Joint Resolution.

Mr. Hermann introduced the following joint resolution abrogating the Clayton-Bolwer treaty, concluded April 19, 1850:

Whereas the treaty concluded between the United States and Great Britain April 19, 1850, as to ship-canal communication between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans by the way of the river San Juan de Nicaragua aud through Nicaragus, or any part of Central America, and commonly known as the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, has long since failed to accomplish the purpose for which it was designed, to wit, the construction of said canal, but is now an obstacle to such accomplishment and a source of international misunderstanding; and Whereas new conditions have arisen on the Pacific coast creating new responsibilities between the general government and the states and territories there since established, which may become seriously affected by the restrictions contained in said treaty ; and Whereas the present interests of this
