

THE PLAINEALER

INSUED EVERY THURSDAY BY THE PLAINEALER PUBLISHING COMPANY

W. F. BENJAMIN, Editor

C. Y. BENJAMIN, Manager

Subscription Rates:

One Year, payable in advance $2.00

Months, " " " 1.00

Months, " " " .50

AUGUST 1, 1895.

THE WATER FAMINE.

The city council and the Roseburg Water Company are at loggerheads.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire.

It is claimed by the company that they are under no obligation to furnish increased service at places demanded.

On the other hand the city is under no obligation to the company to pay more now and hereafter than heretofore.

Those who will not be benefited by a renewal of the contract, say amen to the council's action.

There is much excitement just now in the Sewell neighborhood over the discussion of religious subjects.

A minister from Eugene recently went out there and preached a sermon that was not well received by the Catholics.

The poor old Rev. had had another spasm. The mountain labored and brought forth a mouse.

A virtual threat, made recently in the Roseburg Plaindealer, evidently inspired by Binger Hermann.

Mr. Hermann, if he fails to be renominated for congress in case he should be a candidate before the republican convention would not bolt and run independent.

"Sir," said the indignant alderman, "are you not aware that were I to vote for your measure I would be exposed to the condemnation of all good citizens in my ward?"

As a rule the best time to sell prunes is as soon as they are ready for the market.

M. P. Walter, who shot and killed his brother-in-law, Dwight Rice, at Leland on the 27th instant, has been exonerated by the coroner's jury.

No Jury Yet.

San Francisco, July 29.—In the Durant case this morning 12 jurors were examined, but none accepted.

San Francisco, July 29.—The Durant case this morning 12 jurors were examined, but none accepted.

San Francisco, July 29.—The Durant case this morning 12 jurors were examined, but none accepted.

"UNO VOCE"

In the Oregonian of Tuesday, July 30th, over the non de plume of "A Country Republican," a blatherskite with more gall than brains, assumes to know who wrote the editorial in the PLAINDEALER July 3 of 4 under the caption "Una Voce."

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

It is shown that the three-inch mains are practically useless in case of fire, owing in part to the want of supply, caused by reason of so small pipe and in part doubtless by the mains becoming partly filled with sediment.

Still Another Gone.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—The Press will publish the following tomorrow: By Tuesday or Wednesday of this week there will be in Cuban waters the largest expedition from this country that has yet left.

It will be under command of Colonel Enrique Colla, who arrived in this country about July 6, and since that time has been preparing for this expedition.

The ship is fitted out as a war vessel, and is capable of a speed of 17 knots an hour, and has made 19. About 10 days ago a trial was made off Sandy Hook.

She was at once accepted, and the money paid over. Clearance papers were obtained, and the vessel put out to sea.

A contingent of about 25 local Cubans, skilled shipwrights and experienced men-of-war-men, were shipped on another vessel and transferred to her on the high seas.

Everything was completed for sailing Saturday night, and the vessel is now believed to be on its way to Cuba.

There is but one Cuban in the party. Among those who are enrolled is a former officer of the United States navy, an officer of the national guard, and four or five men who served through the late civil war.

The names of these people will not be made known until the vessel lands its men on Cuban soil.

As soon the Cubans are recognized as belligerents by some foreign government, the vessel will be purchased by the insurgents.

When this is done, the Cuban flag will be raised on her and she will be named in all probability "Presidente Marti," in honor of the late leader of the insurgents.

This recognition is expected from a South American or Central American republic soon. The first step toward this will be taken in a few days, if it has not already been taken.

It is the purpose of those on the island to set up a provisional government at Manzanillo, or some other point, in a day or so.

If the advice received by the local Cubans that General de Campos is now practically a prisoner in Bayamo are correct, the new government will, in all probability, be set up at that point.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder Forty Years the Standard.

From Jackson's Hole. MARKET LAKE, Idaho, July 29.—Dr. Womburn, of Rexburg, has just come from that place with news that James Simmons and Fred Cunningham, two scouts, arrived in Rexburg last evening, straight from Jackson's Hole.

They report that no conflict had taken place between the Whites and Indians and that matters are quiet.

