

Joy's for the Jaded and Good Health for All Mankind.

JOY'S VEGETABLE SANSAPARILLA.

It is through nature's own power that the body is cleansed and the blood purified. Joy's Vegetable Sansaparilla is a natural and powerful purifier of the blood and a cleanser of the system. It is the only medicine that cleanses the blood and purifies the system without the use of any harsh or irritating ingredients. It is the only medicine that cleanses the blood and purifies the system without the use of any harsh or irritating ingredients.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE

JOY'S FOR THE JADED

JOY'S VEGETABLE SANSAPARILLA

It is through nature's own power that the body is cleansed and the blood purified. Joy's Vegetable Sansaparilla is a natural and powerful purifier of the blood and a cleanser of the system. It is the only medicine that cleanses the blood and purifies the system without the use of any harsh or irritating ingredients. It is the only medicine that cleanses the blood and purifies the system without the use of any harsh or irritating ingredients.

LITTLE LOCALS.

From Tuesday's Daily.

F. W. Jordan of Dillard is registered at the VanHouten.

Don't forget the races on the Fourth. At the Fair Ground.

W. T. Cronson and Charles Rice are registered at the Central.

M. Tipton of Oak Creek is registered at the Central Hotel to-day.

J. A. Sterling, our irrepresible assessor, is on duty again.

Mrs. C. A. Sehlbrey was visiting friends at Oakland Saturday.

James Chamberlin and James Byron of Oalla are in the city to-day.

Mrs. Burnett and sister of Youcalla, are at the Van Houten to-day.

Dr. Henry Little, the Oakland dentist, is registered at the Van Houten.

Mrs. Larowe and daughter of Myrtle Creek, are registered at the Central.

C. W. Cottam of Oakland, Cal., was a passenger on the held-up overland last night.

G. W. Wannocott, postmaster of Myrtle Creek, is registered at the Van Houten.

The installation of officers of Philatelian Lodge, No. 8, L. O. F., next Saturday night.

R. Remington, Ester Davidson and Mrs. Stewart of Constock are registered at the Central Hotel.

A social dance will be given at the armory on the night of July 4th. Music by the Roseburg orchestra.

The diplomas for the graduates of the Roseburg public school at the last term have been received and ready for applicants. Call at this office.

At the annual election of the firemen Monday night H. T. McClallen was elected chief engineer for the ensuing year and James Perry assistant engineer.

James McCarty on Stevens St., takes the cake for huge potatoes and plenty in the hills. Twenty-six large potatoes from one vine is pretty good. None as yet brought to market equals them.

R. W. Benjamin returned from Myrtle Point Sunday evening where he had tarried for a month to practice dentistry. The molars of the people in that vicinity sometimes need pulling, but the pull of their purse is lighter.

Married—Pentler-Nichols. At the Court House, by his honor, Judge Stearns, Tuesday, July 2, 1895. A. T. Pentler and Mrs. Prudence Nichols, all of Youcalla. The bride was kissed of course by all present, clerks and all, and best wishes extended for her continued happiness.

G. S. Sanderson, p. m., has a very interesting article in the National Tribune this week, descriptive of the great resources of South Douglas. And opportunities afforded home seekers.

It will be the means of attracting a great many people to this part of Oregon.—Riddle Enterprise.

Deputy Sheriff Shamrock, A. O. Rose, Claude Cannon and several others left here this morning for the scene of the late train robbery. Nothing has yet been heard from them, but doubtless they have, with the assistance of the citizens of the south end of the county, captured or killed the robbers by this time.

Geo. W. Wannocott's water wheel, erected in the South Timpna river between this place and Myrtle Creek for the purpose of hoisting water on mining grounds, is running and is said to work like a charm for mining operations on a limited scale. The boys, Ed and Will Wannocott, cleaned up an average of five dollars a day last week.—Riddle Enterprise.

The South Ends and the Central played ball Monday and respectively ran up a score to 31. The Central are happy and the South Ends correspondingly despondent, but willing to try conclusions again. The players are as follows: Central—Pitchoff, Farquhar, Boyd, McCarty, White, Josephson, Wright, Dunn and Marston. South Ends—Benfro, Kadabaugh, Burtis, Faulkner, Chapman, Cheeseman, Josephson, Eccleston and Hamell.

The Chicago Tailor, Milliken and Wimberly go to Whistler's bend on the North Umpqua tomorrow to camp, hunt, fish and rusticate for a month, more or less. Good boys, don't forget the flag on the Fourth. It won't do to let your patriotism ooze away while cut off from civilization. Of course you will throw the banner to the breeze and sing Hail Columbia or the Stars Spangled Banner, with Brother Wimberly, chaplain; Toby, chorister; and Milliken, color bearer. Won't that be gay?

On the 19th day of this month our correspondent and reporter will be 74 years of age, and we will wager a brass band against an elephant, that he can outrun any one in Douglas county within four years of his age, one mile and repeat, the best three in five. The race to come off on the anniversary day of his birth, and Charles Fisher of the Review to hold the stakes. Now, gentlemen, here is a chance to start a circus with a little agility, and a wholesome expansion of the lungs.

