time know they dead. Their old thoughts and feelings and loves and desires of the earthly life remained, and the world which they had entered did not at first seem different from the one they had left, only it was spiritual instead of physical. Hence, they went on with their old employments, and ran the rounds of their old pleasures. Only by degrees did they perceive their change of states, and that as they themselves became, by natural processes of growth and development, capable of deeper seeing and nigher knowledge.-Rev. J. T. Sunder-

The bones of six savages, with pipes that would hold a pint of tobacco each, were recently unearthed near Gospost, Four million acres of Kansas lands are Ind. One of the skeletons was seven feet long.