The republicans and democrats in congress, both in the interest of Roths childs of England, have been frightening the people with threats of this, that and the other calamity; by throwing false issues in their faces to whip them into the support of men for congress who are 50 years behind the times for progress and 50 years ahead in rascality.

But, he said, we populists are not t be scared. We will continue the fight and keep in the middle of the road. "Eternal vigilance is the price of safety" and we populists will fight to the finish. The old parties ask the people to stand by them but we will stand alone. The strength of a chain, he said, is measured by its weakest link; so the strength of a government is measured by its weakest policy. If we do not legislate to strengthen the people's interest, the policy must finally be broken. It started out as Protestant and Democratic, but it found Protestant preachers andvocating A. P. A.ism. If it had found Bob Ingersoll or some of his faith, the Review could have called them blasted infidels, and it would have been under no obligation to defend them. But other Protestant preachers joined the A. P. first, and this meant insult to the democratic voters. The choice is ism and Catholicism and Democracy. So the Review crowd says, let us call them religious fanatics. The old time Democratic doctrine of free trade and free paupers from Europe and more bonds is getting old and stale, and the people won't eat that any more. Let us therefore settle down to Patrick Murphy, and Democracy straight, and free whiskey at the distillery. In this latter enterprise the Review people are unconsciously stealing their own water-melons. for it is morally certain the democrats cannot elect a single candidate without the aid of A. P. A. votes. Nevertheless Report of Comstock school, district they met at the Land Office, and after taking a glass of ice-water they thusly: Oh bring our psalm-book round For Shambrook must be downed. We'll whoop him from the ring. Our Country, tis of thee, Sweet land of B N A G.

> Of thee we sing. We'll fight the A. P. A. And all obstructions in the way, For we are bound to win, And when the way is clear And there's nothing more to fear We'll have Ben-jam-in.

NOT AN A. P. A. The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

FROM AN OLD REPUBLICAN.

Drain, May 18, 1896. EDITOR PLAINDEALER: It seems to be in every respect, as we believe that to be the fad for some people to get rattled strictly populistic. Would also say this campaign. I see our old reliable that I have never belonged to any secret friend, John Wise, has taken a tumble Sam Morgan of Canyonville is in the organization, other than the Farmers and has gone with outstretched arms to the sympathetic friend of the republican party, and has laid his fevered head on Charley's cooling and sympathetic breast, and all that is necessary is for Charles to lay his cooling and healing name, though of no kin except through hand on Johnny's head. You know.

A. order to might be mistaken in his views and nominate a ticket that the Review could of his literary talent in showing the good qualities of their estimable candidates. And as for our poor little, weak-kneed Johnny, I would rather the A. P. A. or any other P. would pull the wool over my eyes than that big hypocritical, symbrings reports of the frightful results of pathetical bow-wow of an A. P. A. exthe cyclone on the Pawnee reservation, terminator and great republican party
