

The New Northwest.

PORTLAND, OREGON, THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1881.

LOCAL EPITOME.

The present is the third week of Mr. Hallenbeck's revival.

Mr. George A. Steel has received his commission as Postmaster.

Everybody buys his Fourth of July hat of Woods, under the city clock.

Senator Grover was serenaded at the Holton House last Thursday evening.

The State Fair opened at Salem yesterday. Fare from this city and return is $2.75.

Hon. J. F. Caples has accepted the invitation to deliver the oration at Roseburg on the Fourth.

Owing to the superior finish and excellence of work, Abell stands preëminent as a photographer. Give him a call.

French residents will celebrate on July 14th, their national holiday—the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille.

Another transcontinental excursion to Chicago and Boston and return is announced to leave this city on July 12th.

Dr. J. L. York, the liberal lecturer of San Jose, was a passenger by the State of California. He is probably at Astoria.

Miss Maggie Foster, of Albany, has been visiting friends in this city for several days past. She will return home to-day.

S. Lipman & Co. specially invite visitors to Portland on the Fourth to inspect their fine stock of fashionable dress goods.

When you decide to give up and pay your election bets, if they are hats, call on Woods. He has the finest stock in the city.

The fourth annual reunion of the Alumni Association of the Portland High School is announced for this evening at Turn Hall.

Residents on North Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth streets ask the police to stop boys from bathing in Guild Lake near their homes.

A lad named James Hachency has been missing since Sunday evening. He was last seen on the Washington-street dock, and it is feared he is drowned.

The interest in Olds & King's removal sale is unabated. They this week call the attention of purchasers from the interior to the bargains they are offering.

Mr. Woods, the popular hatter, though slightly indisposed for the past few days, has a competent assistant in charge, who faithfully attends to the wants of customers.

The Open Temperance Association's meetings show no abatement of interest. Major A. F. Sears and ex-Governor Gibbs delivered addresses on last Saturday evening.

District Attorney Caples and his assistant, M. F. Mulkey, have secured a conviction in every one of the twenty-three criminal cases tried during the present term of the Circuit Court.

McKern, last of the Turner robbers, and a companion named Smith were arrested yesterday near Butteville. It is thought they are the men who robbed Dr. Thessing and L. Besser on Tuesday.

Mr. C. J. McDougall, attorney-at-law, advertises money to loan on farm and city property, in amounts to suit borrowers. Persons having business with him will find him courteous and obliging.

The Keystone Restaurant, under the management of Mr. Cohen, has rapidly risen in public favor. None but the best cooks are employed, and meals are furnished for fifteen cents and upward.

Hon. D. P. Thompson was given a serenade last Thursday evening, after it was decided that he was reelected Mayor. A large crowd gathered in front of his residence, and he made them an address.

The little propeller-California has been sold to the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. The price is not known. The sale will not interfere with the Portland-Sitka route, as the new owners contemplate no change.

Dr. Geo. H. Hill has returned from the East and Europe, whither he has been for some time to perfect his medical education. It is rumored that he contemplates matrimony and will make his home at Walla Walla.

The proprietors of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Store present another characteristic announcement to the public this week. After reading it, no one will be surprised that they have met with their present deserved success.

Receipt is acknowledged of tickets to Mellis Bros. & Co's grand brass band contest at Mechanics' Pavilion on Tuesday evening, July 5th. It will be followed by a grand ball under the auspices of George Wright Post, No. 1, G. A. R.

On account of his increasing business, G. Neimeyer, the merchant tailor, has recently secured the services of a new and excellent cutter. The suits turned out from the establishment, No. 162 First street, continue to be the nobbiest in the city.

The Post Office Gallery is the cheapest and best place in the city to get good pictures, especially tin-types. 4 card pictures, $1; 2 cabinets, 50 cents; 36 gem pictures, 50 cents. Gallery opposite the post office, on Fifth street, Portland, Oregon.

On every Wednesday during the Summer season, the O. R. & N. Co. will dispatch the Emma Hayward through to Ilwaco. After July 9th, the Bonita will run through to Seaside Landing on Saturdays, returning to Astoria on Sunday evenings.

