

HOME NEWS.

The British ship "Dover" takes 28,600 cases of salmon to Liverpool.

The corner-stone of the new cathedral will be laid on Thursday, the 15th of August.

"What Came of It?" the book written by the late Mrs. Stutz, will soon be delivered to subscribers.

Mrs. O. S. Phelps, one of the most efficient primary teachers of the city, is spending her well-earned vacation in San Francisco.

The river in front of this city is now four feet lower than at this date last year, and eight feet lower than at the same date in 1875.

A large brick building will shortly be erected on the corner of Oak and Second streets.

Professor J. W. Hill, a graduate of Yale and a teacher of experience, will have charge of the Bishop Scott Grammar School as head master.

Substantial improvements are being made on various streets that, notwithstanding the crop of hard times, attest the permanent growth of the city.

Dr. Walter Hyde, spiritual developing medium, gives sittings daily from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., at 141 First street, room 12. Public sittings every evening at 8 o'clock.

Great reduction in prices at the "White House" in order to make room for fall stock. A large line of summer goods is being disposed of at cost.

The "Wide West" brought down two hundred tons of the new wheat crop from Walla Walla on Saturday.

Judge Dennison returned from Walla Walla on Tuesday, where he has been engaged in laboring for the future State of Washington as member of the Constitutional Convention for some weeks past.

Those who sigh for mountain air and delight in mountain scenery will be glad to know that tickets good for thirty days are sold by the O. S. N. Company for Hood River and return at $1.

The O. S. N. Company's new steamer "Harvest Queen" is receiving her finishing touches at Celilo, and will be ready to take the route between that place and Walla Walla by the first of September.

A splendid life-size portrait of Hon. M. P. Deady occupies a place in the window of Morse's gallery. The work was executed by Frank M. Peebles, of San Francisco, and is exquisite in coloring and detail.

Mrs. J. M. Ward, nee Miss Carrie Clark, will take a benefit at New Market on Saturday evening, August 31. J. M. Ward will also appear, supported by a number of volunteers.

The work turned out at the Palace Picture Gallery, in front of the post office, is a credit to the art. Copying and enlarging pictures a specialty. Thirty-six pictures for fifty cents, and other work correspondingly low.

A destructive fire occurred in East Portland on Sunday night. The main business portion of the city, including the post office, was burned. Most of the mail matter in the latter was saved.

A little daughter of Captain H. Cook, while attempting to light the kitchen fire on Sunday with coal oil, was burned so severely that she died in a few hours. Her mother, in attempting to extinguish the flames, was severely but not dangerously burned.

"Panel photos," just introduced by Abel, the popular artist, are soon to be the most popular for both the general public and for the artist's studio.

Chief Morgan, for what he supposed good and sufficient reasons, refused to allow the fire engines to cross the river on the night of the East Portland fire.

The citizens of that place are extremely proud, and in special resolutions characterize his conduct as "inhuman, cruel, and unworthy a fireman."

Davidson Brothers, photographers, corner First and Yamhill streets, of this city, have the best and largest camera and lenses in the State, and are prepared for making all sizes of pictures, from the smallest gem to the largest portrait or group photograph.

Governor George L. Curry, whose illness we have spoken of from time to time for weeks past, died at his residence in this city on Sunday evening, 18th, and was identified in years past with many of her public and political interests.

Coroner De Lin, the well-known undertaker, is justly distinguished for the spirit of liberality and fair dealing with which he accommodates those who require his services in the burial of their loved ones.

The open temperance meetings are likely to continue through the entire summer with unabated interest.

Mr. Caples never tires in his endeavors to secure various kinds of excellence in his program; it is but too true to him to say that he is invariably successful.

The well-known photographer, Frank G. Abel, is one of the most deservedly successful operators in his line to be found in America.

He has just favored us with a large picture of our little adopted pet, taken two hours after death, which excels everything else in the photographic line that it has ever been our fortune to behold.

Let no fond mothers fail to catch the shadows of her darlings, for none can know how soon the wings of Azrael may waft the substance forever from her sight.

Mr. Abel's countless infinite patience and kindness of heart with his exquisite skill in taking children's photos, go and see him.

ASTONISHING CURES!

[Under this head will appear from time to time remarkable cures of cases treated for CATARRH and other CHRONIC DISEASES by DR. JAMES KECK. Address by mail or call and see the parties in person whose names are subscribed to testimonials.]

PORTLAND, July 16, 1878.

DR. J. KECK AND THE APPLICABLE DEAR SIR AND FRIENDS—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with Catarrh in my head for twelve years, and about five years ago I saw that it was falling in my lungs. I was almost blind and deaf, and was only a matter of time when I would die with consumption. I had got so bad that when I would lie down at night the mucus would drip into my throat and I would be obliged to cough and spit, and I was so weak that I could not get up and go to bed. Some said Marshall's Catarrh Cure was good, and some said it was not. I had tried many things, but nothing would do me any good. I was yet slowly dying. I had taken medicine about four years, and being so weak, I sought the treatment of good physicians, but they would not call to have the desired effect. I gave up all hope of recovery. At last a friend told me of Dr. Keck, and I consulted him. He told me he could cure me, and would guarantee a cure, the guarantee being to refund my money if he did not succeed. I told him he was my doctor, and took a bottle of his remedy home. I now am on the sixth bottle, and almost well. I get no better, money could not purchase the benefit I have received from this medicine. For further particulars call at the First Full College, south of Portland.
