

AGAIN ENLARGED.

After canvassing the matter pro and con, and considering odds against the enterprise, the proprietors of this journal decided to undertake the publication of a daily paper, and, on the 17th day of last June, issued the first number, a 5-column paper. The venture met with such success that on the 8th day of July it was found advisable to enlarge it to 6 columns, and now, to meet the growing demand for more space, we have again found it necessary to enlarge it to 7 columns.

The proprietors of this journal do not boast of the wonderful things, in the newspaper line, they propose to do. They consider the matter, come to a conclusion as to what they can do and then go to work and try to accomplish it. We have done the best we could to make a good clean country newspaper and to furnish our readers the news as soon after occurrence as possible. Believing that a demand for a daily paper had arrived, we made the venture and so far have met with reasonable success.

The DAILY PLAINDEALER has more choice literary matter in its columns than any daily in this state outside of Portland, and our dispatches give all the most important news both foreign and domestic; so that our readers are kept posted in the current news of interest, and our local columns have all that transpires in the city and its immediate surroundings for each 24 hours.

Our editorials on important issues serve to point out needed reforms and the great advantages and interests of the country.

We furnish our readers with the best we can, believing their intelligence will perceive what merits the paper possesses, and that their liberality will prompt them to give us their patronage. We call our readers' attention to the character of our paper and ask them to compare it, without prejudice, with other country newspapers; believing they will duly appreciate our efforts to keep abreast of the age and extend to us their support.

One English paper, deriding the Monroe doctrine, says that Great Britain has rights on this hemisphere, being the owner not merely of British Guiana, but of Canada. It will not take much rancor from England to make the United States question seriously the propriety of that ownership, and to proceed to eject Great Britain from this continent and make the St. Lawrence, from its source to its mouth, an American stream, as it should be. Lord Salisbury had better accept the Monroe doctrine as President Cleveland has defined it or he or his successor will have to accept the much more stringent and radical definition which the American people will insist on unless the pending dispute is settled soon.—Chicago Tribune.

Here are some cheerful statistics concerning the independent workingman. They were collected by the Humanitarian. "There are," says the paper, "50,000 women and children in New York city working from 10 to 16 hours a day. There are women and children working in stores from 9 in the morning till 10 at night. The majority of the children are cash girls, and they receive $1.50 a week, and are fined when absent or tardy, and when they make mistakes. New York city is a large city, and distances are great between home and place of employment, so if the children do not walk to and from work there is very little left out of the $1.50.

If the present congress reflects the temper of the American people the administration will not be permitted to add another dollar to the bonded debt of the United States. If the administration is in need of money to pay government expenditures it should raise the required revenue through other channels than the sale of bonds. The American people favor a tariff—protective though it may be called—that will sufficiently defray the expenses of government. We opine that the time is near at hand when such a tariff will be adopted and carried into effect.

It is not surprising that an organization of the character of the A. P. A. are spreading over the country when Catholics are being appointed to offices over the heads of native born citizens. The governor of Georgia, to rebuke the A. P. A. of that state, appointed James O'Neil to be city solicitor of Atlanta, a job worth $10,000.

Ambassador Bayard, in his English utterance, says that this country needs a strong man in the presidential chair. That is probably what the country thinks upon the subject, and when the strong man gets there he will see that a good, true American supercedes Ambassador Bayard at the court of St. James.—Albany Herald.

If Europe does not remove the flimsy decaying structure of the Ottoman empire a war will break out there before long that will spread over the whole of Europe and Asia before it can be stopped.

There will be five eclipses this year, two of the sun, two of the moon and one of the democratic party, and one grand occultation, viz: Johnny Bull by Uncle Sam.

There are six so-called great powers in Europe. There is also the Turk, who, being unappealable, doesn't count. He merely stands off the six great powers.

If we must have more bonds to tide over the democratic deficit they should be issued in small denominations and made a popular loan.

When Europe is selling our securities in a panic is the time when wise Americans will get in and buy.

OUT OF THE FRYING PAN

Has come not a little knowledge as to cookery—what to do, as well as what not to do. Thus we have learned to use

COTTOLENE, the most pure and perfect cooking material for all frying and shortening purposes. PROGRESSIVE COOKING is the natural outcome of the age, and it teaches us not to use lard, but rather the new shortening, COTTOLENE, which is far cleaner, and more digestible than any lard can be.

The success of Cottole is called out without less limitations under similar names. Look out for these! Ask your Grocer for COTTOLENE, and be sure that you get it.

Made only by N. K. FAIRBANK & CO., ST. LOUIS and CHICAGO NEW YORK BOSTON.
