

THE COUNTY TICKETS.

Mr. Jeffery, one of the Democratic nominees for the State Senate, is a worthy citizen, has had some experience in public affairs, and is a man of progressive ideas.

Of the Democratic nominees for Representatives, we can only say that we know none of them, but have heard nothing derogatory to their characters.

Mr. B. J. Norden, the present incumbent, is a candidate for re-election to the Shrievalty. He has made a good officer, and is popular with the masses.

Mr. B. G. Whitehouse, the Democratic candidate for County Clerk, is reputed to be an estimable gentleman; but his long connection with the water company causes thoughts of monopoly to arise when his name is mentioned.

Mr. B. Z. Holmes is the Democratic nominee for Assessor, and, if the women could wield the ballot, Sears would be badly beaten.

Mr. D. W. Taylor, for Surveyor, is a worthy young man and exemplary citizen, and it is his misfortune that the county is so strongly Republican that he cannot hope to defeat Mr. Barrage.

As regards the candidates for School Superintendent, we know very little. Mr. Macrum, the Republican candidate, is associated with two noble men, W. C. Johnson and F. O. McCovey, in the legal profession.

Mr. Joseph Buchtel, the Republican candidate for Sheriff, is a genuine protector of women, and so we feel confident he is a Woman Suffragist.

INSOLENCE EXTRAORDINARY.

The insolence recently displayed by a convention of foreigners in Rhode Island, and which is described by our Providence correspondent, is in inverse proportion to the size of the State.

The Germans are welcomed to America from their own despotic land and invited to become citizens. We afford an asylum to which they can flee when confronted with the demand for years of unnecessary military life.

When they attempt to control or limit the use of the suffrage in this (to them) asylum from oppression, the Nation, as with one voice, objects. When they attempt to set aside the property qualification clause, or any other clause regarding the exercise of the ballot in any State, the Nation is alarmed.

INTERESTING TO WOMEN.

The opinion of Chief Justice Kelly (occurred in by Judge Prim) of the Oregon Supreme Court, in the case of Mary Leonard v. Wm. Grant, Administrator of her husband's estate, strikes a death-blow at that most sacred legacy, a widow's dower.

The Welcome says it will not support for office any man whose character is not good. This is commendable; so we hasten to inform our contemporary that Kelly and Prim have been openly and repeatedly charged, by the ablest lawyers of the coast, with robbery while on the Supreme Bench.

The National Woman Suffrage Association commenced their session at Farwell Hall, Chicago, on last Monday. The Associated Press dispatches report many delegates in attendance.

THE GREENWOOD WILL AGAIN.

Since the publication of our last issue, we have been constantly in receipt of many inquiries in relation to the circular known as "The Greenwood Will Case."

It is well known to our readers that Mrs. Elizabeth Greenwood, mother of Mrs. Mary C. Cline, Eliza Smith and William Greenwood, made a will a number of years before her death, bequeathing to Mrs. Cline a valuable estate.

When Mrs. Cline died, the bulk of his estate was divided between his wife, William and Eliza, and Mrs. G., as an act of justice, left her third to Mary.) After the death of the testatrix, which occurred in August, 1876, Wm. Greenwood and Eliza Smith instituted proceedings to have the will declared null and void, employing Hon. R. P. Boise and Messrs. Thayer & Williams to prosecute the suit.

As it is impossible to give the case a full hearing in the brief space at our command, we must necessarily omit much that we should be pleased to present to the reader.

In the year 1848, Mrs. Greenwood settled with her husband upon the donation claim, one-half of which was Mrs. G.'s individual property. William and Eliza were in prosperous circumstances in 1872 (when Mrs. Greenwood was a widow, and the will was made), and each of them had every opportunity, which Mrs. Cline had not, to "influence" their mother for years prior to that time.

Mr. Hare, a younger brother of Hon. W. D. Hare, of Astoria, is another good friend of the cause, who has lately come here to reside, and has opened a general furnishing and provision store.

Kearney's term in the San Francisco House of Correction has had a good effect, judging from the slight report in the dispatches of his last speech at the sand-lots last Sunday.

but one of whom was her intimate acquaintance for twenty years and knew the soundness of her mind. Not a single instance in Mrs. Greenwood's whole life is shown where Mrs. Cline's will prevailed over hers, or indeed where she was influenced by any one.