The Indians, to the number of 500, are about 20 miles from Marsyias, where the settlers are fortified and prepared to resist the savages should an attack be made.

Now the "Bloomer Ball." SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Since a bloomer ball was given in Chicago a few days ago, preparations have been made for several functions of the kind in this city.

As a result the local clergymen are considerably agitated over the subject, and last night Dr. Westwood, pastor of the Howard-street Methodist church, paid his respects to the bloomer girl and the bloomer ball in the following words:

"I believe in the wheel and in women riding the wheel, and in her getting rid of a great deal of unnecessary skirts; but when it is announced that no woman can attend the bloomer ball wearing skirts, then it is time to put in a protest."

It is my opinion that no woman will go to that bloomer ball who is virtuous and prudent and possessed of taste. But let nobody quote me as saying that all who go to that ball are not virtuous women; I have not said that, but that that they will not be all three of those things, I say, that, in my opinion, being a little prophetic.

A Rich Lode.

VICTOR, Colo., July 30.—W. S. Stratton, the millionaire, has struck what is probably the richest lode ever found in any mining country, if not in the world.

In the independence of the miners, in following a lead, ran across a vein that will run $140,000 to the ton. It was at a point where both veins come together, and the width warrants the statement that there is no less than several millions of ore in sight.

A Remarkable Cave. YUMA, Ariz., July 30.—On White river, near Camp Apache, has been found a remarkable cave. For 500 feet the explorers were obliged to crawl on hands and knees, using candles and bull-eye lanterns for light.

They found between 300 and 400 human skeletons, indicating the remains of persons who had been smothered to death by smoke long years ago.

Some of them were in crevices just large enough to admit a human body. The skeletons are of various sizes, some being very small. The skulls are of a brown color with the exception of a few which are white.

The White Mountain Apaches are very superstitious about the cave, and say that within there is a large lake of water. The visitors found no water, but intend to explore further. There are but two ways of entering it.

A Friend's Confession. ST. LOUIS, July 31.—Enmett Diverse, colored, brought here several days ago from Hannibal, Mo., to escape lynching for the outrage and murder of Mrs. J. W. Caine, near Fulton, last Tuesday, has confessed. He said he outraged her and then cut her throat eight times.

Diverse went into the bloody details of his crime without any emotion other than a smile at times.

The Search Continued. CHICAGO, July 30.—Peter Cigrand, father of Emeline Cigrand, said to have been murdered by H. H. Holmes, arrived in Chicago today with Philomena Cigrand, a sister of the missing girl.

With Dr. J. B. Cigrand, a relative, they went to police headquarters, where a secret conference with Chief Hadenoch and Inspector Fitzpatrick was had.

The search for the acid vats in the castle basement continued. The tank uncovered yesterday was forced open, but nothing was found but a few inches of petroleum in the bottom.

In the course of further excavation in the Holmes' sixty-third-street building today, the police found parts of two thigh bones, a piece of skull and four smaller pieces of bone.

Frisco's "Jack The Kisser." SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A man who kisses pretty women on the streets and pinches girls' chins, in the latest instance that has arisen in this city. A pretty girl tripped along the pavement on Market street yesterday afternoon.

Her blue eyes glanced saucily out from under a white sailor hat, with a red, white and blue band, and her hands were thrust jauntily into the pockets of her tailor-made jacket.

Just as she reached the corner the saucy look in her eyes gave place first to one of surprise and then to one of terror. The lips that had worn a smile drew themselves into an angry frown, and the pretty girl began to scream.

"Oh, my dear!" she shrieked, "You nasty thing, how dare you! Oh! Oh!" Of course people started. At first they saw nothing that explained the girl's alarm.

A swarthy looking man walked up and asked: "What's the matter, miss?" "That man! That beast! Kissed me!" she sobbed, for by this time her shrieks gave way to tears.

She pointed to a tall man with a black moustache and then she ran up the street as fast as she could.

Ten minutes later a young matron with a little girl, perhaps three years old, trotting along by her side, came out of the Palace hotel. The man with the black moustache saw her and noticed that she was a very nice looking young matron.

