THE BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

Hard Work and Indigestion go Hand in Hand. Concentrated thought, continued in, robe the stomach of necessary blood, and this is also true of hard physical labor. When a five horse-power engine is made when a nve horse-power work something is to do ten horse-power work something is going to break. Very often the hard-worked man coming from the field or the office will "bolt" his food in a few min-utes which will take hours to digest. Then too, many foods are about as useful in the stomach as a keg of nails would be in a fire under a boiler. The ill-used stomach refuses to do its work without the proper stimulus which it gets from the blood and nerves. The nerves are weak and "ready to break," because they do not get the nourishment they require from the blood, nourishment they require from the blood, finally the ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked man at-tempts to find rest in bed. The application of common sense in the reatment of the stomach and the whole Kearney, who apparently view with her neighbors above mentioned in adorning her home environment with floral beauty on a tastefully kept lawn.
