BURGLARY INSURANCE.

The Latest Thing In the Way of Guaranteeing Indemnity For Losses.

Burglaries have become so frequent in Chicago that several capitalists have now under consideration the formation of a burglary indemnity company. Hardly a day passes in which some residence or mercantile building is not entered by thieves and valuable property damaged or taken away. In a large percentage of the burglaries the property is never recovered. Even when it is found the article is generally in a damaged condition and of little value.

When the company commences business, its policy holders can go away from home for a few days or abroad for a vacation and not be in a perpetual state of worry about the safety of their household effects. This would be because the company believes prevention of housebreaking is even better than the conviction of the burglar. An efficient force of watchmen would patrol the district in which the insured lived.

When a burglary was committed, the policy holder would have to report at once to the offices of the company. Its agents would go to the building just as the adjusters of a fire company would in case of a loss. All the property damaged would be taken possession of as if it were salvage, and trained detectives would endeavor to run down the criminals.

A charter has already been issued to the company in Iowa, where a capital of $50,000 was subscribed. Application was then made to the insurance commissioner of Illinois to do business in this state. He looked up the law, and though it does not expressly include burglary indemnity companies in its provisions he decided that the company could legally do business if a $100,000 subscription was raised in the state. This will now be done, and the headquarters for the United States will be established in Chicago. From here branches will likely be established in all the large cities of the country. In Great Britain and Canada similar companies have successfully transacted business for several years.—Chicago Times.

COLORED WEATHER LORE.

Thick Feathers on Ducks and Other Signs of a Hard Winter.

A party of the wags who are always hanging around the National hotel held up old Carter Bowie, the colored man who has sold raw oysters from the can for seasons innumerable on Sixth street, yesterday, and after chafing him for awhile on various questions touched him in a tender spot by asking him what kind of weather Washington was going to have this winter.

"Tell yer, honey, yer bettah git yer coal in putty soon, kase days mitely squally times ahead," said Carter. "De ducks ain' nebber had ez much down onter day bresses ez day is dis fall since I kin 'member. Hit's dat thick dat yer cyahnt see de meat ther hit nohow. A Merry Burglar.

A series of most daring robberies is now puzzling the Anderson (Ind.) officials. When Joseph Munchoff, a furniture dealer, awoke the other morning, he found the following note lying on his desk hardly ten feet from where he had been sleeping:

MY DEAR SIR—If you had some money in your pockets, I would not have bothered your watch and your wife's sealskin sack. I thank you for sleeping so sound.

NEW YORK BURGLAR.

Here are five pennies; have a cigar on me.

The note was neatly penned on Mr. Munchoff's note paper, and on it lay five pennies. Six other houses were entered and money taken when it could be found. It is thought that all of the robberies have been committed by this nervy individual.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's Partridges.

By the authentic and authoritative way of an English print the word comes that when Mrs. Vanderbilt wants to eat the wing of a partridge she has ten birds cooked and served from which to choose. There are several Mrs. Vanderbilts in this country who might easily afford this method of selection, but the London newspaper does not venture further than this wholesale statement. And why only ten birds? It doesn't take millions to buy ten partridges. A really good story would be that a partridge with ten wings was offered.—New York Times.

Granted His Request.

On payment of $200 a young man is excused from military service in Spain. The other day a man wrote to the queen that he had already paid $3,000 for 10 of his sons and begging her to excuse the other 14, as he had no more money. The queen granted the request.—Madrid Letter.
