The picture of style, beauty and reliability, all the merits of fashion, dress and color, all the virtues that dress goods ought to possess, are combined in the fabrics which we now offer. That the fabrics are the lowest we leave you to judge. Novelty store.

Caro Bros. will receive from South Abington, Mass., this week a large invoice of men's and boys' shoes, which they propose selling at low prices, notwithstanding the general rise in the price of those articles. Call early and inspect their immense stock.

The many friends of Prof. H. D. Thomas, long a citizen of this county, will be pained to learn of his death near Carl Junction, Mo., September 5th. His illness was of the typho-malarial character. The Professor was one of Douglas county's excellent teachers for several years.

By request of Mary Robertson Squire we announce that she will hold an open air meeting at the Josephson corner Friday and Saturday evenings, where she will talk upon the great labor questions of the day. Come out and hear this question discussed from a woman's standpoint. Remember that Jefferson said:

"Any error of opinion may be safely tolerated when reason is left free to combat it."

C. A. Schilbrede made a business trip to Oakland yesterday, returning on the local.

WASTON—An intelligent woman to take up a well established business here. Address "C. N." this office.

Mrs. A. VanBuren and daughter Mabel, left this morning on the local for Salem to attend the state fair.

Fred Wright is assisting Mrs. Allison in the store this week while Mr. Allison is at Boswell Springs for his health.

Miss Jennie Clayton of Albany, who has been in this city on a ten day's visit, returned home on last night's overland.

Mrs. Monson, representing the Viava company of San Francisco is in the city. She will talk to the ladies at armory hall next Wednesday afternoon.

Our affable deputy sheriff reports that Geo. Shambrook & Co. have finished hog picking and drying and that the hogs are of excellent quality.

Miss Addie Colvig, who has been the guest of Miss Mabel VanBuren several weeks, returned to her home at Grants Pass this morning on the overland.

H. Challenger, wife and son, are registered at the McCallen. Mr. Challenger is looking out for a location with the intention of settling in this county.

The Misses Magie and Nora Luckey of Eugene, who have been visiting the Misses Kearney in this city, returned to their home on this morning's local.

Our esteemed friend, N. LaRaut of Garden Bottom, came up to the city last night. He reports that he has finished hog picking and that his crop is good and dried in good shape.

The individual who took the Chicago tailor's screw driver has been spotted. If he will return it soon no questions will be asked. If not returned he will present the taker with something heavier than his goose.

The Taylor-Wilson building on Jackson street is nearing completion. The interior arrangements for the furniture store are such as to utilize the greatest amount of space possible by a hanging floor midway between ground floor and ceiling. That is an illustration of the latin motto in parvo.

A Portland restaurant man has imported from Chicago expert roller-skating waiters, and has converted his dining room into a skating rink. These waiters noiselessly and swiftly glide about the tables and into the kitchen and out again, and with a graceful swoop and flourish deposit a plate of soup on the table instead of into your lap. It is a grand scheme.

W. R. Wells, postmaster of Oalla is in the city today. He says the post-office department has demanded of him $1,800, the price of postage stamps stolen from him about two years ago. Well, Billy, Grover Cleveland wants it to help pay interest on those bonds—better pay it—he needs it, and you can stand it till the next change in 1896.

The board of trustees of the soldiers home has closed its labors for the last quarter. The board confirms the appointment of Major Flynn. The question of a hospital for the home was discussed, and will soon assume shape. The construction of a hospital is almost an absolute necessity, for the sanitary condition of the home. The expense will be comparatively small and its advantages great.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Oregon Industrial Exposition, besides collecting the finest display of woman's work ever made in Oregon, will manage four special entertainments. On October 10 there will be series of patriotic tableaux; October 22 there will be an arabesque or fancy dances; October 29 they will give a musical, and November 2 a grand baby carnival. They will wind up the fair with two days of a chrysanthemum show.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The receipts of the late fair were $1,100.

J. G. Goble of Sitkum is at the Van Houten.

A. H. Westervelt of Portland is at the Van Houten.

A. H. Carson of Grants Pass is a guest at the Van Houten.

Mr. Geo. Estes is trying to get up a special car or cars to Portland for the exposition, about the 15th of October. If he can sell 50 tickets the fare for the round trip will be $7.50, including two tickets to the exposition.

The prize babies at the fair Saturday were Mrs. J. H. Short's girl baby and Mrs. Walter Singleton's boy. The judges were Miss Rosa Parrott and Miss Elmetta Bailey of Roseburg and Miss McClelland of Sams Valley.