Professor J. W. Noyel, the eye specialist of Salem, Or., has finally been induced to come to Roseburg, and will be here Saturday, the 9th of July, and remain until the 20th. The professor is highly recommended as an eye specialist. In speaking of him the Lebanon Express says: "The professor fitted quite a number of prominent citizens while he was here with glasses and treated quite a number of people's eyes. His work has given good satisfaction, and when he returns he will receive a great deal more work than on this occasion. The professor can be seen at the Van Houten."

One taking observation Saturday evening, would have thought that a bicycle tournament was in progress in Roseburg. Men, women and children glided by with the rapidity of a whirlwind. It was dazzling to the eye, and at times excited visible emotions. At one time it was in doubt which was the bicycle, and which was on top, there was such a revolution of legs and wheels that one was at a loss to distinguish rider from bike. We would suggest that the one becoming so entangled in the mechanical contrivance was trying to propel and ride, give an exposition of her athletic acquirements at some time in the near future, and we will guarantee a full 10-cent attendance.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

A Salaman, the reliable jeweler.

J. T. Bryan, the busy watchmaker.

See the Novelty's new advertisement.

L. Bellis, watchmaker, Roseburg, Ore.

Go to the Roseleaf for the best cigars.

Complete line of cutlery at Salaman's.

All package coffee at Allison's goes for 25 cents.

For first-class dentistry go to Dr. Little of Oakland.

Get Salaman's latest price on granite and linings.

Ice cream and ice cream soda at the Kandy Kitchen.

Prices on wall paper are just right at Marsters' drug store.

Key West, imported and domestic cigars at the Roseleaf.

Alabaster, kaolin and white wash at Marsters' drug store.

If you don't see what you want ask for it at Marsters' drug store.

Ice cream made for parties on short notice at Niece's candy factory.

Myrtle Creek flour, only 80 cents per sack. Delivered free. A. C. Hoxie.

Don't eat stale candies. You can buy it fresh and good just as cheap at Niece's.

Salman sells his goods for cash. Buy of him and you pay for no bad accounts.

Society or family parties can get ice cream and candies in any quantities at Niece's.

Royal Rose and Myrtle Creek flour at Johnston Grocery, delivered free of charge.

You get a No. 1 broom at Allison's for 25c, 35c and 45c. Try them and be convinced.

For good substantial blacksmithing cheap, go to McKinney & Manning, Oakland.

See new line of mens, boys, and children's hats at Osburns. Next door to Review office.

15 pounds of granulated sugar and 16 pounds of extra C for $1.00 at Allison's. Delivered free.

Ready mixed paints in all shades and colors, and any size packages at Marsters' drug store.

Get your coffees and T's at Allison's grocery. The best is always the cheapest. Try them.

Jack Abraham is in receipt of a choice line of ballbearing underwear—just the thing for hot weather.

Fresh candies made daily and equal to anything in the state, also ice cream in any quantities at Niece's.

Protect yourself against cold and pneumonia by wearing a chest protector. Fine ones at Marsters' drug store.

Now is the time to spray your fruit trees. Lime, sulphur and blue vitriol for that purpose at Marsters' drug store.

Jack Abraham still carries a complete stock of mens and boys' furnishings at lowest cash prices—don't you forget it.

Bring your job work to the PLAINDEALER'S office. We are prepared to do the cheapest and best work south of Portland.

Jack Abraham has accepted the agency of Neander, Pershing & Co., for taking orders for tailor made suits clothing.

Dr. F. W. Haynes has just returned from the East and opened dental parlors in Mark's building, where he will be pleased to welcome persons desiring dental work.

Call on the J. G. Flook Co. for prices on sugar up to date berry crates. Made of their pine, neat and durable. Just the thing to get your berries to market in first-class condition.

Bicycles.

One thousand dollars invested in Crescent Bicycles direct from the Western Wheel Works of Chicago, eight wheels were sold and all are giving the best satisfaction. This factory is turning out 300 bicycles per day and are 1,000 short on Coast orders. They are furnishing us with four wheels per week until they get caught up with their orders. In 1894 this factory turned out 50,000 wheels. Since then they have increased their capacity to 75,000. They belong to no trust or combine. They ship no wheels to any one on consignment. All wheels are sold outright before they leave the factory. The Crescent wheels need no recommendation. They are on their merits and are fully warranted for twelve months. Call and see our Great Special, 25 pounds, price $50; Crescent No. 1, 22 pounds, $75; Ladies' Crescent No. 3, 24 pounds, $60; Ladies' No. 4, 22 pounds, $75. Cash or on installment. CARL & RICHARDSON.

Established in Roseburg 15 Years

We are prepared to do your work at hard times prices. We make a specialty of graining, sign and carriage painting. Do you need your Buggy Painted? Do you need your Parlor Decorated? Do you need your Dining Room Grained? Do you need your Kitchen Painted, Kalamond or Papered? If so, call on Tolles & Condon, who are ready to do it for $2.00 and upwards, according to class of work required.