He placed himself in her path, and when she stopped for a minute lest she would bump into him, he reached out and with his forefinger tickled her under the chin.

She thoroughly surprised was she that she just started and looked. The tall man pinched one of her plump cheeks, saying not a word, but grinning foolishly all the while. That roused her, and once more a battery of screams was discharged.

Roosevelt's Opinion.

New York, July 30.—In speaking of the Bannock Indian trouble, President Roosevelt, of the police commissioners, said the worst calamity that could befall an Indian was to allow him to kill game.

Speaking from wide experience, he said the Indian's salvation lies in his becoming civilized and, consequently, he should be kept from wild sports as much as possible.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the Bannock Indians generally were considered a friendly tribe, and not by any means "bad Indians," such as the Sioux and the Arapahos. They were very brave, and will fight like fiends when cornered.

According to the commissioner, they have a great desire for game, but by the only game they undertake to gain in by getting scalps and stealing horses.

Mr. Roosevelt was in Jackson's Hole in 1872 and mixed a great deal with the Bannocks and Shoshones. He says there has always been more or less friction between settlers and the Indians over the shooting of elk.

The Indians have the right to shoot the game under their treaty, but the law forbids the killing of game, and this is where the trouble began. The Indians slaughter the game in a wholesale manner.

They surround a herd of elk or cattle and kill every one in sight. Mr. Roosevelt, explained that the outlawed bucks are the greatest dangers threatening the Western settlers. These are young Indians ranging from 18 to 22 years old, whose fathers declare they will not be responsible for their acts.

When hunting game they stretch out in line and use a peculiar whistle to lure the elk within range. They then surround the frightened animals, and after closing in on them, butcher them by hundreds.

The commissioner said that game abouts in Idaho. Even as late as his last visit to Jackson's Hole he had seen elk in such tremendous herds that their antlers resembled a forest of bone.

Spanish Senators Protest. MADRID, July 31.—Republican and Carlist senators and deputies have addressed a protest to the government against the payment of the Mora claim without the sanction of the cortes.

The protest declares the government's precipitancy in settling the claim is unconstitutional and humiliating, and the conduct of the United States in taking advantage of the Cuban insurrection to present this is an exhibition of an unfriendly disposition.

The government has decided to pay the Mora claim in three installments. It is the intention afterward to induce the United States to recognize Spanish claims for damages to property in Florida, of Spanish citizens, incurred during the civil war.

Judge Murphy of San Francisco has enjoined the play, "The Crime of a Century," and the Sheriff served the writ at the close of the first act and stopped the play. Manager Daly, however, avers the play will go on the next night.

He claims as much right to depict the methods of life on the stage as the newspapers have, and will test this right before the courts.

The diabolical way in which H. H. Holmes, the multiple murderer, has systematically killed and disposed of his victims, is being unraveled by detectives. It shows a series of crimes unparalleled for ferocity, in the record of criminal acts, in any civilized country.

The newspapers are burthened with the sickening details.

The Horr-Harvey debate on the free silver coinage question has closed, and the people are no wiser than before, except that the vexed question was not solved by these solons on finance.

The J. G. Flook Co. is prepared to do any kind of mill work at the lowest rates, and those who are preparing to build should consult them. They can save you money.

Like Other Women. I have suffered for 25 years with a complication of troubles, with continuous, almost unbearable pain in my back. The Grip also unbearable.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. But Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured my troubles, and I can't speak too highly of it. Mrs. E. R. Smith, Elm, Cal.

Terribly Beaten. WATERBURY, O., July 30.—Mrs. Hattie Covey, wife of Bert Covey, a resident of Jayville, died June 22, with John Kierch, superintendent of the saw mill, leaving one child. Kierch left a wife and four children. The clovers went to Michigan, but returned dissatisfied. Mrs. Covey returned home. A crowd of men stripped her of her clothing and beat her terribly. She may die. Jayville is a small backwoods village.

Now is the Time

WHILE PRICES AND GOODS ARE IN ATTRACTION.