The Circuit Court was in session, and quite a little army of lawyers occupied the front porch of Messrs. Duncan & Leathers' hotel as we approached, all of whom greeted us as cordially as though not one had ever raised a question, by speech or pen, in opposition to the enfranchisement of their wives.

The weather was warm, and the town apparently as quiet as the "Deserted Village" of poetic record. But the shades of Thursday evening awakened the people, who gathered together in a goodly audience at the M. E. Church, where they were entertained till a late hour by the Hillsboro Literary Society.

The evidence of undue influence operating on Kelly and Prim is made glaring and shameful by comparing the false assertions in the opinion of Prim with appellants' brief and with the real facts of the case.

Mr. Pittenger is the proprietor of a general dry-goods, clothing, crockery and supply store, and is doing a fine business. His chief clerk is Miss Mary Brown, a young lady who was left a half dozen years ago as the sole sister and support of her widowed mother.

Mr. Hare, a younger brother of Hon. W. D. Hare, of Astoria, is another good friend of the cause, who has lately come here to reside, and has opened a general furnishing and provision store.

Mr. Hare, a younger brother of Hon. W. D. Hare, of Astoria, is another good friend of the cause, who has lately come here to reside, and has opened a general furnishing and provision store.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

DEAR READERS OF THE NEW NORTHWEST.— On Wednesday, the 29th ultimo, after a varied forenoon's work, we rushed out in search of the west-side train, and heaved our avoirdupois aboard just as the last bell sounded.

The Circuit Court was in session, and quite a little army of lawyers occupied the front porch of Messrs. Duncan & Leathers' hotel as we approached, all of whom greeted us as cordially as though not one had ever raised a question, by speech or pen, in opposition to the enfranchisement of their wives.

The weather was warm, and the town apparently as quiet as the "Deserted Village" of poetic record. But the shades of Thursday evening awakened the people, who gathered together in a goodly audience at the M. E. Church, where they were entertained till a late hour by the Hillsboro Literary Society.

The evidence of undue influence operating on Kelly and Prim is made glaring and shameful by comparing the false assertions in the opinion of Prim with appellants' brief and with the real facts of the case.

Mr. Pittenger is the proprietor of a general dry-goods, clothing, crockery and supply store, and is doing a fine business. His chief clerk is Miss Mary Brown, a young lady who was left a half dozen years ago as the sole sister and support of her widowed mother.

Mr. Hare, a younger brother of Hon. W. D. Hare, of Astoria, is another good friend of the cause, who has lately come here to reside, and has opened a general furnishing and provision store.

Mr. Hare, a younger brother of Hon. W. D. Hare, of Astoria, is another good friend of the cause, who has lately come here to reside, and has opened a general furnishing and provision store.

a host of others whom we have not space to name, assisted in rendering our brief visit pleasant and profitable.

One canvassing incident we must not omit to mention. Accompanied by Mrs. Duncan, we called at the store of a man who, for his wife's sake, shall be unnamed, and after a pleasant exchange of greetings, presented the claims of the NEW NORTHWEST. The merchant referred to his wife. We knew instantly what that meant—that the wife had already had her commands, and would be obliged to obey them.

The weather was warm, and the town apparently as quiet as the "Deserted Village" of poetic record. But the shades of Thursday evening awakened the people, who gathered together in a goodly audience at the M. E. Church, where they were entertained till a late hour by the Hillsboro Literary Society.

The evidence of undue influence operating on Kelly and Prim is made glaring and shameful by comparing the false assertions in the opinion of Prim with appellants' brief and with the real facts of the case.

Mr. Pittenger is the proprietor of a general dry-goods, clothing, crockery and supply store, and is doing a fine business. His chief clerk is Miss Mary Brown, a young lady who was left a half dozen years ago as the sole sister and support of her widowed mother.

Mr. Hare, a younger brother of Hon. W. D. Hare, of Astoria, is another good friend of the cause, who has lately come here to reside, and has opened a general furnishing and provision store.

Mr. Hare, a younger brother of Hon. W. D. Hare, of Astoria, is another good friend of the cause, who has lately come here to reside, and has opened a general furnishing and provision store.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Mr. Frank Heath and Miss Emma and Nettie Helm are in the city.

George B. Waldron is in London, sustaining a character (probably the Purson) in Jacques Miller's Western success, "The Danites."

Little Dot Beatty's benefit at Nappach's Hall, East Portland, last night, was largely attended. "Pinafore" was given, and the little milnet was twice called before the curtain for her representation of Josephine.

