Mr. Linn, an agent of G. W. Hubbard, a hop buyer, who has visited this section of country before, was here last week and purchased the hops of D. W. Stearns, Sam Brown and E. Thraikeld. There were two car loads, and were shipped to New York.

The death of John Eisenlohr, whose body was found, Monday morning, April 20th, in the shed adjoining the hardware store, was a lamentable case indeed. To be left alone in a helpless condition, no matter what the cause, is surely to be regretted by the community.

Mrs. Clara Berry and Mrs. Lee of Roseburg made our town a visit last week. Mrs. Berry organized a Y. Friday, with twelve members. The officers elected were: Merta Graves, president; Lizzie Cooper, Dessie McKesson and Rnsa Ottinger, vice presidents; Mand Beckley, corresponding secretary; Mand Russell, recording secretary; Mary Medley, treasurer. The Y. will hold their meetings at the residences of the various members.

A Demorest Silver Medal Contest was held at the M. E. church, Monday evening, of last week. The church was crowded. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney I. B. Riddle was in town Friday and attended at the Murphy trial.

E. McBroom spent Saturday in town presumably looking after the interests of the Review, but rumor has it that he is working in the interest of a very secret organization for the advancement of democratic interests. However, your correspondent rather doubts the existence of such an organization for the reason that the Review is so bitterly opposed to secret political societies. Still our informant claims to know whereof he speaks, and we will probably know definitely by our next writing. REPORTER.

School Report.

Report of Clover Creek school for the month ending April 17, 1896. In the monthly examination Dorothy Dixon averaged 100; others above 90, Thomas Dixon, Maude Dixon, Katie Thornton, Mable Dixon, Susan Dixon, Cleveland Thornton, James Dixon, Walter Dixon, Henry Smith; others above 85, Frank Thornton and Myrtle Dixon. ROSE B. PARROTT, Teacher.

Silks, Silks, Silks.

There is no reason why you should not have silk for a waist this summer when you can get fancy figured silk for waists or trimming purposes of quality that you have paid $1.25 per yard. We offer these at ridiculously low prices. This is not mere talk. Come and see for yourself at the Novelty Store.

Politics are very quiet. The people seem to be reading and thinking a great deal.

The East Calapooia coyote club captured three coyotes during the past week.

Shes Shambrook of Coles Valley was shaking hands with Calapooia friends last week.

Early sown grain is getting a yellowish color which is no doubt caused by the cold damp weather.

The social dance at Horace Deardorf's on the eve of the 24th was a very pleasant affair. The Tyee string band furnished the music.

John Richards, F. W. Bishop and Mert Ferber have leased Hon. James Richards' stock ranch on the South Umpqua, also about sixty head of cows and calves and left on the 20th inst. to take possession of the same.

In the Review of April 16th, "O. K." from Calapooia says: "It is a matter of vital importance to either wipe out A. P. Aism, or move out of the country." Such screeching reminds us of a class of persons whose eruption of wind always follow the eating of beans by another class of fellows, who always furnish the music for the piping of those who dance for their amusement. Thanks. This imitative class of correspondents is growing less every day as the search light is turned on their narrow vision. V.

Don't fail to attend the grand May day ball given by Roseburg Lodge, No. 326, B. P. O. Elks.

Friday evening at the Mt. Scott school house there will be organized a republicanism club. Everybody invited to be present.

James and Arthur Hutchinson, and Bud Moore started with a mining outfit last Saturday morning, on a prospecting tour to the Rogue river mountains southwest of this city, and will be gone several weeks. It is hoped that they will "strike it rich."

Hon. J. J. Daley of Dallas is in the city today. He came up from Eugene Sunday to make Roseburg a visit and note its improvements since his last visit three years ago. Mr. Daley thinks Roseburg has taken a long step forward in its business relations.

Walter Swartzlander, whom Roseburgers will remember as long a citizen of this city, made his old acquaintances a visit Saturday and Sunday. He left on the local this morning on his return to Tipton, Iowa. Mr. Swartzlander came to take back to Iowa his aged father, now at Corvallis, who is too feeble to take the journey alone.

Mr. T. F. Anderson of Deer Creek made a pleasant business call at this office today. Mr. Anderson anticipates making a visit to his old home in Missouri in the near future. Referring to politics he said: "The republican party is good enough for me. Changes to democracy do not seem to improve matters and it is feared a change to populism would be no better."

The Pulpit.

Rev. G. W. Black preached a very forcible and eloquent sermon Sunday evening from Ephesians, v: 11. Mr. Black pointed out the moral necessity of being true to our conviction of duty in every department of life, religious or political. Every great man who has blessed the world was a hero and had to contend against strong opposition, often persecuted. Many have been martyred for their adherence to truth. Here Mr. Black named several noted persons in history, viz: Galileo, Bruno, Harvey, Jenner and others. Mr. Black admired a man who had an opinion and the courage to declare it. He dispised a moral coward. No one, he said, admired a two-sided man. He thinks Rev. Mr. Parkhurst of New York is one of the greatest men of the age, because he is bold and outspoken—a hero in the cause of right. Referring to the political world he spoke eloquently of the heroes of this county in its dark and trying hours. They faced death for the cause of human rights. He paid a glowing tribute to the stars and stripes and the principles of government which they symbolize.

Mr. Black is a ready and fluent speaker, and when not wrought up to his highest tension and rapid utterances, his enunciation is very good. Withall he is very zealous, earnest and evidently a sincere expounder of the truth as he understands it. His sermon was, what might be called an excellent one, replete with many grand thoughts.