Waist Goods, Wash Goods, Dress Goods, Good Goods, Honest Values, Low Prices, Novelties, Furnishing Goods, Hats, all kinds, Tribby Ties, Best Suspenders, Nackle Counter, Children's Clothing, Dime Counter, Youth's Clothing, Anything, The Novelty Store

If You Are Looking For

CALL AT 231 JACKSON ST. Taylor & Wilson Block.

What I saved by dealing with G. W. KRUSE THE GROCER, 406 JACKSON ST. One door south P. O.

Choice Tea, Coffee, Tobacco and Cigars. And every thing else in the Grocery line.

Highest Market Paid for Country Produce. Give him a call and be convinced.

The Finishing Touch. In putting the finishing touch to your toilet do you always see that your shoes are in keeping with the rest of your makeup?

The shoes may be better than the other garments and still be appropriate, but if they are not up to the raiment in style and quality the effect is unpleasant.

Mrs. Grace Osburn's fine line of Shoes stand on their merits, is infinite in variety, excellent in quality, and moderate in price.

Notice of Final Settlement. In the County Court of Douglas County, Oregon.

In the matter of the estate of Elizabeth Hancock, deceased.

Administratrix's Notice. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned administrator of the estate of John Schram, deceased, will give a true and correct copy of the account of his administration to the County Court of Douglas County, Oregon, on and after the 31st day of August, 1895.

Administrator's Sale of Real Property. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE undersigned executor of the estate of John Schram, deceased, will give a true and correct copy of the account of his administration to the County Court of Douglas County, Oregon, on and after the 31st day of August, 1895.

Administrator's Notice. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned administrator of the estate of John Schram, deceased, will give a true and correct copy of the account of his administration to the County Court of Douglas County, Oregon, on and after the 31st day of August, 1895.

Executor's Sale of Real Property. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE undersigned executor of the estate of John Schram, deceased, will give a true and correct copy of the account of his administration to the County Court of Douglas County, Oregon, on and after the 31st day of August, 1895.

Uncle Sam Just Arrived On a Crescent Wheel! The Crescent is proving itself to be a strong and durable wheel.

Jerry J. Wilson, the Slow Jeweler, the heaviest man in Douglas County, rides a Crescent.

CARLE & RICHARDSON.

COMING!

The Great Wallace Shows. ROSEBURG, THURSDAY, AUGUST 8TH. THE GREATEST, LARGEST, GRANDEST AND BEST OF AMERICA'S Amusement Enterprises.

Finest Horses and Greatest Array of Circus Talents OF ANY SHOW ON EARTH.

NO WONDER IT IS GREAT! 3 RINGS! 2 STAGES! 12 MILE RACE TRACK! COLOSSAL MENAGERIE! ROYAL AQUARIUM!

100 PHENOMENAL ACTS! 20 HURRICANE RACES! 25 CLOWNS! 6 BANDS! 50 CAGES! 15 OPEN DEN'S! HERD OF ELEPHANTS! DROVE OF CAMELS! WORLD'S RENOWNED PERFORMERS! EVERY GREAT ACT KNOWN!

CAPITAL - $3,000,000.00. Excursions Will be Run. On every line of travel to enable visitors from a distance to attend the exhibitions this, the greatest show of the modern world.

STREET PARADE ONE MILE LONG. 50 FREE EXHIBITIONS DAILY 50 EXPERIENCED DETECTIVES IN ATTENDANCE. They are constantly on the watch to protect the public from the operations of gamblers and swindlers.

REMEMBER THE DATE. GENERAL ADMISSION, 50 cts. Tickets on sale day of Exhibition at MARSTERS DRUG STORE.

Santa Abie THE KING OF CONSUMPTION. A Sovereign Remedy for Coughs, Colds, La Grippe and all Affections of the Throat, Chest and Lungs.

50 Cts. Any 100. Sheriff Sale. In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Douglas.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, by consideration of the circuit court of the county of Douglas in the public auction to the highest bidder, plaintiff recovered judgment against John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.

Whereas on the 15th day of July, 1895, the date of said judgment, and at any time thereafter plaintiff has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Gottsel, together with and the structure, contents and eight dollars and seventy cent damages and costs, which judgment was enforced and docketed in the clerk's office of said court on the 15th day of July, 1895.