The S. P. will give round trip rates from Roseburg to the state fair for $7.50 up to and including October 7th. Also round trip rates to Central Point to attend the First Southern Oregon District Agricultural Fair will be $6.50 up to and including the 13th of October.

Mrs. Beirbridge of this city and Mrs. Whitaker of Oakland left here this morning for London with the view of remaining in England. The friends of these estimable ladies wish them a safe and pleasant journey and a happy life in "Merry England," the land of their birth.

The many friends of Rev. Wm. Lund, formerly pastor of the Episcopal church of this city, will be pleased to learn that he is very much pleased with his new location in Kingston, Jamaica. Mr. Lund speaks very highly in praise of that little island of the sea, and especially of the healthfulness of the climate. People never die there—at least, one would infer from his remark that he "never saw so many old people anywhere."

The temperature is from 60 to 70 in winter and from 70 to 96 in summer.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Mrs. Jas. Cephal's many friends will be pained to hear of her illness.

G. A. Taylor of Portland is interviewing friends in Roseburg today.

Harrison McKune, of Lebanon, stopped off here last night enroute to Coos Bay points.

Mrs. Fred Rapp of Elkton is visiting her friend, Mrs. W. Conover, of North Roseburg.

Sender Payton and company are on the back track. They play in Salem during the fair.

Wm. Ledgerwood of Myrtle Creek is in the city today on business with the county officials.

Mrs. S. Gilbert will commence building on her lot bought of G. N. Kimball in the near future.

There will be more and a better quality of dried prunes shipped from Douglas county this season than ever before.

The regular monthly meeting of the Roseburg Fruit Union will be held on Saturday, 28th, at Grange Hall at 2 p. m. A general attendance is requested.

John Weaver, a prize culturist of Myrtle Creek, is in the city today. He exhibited specimens of petite prunes, surpassing in size the most of Italian prunes.

Albert Wilson of Lone Rock, and contractor for the franchise of the Lone Rock ferry filed his contract with the county clerk today. A. H. Dickman and W. C. Tipton are his bondsmen.

An irreverent exchange says: A Texas preacher turned a bible at a deacon who started to run away with the collection, and knocked him down the front steps of the church, breaking his leg in two places.

Axel Benson, a young man of South Myrtle Creek, was badly hurt yesterday by a log rolling over him. It is feared it will prove fatal. Dr. Whitcomb was called and did what he could to relieve his suffering, but he is in a critical condition at best.

One of our business men imbibed too freely of corn juice yesterday and as a consequence was given a lodging in the cooler last night. Having slept off his jitters he appeared before his honor, Justice Hamlin this morning, pleased and was fined $5 and costs.

D. W. Coolidge yesterday brought into town from his fruit farm south of the city a two-bushel basket filled with chestnuts that he had picked from one young tree, the only one he has. The nuts are first-class and just as good as nuts raised in the East. Mr. Coolidge has a number of other varieties of nuts and is very enthusiastic over not raising in Oregon—Eugene Girard.

The Soldiers' Home Board of Trustees are now in session. Those present are: J. P. Robertson, president; S. B. Ormsby, B. F. Alley, J. H. Rust, and Chas. Graham, secretary. Wm. Galloway, another member, being absent. These gentlemen are fair-minded, liberal business men and are devoting their best efforts to conduct the business of the Home economically and place it on a sound footing, and gain for the Home a character that will receive the approbation of the people of the state.

"Pap Stroud," as he is familiarly called by his host of friends here, was in our city a few days ago (and nights too) lecturing to the A. F. & A. M., giving the brethren here the benefits of his knowledge of the work of Masonry. The grand lecturer went south to Canyonville to visit the brethren there, and to give them instructions in the work of the order that has done more for the elevation of man from the baseness of dogmatism than any other order, save Odd-fellowship. Those orders take men of all denominations—except Catholicism, and lead them in one fraternal brotherhood.

All work fully warranted.

TELEGRAPH NEWS.

Sympathy Expressed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—We ought not to hesitate to do our duty and express our righteous sympathy with the Cuban revolutionists, even though it should involve the United States government in a war with Spain.

These were the words spoken last night by Rev. Dr. John Henry Barrows, pastor of the first Presbyterian church. In company with a great many other prominent preachers of Chicago, the Rev. Dr. Barrows feels strongly on the subject and he is doing all in his power to stir up a sentiment in favor of the Cubans in their struggle with the Spaniards. He will take a leading part in the mass meeting to be held next Monday evening at Central music hall, where he hopes that resolutions expressing strong sympathy with the Cubans will be adopted. Much of Rev. Dr. Barrows' feeling in the matter grew out of his visit to Cuba three years ago last winter, and spent considerable time in studying the life, habits and modes of government of the inhabitants, and he speaks therefore, with authority.