We refer you to our work—whichever speaks for itself. We are neither strangers or scabs—but first class Practical Mechanics.

Can be found at A. C. Marsters' drug store at any time.

Final Call.

All persons are hereby notified to make immediate settlement of their indebtedness to the late firm of S. Marks & Co.; otherwise the same will be placed in hands for collection. Please give this call prompt attention and thus avoid odious costs. ASHER MARKS, Administrator of Estate of S. Marks & Co.

Bicycles.

The Crescent is taking the lead for strength and speed, selling like hot cakes. The Crescent is the only high grade wheel that is selling for reasonable prices.

CARL & RICHARDSON, Roseburg, Or.

Special Offer.

Six choice building lots in Fruitvale addition, 50x100 feet. Price $20 each. D. S. K. BRUCK.

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

TRAIN ROBBERY.

Highwaymen Hold Up and Go Through the North-Bound Overland.

From Tuesday's Daily.

As the overland northbound passenger came down Cow creek canyon last night, just before entering the open canyon, about 10:20, 5 miles south of Riddle, the train was held up by three robbers by placing bombs on the track. The bombs did no very considerable damage to the engine, but sufficient to disable it and stop the train.

The robbers also disabled the headlight by putting two shots through the front glass. They then compelled the engineer, Al Norman, brakeman; Jap. Waite engineer and Ev. Gray, fireman, to aid them in relieving the passengers of their cash. Of one passenger, it is reported, they took $400, of another $90, of the rest of the passengers the amounts were small and not reported.

The robbers also went through the mails taking the registered mails of Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. What they got from that is unknown at present.

Immediately upon stopping the train one robber on each side of the car with guns passed along on the outside, while the third, with revolver in hand, entered the car with the trainmen before him whom he compelled to request the passengers to throw up their hands and await his further orders. If they complied they were promised no harm should happen them, but if they resisted their time would be short. This admonition was strictly obeyed, said Messrs. Frank Platner and Washington Moore, two of the interviewed passengers.

Every few minutes during the process of relieving the passengers of their money by the man inside, those on the outside exploded bombs which struck terror into all on the inside. They were engaged at least an hour in the process of relieving the passengers of their money and going through the mail.

The sheriff of Klamath county, A. A. Fitch, was on board with two convicts for the pen. He was relieved of his gun and what money he had.

The whole was going on many strange phases of character were exhibited. Some trembling with intense fear, while others were quite cool and collected, but realizing their helpless condition they quietly submitted. A few were sufficiently cool and collected as to create a portion of their money, keeping some to readily and unhesitatingly hand out to the robber when demanded. One thus saved five dollars in silver which he slipped into his shoe and gave the robber ninety dollars in gold. Had he had the presence of mind he ought to have had, he could have saved the gold.

A newly married pair was observed holding up their hands quaking with fear long after the robbers left the car. While it was a bold and dastardly affair the robbers exhibited some redeeming traits. Women and children were unmolested and men who appeared to be workmen were allowed to keep their money.

The conductor evaded them by locking himself up in the water closet, and thus saved a severe shock to his nerves and a considerable amount of money. Discretion in this case was the better part of valor.

Wash. Moore, well known in Roseburg, who was a passenger in the smoking car, getting on at West Fork, only a few miles from the holdup, says:

"The first intimation we had that anything was wrong was a terrific explosion at the rear of the train, quickly followed by other explosions. 'Some thought, at first, that it was torpedoes placed on the track by the track walker to give warning of danger ahead, but I knew better. Torpedoes would not be exploded by the engine and could scarcely be heard where we were. I told some of the boys it was a hold up, and in a few moments after the train stopped we were thoroughly convinced that such was the case, and when the conductor came 'hands up,' you bet all hands went up. I had drawn a few dollars in among the peanuts and oranges and held two and a half in my upturned hands ready to fork over, but the robber on looking at my clothes concluded that I did not have much, and told me he didn't want my money."

"All the time the robber was going through the car, two men with guns could be seen through the windows, one on each side of the car pacing up and down beside it, keeping their guns bearing on those inside, and every moment or two exploding bombs. The inside man, who seemed to be doing a ransacking business, kept up a lively conversation with the boys while dumping their gold, silver, watches and other valuables into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an hour with the passengers. On leaving the train the trainmen were told to wait an hour before going ahead, which order was obeyed."

The express car was not robbed, the combination of the safe having been recomputed into the two sacks provided for the occasion, one slung over each shoulder, remarking, 'entertain the car that this is a hard combination,' but nevertheless he proceeded to make the 'smooth guys,' as he termed the well dressed portion of the passengers, 'shell out.'"

"Mr. Moore thinks there were at least five men concerned in the robbery, although he saw but three. They held the train about two hours. About half an hour was spent on the mail car in going through the mail, and from half an hour to an