USE OF DRY GOODS.

An Increased Consumption Now as Con pared With Former Years. It should be remembered that 60 years ago the market for dry goods, taking the words in a large sense, was much less extensive than at present. A great deal of linen, cotton and woolen cloth was made in families, and men's clothing was largely prepared by domestic seamstresses. Homespun was still much worn. Men and boys who were not afflicted with rheumatism did not wear undershirts and drawers, and the corresponding garments were not used by the

The kitchen and dining room looked as if the wife had been interrupted in her work, but there was no other sign of her. The detectives looked very wise, asked many questions that seemed impudent to the distracted husband, made some notes and went away.

The husband was in a bad state of mind, but not so upset that he didn't presently realize that he needed food. Rather than go to a restaurant he went to his refrigerator to see what there might be to eat. He opened the door, and there, curled up in the ice chamber, was his wife. She wasn't hurt. She hadn't even fainted.

She was simply asleep, somewhat stupefied with the close air and cramped in every joint, but otherwise in good condition and glad to get out. She explained that she caught a thief at work, and that he clapped her into the refrigerator before she could scream. Once The blackfish in nature is shy, but in in she could do nothing.