"When I visited Cuba," he said last night, "I realized what it was called the 'Pearl of the Antilles.' It is certainly one of the most beautiful portions of God's earth, and it is possessed of almost unlimited natural resources. And yet I found a disheartened and down-trodden people who have been suffering for generations under oppression, the most rapacious, exhausting and intolerable that the world knows anything about. The native Cubans seem to have no rights or privileges which Spain is bound to respect. Its unhappy people of every station are stripped of their possessions by tax gatherers as ruthless as those of Turkey and as hateful as those of Judah in the first century. Cuba has been a great expense and Spain has been squeezing her to fill the coffers of the treasury at Madrid, as well as the pockets of the numerous captains-general. Independence from Spain is the only solution of the Cuban problem.

"We have a right to show our sympathy for the oppressed everywhere, and we ought to beseege our national government to acknowledge the belligerent rights of these heroic liberationists. We ought not to hesitate to do our duty and express our righteous sympathy, even though it should involve the United States government in a war with Spain. I hope that such pressure will be brought to bear that the government will be forced to take some action favorable to the Cubans."

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctor she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her; but two bottles of King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is a great relief to him, and he says that, that proves the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at A. C. Marsters & Co.'s Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and 40c.

Crisis Not Far Off.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—A special to the Tribune from Havana, dated September 19, 1895:

Armed parties of revolutionists are already in the province of Mantanzas and actually within 75 miles of Havana. If, as said, they have quantities of arms and ammunition there concealed, and are really advancing in force, the crisis is not far off.

Yesterday 55 persons were arrested within a few hours and confined in Morro castle. Rumors were soon flying around that a great conspiracy had been discovered, and the initial step was to have been an attack with dynamite on the steamer Santa Barbara, having a battalion of 1000 men on board. The sequel came at midnight, when there was a frightful explosion in the harbor, resulting in the sinking of the Spanish cruiser Baraceste, in which 40 lives were lost.

Town's Successor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The Chronicle says that J. Kreutchnit, general manager of the Atlantic system of the Southern Pacific Company, has been appointed to the vacancy created by the death of A. N. Towne. Mr. Kreutchnit has been made general manager of both the Atlantic and Pacific systems of the corporation, and will look after the duties not only of his present position, but will also attend to those which occupied the time and attention of A. N. Towne for many years preceding his death.

The Square Deal Store.

The Square Deal store is now receiving a full and complete stock of fall and winter goods, consisting in part of clothing, hats and caps, ladies' and gents' underwear, a fine assortment of misses' and children's shoes, gents' boots and shoes in endless variety, dry goods, fancy goods and dress goods, all of which are offered at extremely low prices. They are determined not to be underbid by any mercantile house in Southern Oregon. Give them a call.

Sensational Report.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 24.—The most sensational report ever issued by a state bureau was made public by the Illinois bureau of labor statistics. It charges that the great majority of the wealthy taxpayers of Illinois, and more especially the owners of the great manufacturing concerns, are guilty of malfeasance in office; that the present financial condition of Chicago is directly traceable to the corrupt system of taxation, and that the deplorable condition of the workingmen is due to the "liberty-destroying methods of taxation that prevail in Illinois." The stand is taken that it is idle to dwell upon the wages and condition of the average wage-earner of the state.

The bureau contends that this condition is proved by evidence so clear and abundant that the compilation of any further statistics would be wasted effort.

The bureau takes the position that taxation is the chief instrument of tyranny.

What Will the Harvest Be?

The above is an important question, and one the solution of which involves the well or woe of the Oregon farmer. Another question of equal importance is, where shall we go to lay in our supplies of clothing and dry goods? The answer to the latter question might be readily answered by saying, "Go to the Square Deal store of Wollenberg & Abraham, where are kept large supplies suitable for the wants of all, and which they will dispose of for greenbacks, gold or silver, at very reasonable rates."

A Sensible Plan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—When the new race track at Ingleside is opened, next November, an Australian starting machine will take the place of a man with a red flag. One of the machines was recently imported from the antipodes, where they are in vogue, and gave marked satisfaction. The machine consists of two bands of strong webbing, each band about four inches in width, slides up and away from the horses at an angle of about 45 degrees.

As soon as all the horses are lined up, facing the webbing, the starter pulls a lever, which releases the trigger, sends the webbing flying swiftly and noiselessly upward and outward, and the horses are off in a line. The timing will be done by electricity.

