Hall's family Pills are the best.

Monday night, Elder G. W. Ketchum preached at the Armory Hall to a rather small congregation. While the elder does not indulge in lofty flights of orstory, he is quite a ready speaker. Mr. Ketchum treated mostly of historical data as a means by which to establish certain eras mentioned in the Bible regarding the ages and dynasties of governments predicted by the prophet Daniel. He also stated that while there are a great many more good people today than in days past there are also a great many more wicked ones, and that the percentage of wickedness is greater than that of goodness, Mr. Ketchum also preached Tuesday night in the hall.