Ex-Chief of Police Besser and Dr. J. H. Thessing, of Milwaukie, were robbed on Tuesday evening on the White House road by two highwaymen. One of the footpads covered them with a gun while the other relieved Mr. Besser of $8.50 and Dr. Thessing of a watch and chain.

Those dull and sometimes severe headaches, the dizziness that overtakes you unexpectedly on the streets, the pain and weakness in the knees, tell you that your blood has been poisoned by malaria. You should at once apply the right remedy. It is Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier, a never-failing preventive and a sure cure.

Mrs. Dr. B. A. Owens' numerous friends are glad to welcome her back to Portland. She has been absent for three years, two-thirds of the time being spent at the medical college in Ann Arbor, and the remainder in visiting the most noted American and European hospitals. The lady will soon resume the practice of her profession in this city.

Messrs. D. W. Prentice & Co. will be found represented among our new advertisers this week. This reliable firm has the sole agency for those time-tried and superior instruments, the celebrated Weber pianos and Estey organs, and in addition have a fine stock of musical merchandise of all kinds. The NEW NORTHWEST cordially commends them to its readers.

Mr. J. W. Bailey has removed from No. 47 to Nos. 83 and 85 Yamhill street, between Fourth and Fifth, or two blocks west of his old location. No finer staple and fancy groceries can be found in the city than at his new, neat and commodious establishment. His prices are the very lowest, as he sells for cash. All orders promptly attended to, and goods delivered to all parts of the city.

Arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration in Portland have been made on a grand scale, as will be seen by the extensive and attractive programme announced in our advertising columns. Indications are that the attendance from the interior will be very large. Half-fare rates will prevail on all transportation lines to the city. The fireworks in the evening will be the finest ever seen on the North Pacific Coast.

Messrs. Henry Villard, A. H. Holmes, J. N. Dolph, R. Koehler, C. H. Prescott, Paul Schulze, George J. Ainsworth and Joseph Simon have filed with County Clerk Borthwick articles of incorporation of the "Oregon and Transcontinental Company." The objects are to construct a railroad along the south side of the Columbia from Portland to Umatilla; to cover Oregon and Washington and Idaho with a network of roads, and to establish overland Eastern communication. The capital stock is fixed at $50,000,000, in 500,000 shares. The principal office is located in Portland. Messrs. Dolph, Prescott and Schulze are authorized to organize the company and open books for subscriptions.

The graduating exercises of the class of '81 of the Portland High School were held at New Market Theater on Tuesday evening, in presence of an exceedingly large audience. The essays were carefully written and well read, and showed much study and thought in their preparation. Rev. J. A. Gray delivered the address to the class. It was short, terse, vigorous, and replete with good sense. The following young ladies and gentlemen received diplomas: Laura A. Bell, Camilla M. Coburn, Wittie C. Dunaway, Emma Durkheimer, Gertrude Gallick, Minnie Gray, Curtis Holcomb, Annie M. Kellogg, Bertha Kahn, Gertrude Kahn, George P. Low, Lucrea D. Mason, Annie J. Mattoon, Jean M. MacMahon, Mary MacCabe, Alice Parrish, Nathan D. Simon, Viola S. Thayer, Lottie M. Wakefield, Kate A. Wallace, and Sarah Beck.

While the great mass of humanity cannot indulge in the luxury of fine jewelry, yet in this favored land of abundance a good watch and chain and other neat and useful ornaments are within the reach of comparatively all industrious persons. An unusually favorable opportunity is now offered in this city to any who desire to purchase such goods. Mr. J. Van Beurden, No. 107 First street, who has during his business career in Portland gained the confidence of all with whom he has had dealings, has made a great reduction in the price of all articles found in a first-class jewelry establishment. He does this in order to make room for a very large and fine invoice of diamonds, watches, opera and field glasses, etc., which has been shipped to him and is now on the way from Paris, and anyone who is thinking of making such a purchase in the near future should avail himself of this opportunity at once. Mr. Van Beurden particularly desires to call the attention of visitors to the city on the coming Fourth to his change in prices, and cordially invites an inspection of his handsome stock.

The wise man looketh at the bottom of the item to see if the story is to be run into a patent medicine local; but the fool takes "a leap in the dark," reads on, and concludes with the use of profanity.