An automatic indicator placed above the timers' stand will display the time made to every quarter as the horses pass the pole.

To the Public.

On and after this date, I wish it understood that my terms for all undertaker's goods are cash with the order. I find it impossible to do business on a credit basis, and believe that I can do better by my patrons and myself by selling strictly for cash. P. BENCKDIT, Undertaker, Roseburg, Or., April 12, 1895.

Ducrey's Charge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—When the Durrant trial opened this morning Detective Gillson was cross-examined by the defense. He denied the newspaper interview in which he was made to say that he saw footprints in the dust on the stairs of the belfry, made by No. 8 or 9.

He denied all knowledge of the alleged footprints.

Ducrey's Charge.

Mrs. Leake was recalled, Ducrey, for the defense, asked her whom she saw besides Durrant from her windows on April 3. She could not remember any one. Asked if she had ever been examined for myopia within the last three years, she said no. Asked if any one in Coulterville had examined her eyes, she said so.

Ducrey then delivered his opening address for the defense. He said the defense is so clear and convincing that everybody must believe it when he hears it. Nothing would be offered in evidence except what was read and substantiated. The case of the prosecution was wholly dependent on circumstantial evidence. Circumstances cannot lie, but witnesses can lie. He talked of the importance of the duty of jurors in capital cases. Improper inference, suspicion and guess should be entirely absent. Sensational articles in the newspapers should not influence the jury. The onus of proving guilt lies on the prosecution. Each circumstance must be proved. The evidence must prove the guilt of the defendant to a moral certainty. He complimented Barnes on his opening statement which indicated strong suspicion.

He then said in part: "We claim that beyond suspicion, which is not proof, the case against the defendant fails. Where did Blanche Lamont forfeit her life and when? And who caused her death? These questions have been before the eyes of the world since April 14. Months have passed and no answer comes. The fourth question is what was the cause of her death? The fifth question cannot be answered, what was the motive of her murder?"

"It would be proper for the court to instruct the jury to acquit without a word for the defense, but duty to Durrant and the public should unsunder Durrant's lips. The jury is entitled to know the movements of Durrant on April 3. His story shall be told and piece by piece we shall tear the mask of falsehood from the faces of the witnesses for the prosecution."

Ducrey then read part of District Attorney Barnes' opening address which promised to show that Durrant was not at college on the afternoon of April 3. Ducrey asked, "Where is this proof? We are not here to furnish a sensation. We shall attack the position of the prosecution. We will show that other men may point to others as the evidence is unraveled."

Ducrey then outlined the witnesses to be called for the defense. First is his mother, to be called to tell about the life of Durrant and his family. She will tell how Durrant was clothed on April 3. The good repute of the accused will be proved. "We will answer the question, what did Durrant do on April 3? That morning at 7:55 he left home and walked to the car at Twenty-first and Mission, to see George King to get him to help fix the sunburners of the church. He met Blanche Lamont and told her he was going to King's house, and asked her to go with him, but she said she had no time. They took the car to Ninth and Mission, then on Larkin to Sutter then west on Sutter. At the high school Blanche left and Durrant went to Weltever, then walked to the medical college. We will show what he did all the morning. At 1:30 he went to the study-room to prepare his thesis for graduation. At 3:30 he attended Dr. Cheney's lecture, and we will produce his notes; they are different from the notes of any other student. The lecture closed between 4 and 4:15. Roll was called and Durrant answered. He then rode on the Sutter-street car and Larkin-street car to Ninth and Mission, took the car there on Mission to Twenty-second, then walked to Bartlett street into the church alone. We will be corroborated in this. He arrived at the church at 4:55, and entered the door on the south side. He went into the library to see about a book and card. He then removed his coat and hat."

Ducrey continuing his remarks, said: "Durrant then went up over the ceiling over the gasburner and there commenced work. The gasburner did not touch the sunburners. We will show that the church was filled with gas which had escaped the day before while the gas men were at work. There was no ventilation. He was affected by the gas which nauseated him. George King was playing the piano in the church three minutes before Durrant appeared. You are asked to believe that Durrant went to King to obtain a witness against himself, when he knew King was in the church. When King went for the bromo seltzer, Durrant lay on the platform until he returned. Then he helped King move the organ. We will show how difficult it was to move the organ. He then went to the library with King. The door was locked, but Durrant unlocked it and went in. Durrant was on his coat and left the church with King, and asked about the health of his husband. He then went home to supper and attended a church meeting in the evening. After that he went home."

"We will show the evidence found in the church made