Tomorrow evening and Saturday matinee, at New Market Theater, "The Fairy Queen," Stratton's pleasing opera, will be produced by the pupils of the Taylor-street Sunday school, under Mr. Kinross' direction.

Hubner's concert at New Market Theater on Friday evening last was an artistic success. The beneficiary, while an excellent performer on the violin and the piano, could gather no inspiration from his audience, which was only fair-sized, and his execution consequently lacked warmth.

A first-class grist mill will soon be added to the industrial interests of Yakima City.

Several hand-ome residences have been erected at Yakima City within the past year.

Marion county is desirous of having the insane asylum (or a branch of it) near Salem.

An exceedingly rich quartz ledge has been discovered nine miles west of Baker City.

Within the last few weeks, $100,000 worth of goods have been received in Colfax, W. T.

NEWS ITEMS.
The Fourth will be celebrated at Roseburg.
Many buildings are being erected at Spokane Falls.
The measles prevail in McMinnville in a mild form.
A woolen mill is proposed at Grand Rapids Valley.
A twelve-year-old girl of Linn county has completed a quilt of 2,500 pieces.
The citizens of Sandy have cut a road through the fallen timber to Oregon City.
J. N. Jones, living near Starvation, thinks his strawberry crop will be 25,000 pounds this year.
A first-class grist mill will soon be added to the industrial interests of Yakima City.
Several hand-ome residences have been erected at Yakima City within the past year.
Marion county is desirous of having the insane asylum (or a branch of it) near Salem.
An exceedingly rich quartz ledge has been discovered nine miles west of Baker City.
Within the last few weeks, $100,000 worth of goods have been received in Colfax, W. T.
All the members of the graduating class of the State University passed the examination of scholars.
A ten-mill tax has been levied for the purpose of building a new school-house in King's Valley.
Diphtheria has appeared again in Seattle. One death from this disease took place there last week.
Decorations Day was grandly celebrated in Seattle under the auspices of Stevens Post, G. A. R.
The proposed improvement in the academy building at Roseburg will shortly be commenced.
A ferry across the Willamette at the mouth of the Tualatin is needed for the convenience of settlers.
The Island Enterprise says the wood clip this season in Eastern Oregon will surpass that of any previous year.
Judge Perham's son, who was accidentally shot some four weeks ago, died at his home, Hood River, Thursday last.
The Brownsville Wooden Mills are again running, the dam having been repaired. New machinery has been added.
Issac Green's residence, near Glenn, was burned recently, leaving the family destitute. The neighbors gave them much assistance.
One hundred and sixty students have been in attendance at the State Agricultural College at Corvallis during the year just closed.
The Dallas Times contains an account of a wife murder in Wasco county, the husband's name being Nicholas Bills. He escaped.
Pacific University this year will graduate but one student, and the junior class contains but three. However, the preparatory classes are fair-sized.
The people of Port Townsend have issued a pamphlet, descriptive of the Puget Sound country, setting forth the advantages of that section of the Territory for settlers.
The Oregon City Enterprise says many citizens of Danawana have moved into other neighborhoods, fearing forest fires, there being much timber down in that vicinity.
The closing exercises of the Albany College Institute will take place on Wednesday, June 12. The inaugural sermon will be delivered on the Sunday evening previous.
John Munch, member of the firm of Kratz & Munch, millers at Junction, has sold out all of his interest in said firm to C. W. Washburn, the consideration being $11,000.
The Palouse Gazette will be issued daily during the next term of the Colfax court. It will contain a detailed report of the Brumfield murder trial. Colonel Warner, of Kansas City, and N. T. Caton, of Walla Walla, will defend the Thomases.
The Hillsboro postoffice has been made a money order office. The postmaster, Miss Mary Brown, has given bonds in $10,000 with E. Imbrie, T. H. Tongue, Dr. F. A. Bailey, W. B. Jackson, Dr. C. Weathered and W. H. Simmons as sureties.
It is said that the farmers of Washington county have their Spring work so far advanced that they have time to talk politics—not with their wives, whose work cannot be advanced, but with their fellow farmers, who are generally supposed to have a careless struggle to "support" their consorts.
Eberhart's son was wounded by a policeman during a communistic disturbance in Paris recently, and the father says he will report Anderson, Prefect of Police, by "blowing in the face."
The supplementary meeting of the Berlin Conference will be held on the 15th instant.
A. S. D.