FROM THE CONVENTION

A card from Mrs. Loughary, under date of Wednesday, the 27th inst., contains the following: "Convention in full blast! A very enthusiastic meeting last night..."

STATE TEMPERANCE UNION

Many of our readers doubtless remember the defiant birth-shout of this body and the arrogant attitude of its progenitors upon its stormy natal day...

Resolved, that since the women of our State are the greatest sufferers from the liquor traffic, are taxed to repair the damages resulting therefrom...

Resolved, that the President and Directors of this Union be instructed to confer with the President and Executive Committee of the Oregon State Temperance Alliance...

We call the attention of our friends generally and agents particularly to the fact that the long-promised serial, "Edna and John," begins its course in the present number of the NEW NORTHWEST...

We have heard not a syllable from Mrs. Dunlavy for the past two weeks. Several chapters of the new story have arrived, however...

The members of the honorable Legislature having had time to dispose of, for their own, if not to our satisfaction, the review of certain popular objections to Woman Suffrage...

We hear it frequently said that women, upon going through the crowds that usually congregate about polling places, would be subject, or at least liable, to insult...

The Statesman is mistaken in its declaration that "Mrs. H. A. Loughary takes Sister Dunlavy's place during the absence of the latter from the State..."

LEGISLATIVE NOTES AND NEWS

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEW NORTHWEST: The programme for the week was: First, caucus nominations; second, wire-pulling (whatever that means); third, balloting for the Senator...

OREGON FRUIT AT PHILADELPHIA. Hon. A. J. Dufur writes in relation to Oregon's fruit exhibit at the Centennial...

On the announcement of the result, the friends of Mr. Grover were very much elated, as they were pretty certain that if votes were not changed they could carry the day on the next trial...

On Thursday the weather was more propitious, and at half-past eleven we mounted those anti-Democratic State-house steps and ascended to the Hall of Representatives in time to see the Honorable Senators file in and take their seats for another joint ballot...

On Friday, at five minutes before 12 M., the Sergeant-at-Arms was sent to call the Senate and the President took the chair. The call of the roll found all the members present...

RECENT EVENTS

The grand explosion at Hell Gate took place on Sunday, and was, in all respects, a complete success.

Yellow fever interments in Savannah amount from 25 to 40 daily. Relief has been sent from various places.

Slight shocks of earthquake were felt at various points in Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky on Sunday night. In some places the alarm was general.

Six hundred cases of yellow fever are reported at Brunswick, Georgia. The people are in a destitute condition, without food, physicians, or nurses.

A scheme of manufacturing crooked whisky in vinegar works has been discovered in several localities in Chicago, and the various works have been seized.

Immense Democratic mass meetings have recently been held in Cleveland and Dayton, Ohio. Meetings were addressed by Gen. Sigel, S. S. Cox, and others.

Fumigation of Chinese quarters by health officers is going on in San Francisco, with a view of ridding them of small-pox. This dreadful scourge is at length on the decline.

During the first week of October the Centennial exhibition will be visited by the pupils of the public schools of Pittsburgh, by whom separate excursions to the grounds, numbering fifteen hundred each, will be made.

The attendance at the Centennial on the 21st exceeded that of any other day in the history of the exposition. By one o'clock the cash admissions amounted to 110,588, being greater than any full day's attendance heretofore.

There are $225,000 now available for the prosecution of further work at Hell Gate, and a large part of this will be required this year for the removal of the rocks blown up on Sunday, and it is probable several years will pass before the beginning of operations at Flood Rock.

In the trial of John D. Lee for murder committed at Mountain Meadows, the jury retired on the 21st at 11:35 A. M. and at 3:30 returned with a verdict of murder in the first degree. A delay of three days was asked before sentence was passed to give time for appeal.

The hostile Indians are daily assuming a more defiant attitude. Sitting Bull's force now in the vicinity of Fort Sully is being daily augmented by Indians from the different agencies who refused to give up their guns.

