

Evangelist Palmer's Sermon.

At the Baptist Church Monday night, Mr. Palmer discoursed upon the text, "Without a parable, spake he not to them, Mark, iv:34. The speaker began his sermon by stating a few truisms; there are no two things alike in nature—nothing is perfect, the best men have defects, no logician however talented can formulate an argument perfect in all its parts, it will be more or less lame (so it appeared) as viewed by critics. He laid down a few propositions and sought to demonstrate their truthfulness by referring to the works of nature, which he said agree in every part with the Bible. These were depravity, trinity, atonement, and regeneration. Admitting certain conditions which he assumed to be facts, as facts he made good his argument. Mr. Palmer is a ready and fluent speaker and may be classed as an orator of no ordinary ability, and handled his subject with considerable logical skill. He indulged a little in a common custom among the clergy, that of reminding his hearers of some of the heretical notions of clergyman on the mysteries of the trinity. His views were of course clear, and it rightly understood would be clear to every one. Great is the mystery of godliness. It's arithmetic is hard to comprehend. It's problems are difficult to solve, but depravity naturally falls to the lot of all, as the old lady said: "I believe in depravity, and I thank the Lord, I try to practice it."

Conway Escaped.

DRAIN, March 9, 1886.
Warren Conway, who was arrested and brought up from Elkton last week on a charge of rape on the person of Menta Eversol, succeeded in escaping from the custody of Constable C. W. Grubb Sunday night, and so far nothing has been heard from him.
Constable Grubb tells the following story of the escape: "Sunday night, Conway wished to go and spend the evening at the residence of his uncle, A. W. Hart, where several of his friends were staying, having come up from Elkton to attend the examination of the prisoner. I went with him to Mr. Hart's, keeping a close watch on him, however, for I suspected that he would escape if given a chance. After staying at Hart's for awhile we started to leave as it was about bed time, so I picked up my hat, but Conway's hat seemed to have been misplaced, and as we were looking around for it, he got near a door that led into the kitchen and in an instant had jumped through the door and out at another, and when I got outside he was nowhere to be seen."
He had never been locked up, but had been in the charge of S. P. Steele until Sunday. His escape seems to have been well planned by his friends and relatives. He was to have had a hearing before Justice P. W. Rhodes Monday.

Attached.

On Monday the gent's furnishing store of J. Abraham was attached by the sheriff at the instance of Neustadter & Co. of Portland, for the sum of $900 or thereabouts. This is particularly hard on Young Abraham, as he had just reopened business in this city after an absence of five months in Medford, and was fast regaining his former good trade. Had he been granted a little time he would undoubtedly pulled through all right. It is not too late yet to effect a compromise as we are assured there is plenty of goods on hand to settle all indebtedness, if granted further time. But to sell at forced sale these dull times would cause a needless sacrifice and cause young Abraham to lose the savings of years of hard labor. Wholesale dealers should be as lenient as possible, for their own sake as well as their patrons, and give them a chance to work out their salvation. Jack is a rustler and well liked by the people of this community and is bound to pull through if given half a chance.

Soldiers' Home Hospital.

Commandant Byars showed us today the plans and specifications of the Soldiers' Home hospital which it is proposed to build the coming summer. The main building is 32x40 feet with basement for boiler room, laundry, kitchen and dining room, with space for storage and fuel. To this are two wings 34x34, one on each side the main building. Above the basement will be the hospital proper with all the necessary arrangements. It will be a cheap but commodious building and will doubtless furnish hospital accommodations for all immediate demands.

To Contractors.

Architects and contractors of Roseburg and of Douglas county will now have an opportunity to file sealed bids for the erection of the Soldiers' Home hospital the coming summer. In another column of today's paper will be found a call for bids, by Col. S. B. Ormsby, chairman of the board of trustees.

A Bonanza.

Bill Laugh and his two partners were this morning offered $15,000 for their copper mine. Mr. Laugh refuses to sell at that figure, saying that he wants $25,000 for his interest in a mine that assays from superficial rock $96 in gold per ton and from 40 to 70 per cent copper.

"Sow an act and you reap a habit sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny. The chains of habits are generally too small to be felt till they are too strong to be broken. All habits gather by unseen degrees as brooks make rivers, rivers run to seas."

Hermann is closing in on the lion stretch for re-nomination. The Oregonian's opposition to him strengthens his chances every day. The watchword is: "Whom the Oregonian opposes I'll support."