The general verdict in New York among candid men is that Tilden's income tax explanation through his law clerk has failed of effect because, while it carefully contrived so much of the Times' article, charging evasion and perjury as concerned the only estimate of his sources of large revenue in excess of what Tilden returned, the facts show that his oath that his income in '62 was $7,118, is inconsistent with his more recent oath in the court proceedings that he received in that year two fees of $10,000 each.

Owing to sudden and severe illness, we were unable to attend the special session of the State Convention this week. We will furnish our readers report of proceedings in our next issue.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON CITY

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEW NORTHWEST: The New Northwest comes just in time to awaken me from musing on the instability of human affairs, and of women's in particular, and reminds me that at least one woman has been successful in a sphere which men have monopolized for many years...

Well, the axe has fallen in the government departments, and hundreds of clerks—men and women—have been thrown out of employment at the very season when the approach of winter and the scarcity of work and money will render the suffering in the District of Columbia indescribable.

A CHINESE FUNERAL

A large concourse of our citizens gathered at the corner of Alder and Second streets at an early hour on Sabbath morning to witness another of those—to most of them, perhaps, unmeaning pageants, a Chinese funeral.

Under a small cotton awning improvised for the purpose, and directly in the street, was placed a costly casket containing the mortal remains of Duck Loung, a prominent Chinese merchant of the city.

The procession at last moved, however, headed by a full brass band, to the credit of whom, be it said, showed sufficient respect for the day and occasion to make appropriate selections of music.

As General Sherman has called the annual meeting of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee on the 18th and 19th of October, doubtless many old comrades will meet around this status and mingle with tears of regret for their loved commander smiles of hearty welcome to long absent friends.

Whist is a fact that Mr. Tilden does not stand alone in the matter of fraudulent returns, and while it is true that a great many persons have very lax ideas about paying government taxes who would not defraud an individual of a dollar, still, it would be rather a dangerous precedent to elect to the first office in the nation's gift a man who stands a confessed perjurer, and who is proved not to have told the truth and nothing but the truth; a strange successor in this Centennial year of the Father of his Country, the man who "never told a lie."

It is stated that Peter Cooper is so wedded to his financial theory that he refuses to eat golden plover.

LETTER FROM ALBANY

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEW NORTHWEST: The beautiful sunshine of yesterday has made everybody happy again. It did really seem as if it was going to be winter all summer. But we can look back to one Sunday suitable for airing our best suit of clothes—those who, more fortunate than your humble "scratcher," have a suit other than the one which gets aired every day.

Two noted divines from the East delivered sermons yesterday, each drawing a full house. Rev. Bishop Marvin, of the M. E. Church, (South) at their Church, and Rev. Bishop Dubs, of the Evangelical Alliance, at the Court-house.

As an offset to the meeting of Friday, the Democrats held a meeting Saturday evening to listen to one Edmunds, a "Portland mechanic," while he "peeled Governor Gibbs and Mr. George."

Since Governor Grover's success in capturing the position of United States Senator, there seems to be a lull in local politics, and more attention has been turned to the Presidential candidates.

Quite a number of improvements are in operation, and prosperity, though in the midst of hard times, appears quite prominently in the various avenues of business.

Whose boys are they?—The above question is asked in the Seattle Tribune and further elaborated upon as follows. Parents in other cities besides Seattle will do well to ponder the question over.

I mean the boys that go about the streets insulting young ladies; using profane and vulgar language; picking the pockets of the unwary; hooting after the reeling drunkard or decrepit old man; throwing stones; pushing and beating smaller children; stealing eggs, sacks, apples, pears, and fruit of all kinds; and, not content with that, they destroy the trees.

A LINK BETWEEN HUSBANDS AND WIVES.—Blessed be the little children who make up a unconquered force for our disappointments. How many couples, mutually unable to bear each other's faults, or to forbear the causes of irritation, find solace for their pain in these golden links which still continue to unite them!
