LEGISLATIVE IMPORTANCE.

We call the attention of our readers to the fact that the legislature elected June 1st, will, under the present constitution, be required to elect a United States senator, and it is very important that a republican senator be sent to Washington. This is made specially so now that the policy of the democratic party has got the government financially embarrassed—going into debt deeper and deeper every day. So in view of these facts it is the duty of every voter, irrespective of party, but especially so for republicans, to elect men to the legislature who will work and vote for some such man as J. H. Mitchell who is for revenue by import duties that will pay government expenses, protect American labor, American interests, and is doing all he can to give the people the privilege to elect by popular vote the senators to the United States senate and remove this incubus of electing them by proxy in a state legislature. We trust the republicans will lay all minor differences aside and stand firm for our legislative candidates. Vote for A. W. Reed for state senator and A. M. Crawford, J. T. Bridges and Geo. W. Riddle for representatives to legislature. It is now your highest and most imperative duty.

Here is what our neighbor, the Cottage Grove Leader, has to say of our next state senator: "Hon. A. W. Reed, republican candidate for state senator in Douglas county is one of the best men in all that county. Mr. Reed is genial, honest and a gentleman in every particular. Starting at the foot of the ladder, he has by industry and strict integrity to business accomplished phenomenal success in life. He is so closely allied with the interests of Douglas county that he will take special care of the interests of the people of the county. A senator of his ability and well known integrity will be of immense advantage to the state at large."

In a conversation with Mr. Z. L. Dimmick at Oakland, last Sunday, we called his attention to a report in circulation in Roseburg soon after the republican county convention, to the effect that he had bolted the ticket and was canvassing the county in company with R. L. Stephens, democratic nominee for county clerk, in opposition to the republican ticket. Mr. Dimmick assures us that such is not the case, but that he is loyal to republican principles as ever, and that he is not trying to defeat the ticket, as has been reported.

We can no better express our opinion of Hon. W. E. Yates than by giving place to the following notice from the Cottage Grove Leader: "Mr. W. E. Yates was with us again last Thursday and as before, appeared the same straightforward man his people in Benton county, of all political parties, represent him to be. There does not seem to be any double dealing on his part for votes. He is not trying to ride into a political harbor on two boats. Success to such a man."

"A republican" (God save the mark), in the Review says, "does not lie," Benjamin, know that he "who sows to the wind must reap the whirlwind," Aye, indeed he does, and he knows that "republican" and his democratic paper are sowing to the wind, and we anticipate the harvest.

The Plaindealer yields the cake to the Review as a black-gard without entering the list for a prize.

VOTE STRAIGHT AND VOTE RIGHT

Of course to vote right, is to vote the republican ticket. Why scratch your ticket? Let our opponents do this to them, if they so elect, but ours is made from well selected material, and needs no trimming. In answer, one will say, on the great national issues I am all right; but it makes no difference in local affairs if I do pick from any of the tickets, the answer is: Your straight vote has its weight, especially in this presidential year, and in a state that is one of the first to sound the note of a republican jubilee; "the harbinger of victory."

Some one else cannot support this or that man. Let not any small personal matter come between you and the good of your party, or warp your judgment. Likely there is no better on the other tickets. It is impossible to make a ticket to suit every one. Often there are reasons that do not appear on the surface, why certain men are not available. Remember the ticket was made up by delegates chosen from the different precincts by the members of the party, and it is but fair to presume they did their best to make a good and acceptable ticket. Don't bolt this time, but if you are not satisfied with the names presented; be on hand at your next primaries, and exert your influence to select men that aim to make such a ticket as you desire. Perhaps to get there yourself. All the virtue in the county was not exhausted, it is true, in the makeup of all the tickets, but we believe a fair representative from different parts of the county were nominated on the republican side, good men and true, many of them tried public servants; all selected for their adaptation for the places for which they are named. So that there is no necessity in crossing the line when making a choice, but firmly stay with your party. See that your ticket is republican, drop your pencil, and deposit your vote like a progressive American citizen, and you will share with satisfaction in the general rejoicing that will follow a clean sweep victory.

THAT CALF STORY.

EDITOR PLAINDEALER: I see that John Long of Coles Valley takes exception to a letter of mine published in the PLAINDEALER in which I took occasion to criticize the dirty fight being made on Dave Shambrook by the Review. Now I hardly think that this letter of my friend Long is worthy of much notice as he soon uncovers the fact that he has, or thinks he has, some personal grievance against Shambrook growing out of his (Long's) connection with a certain call transaction which has interested the people of Coles Valley during recent years. By the way, John, the Tooley calf is not the only calf you have been in trouble over, is it? Isn't it a fact John, that the people of Coles Valley charge you with being a kind of a call kelpomania. You say that Shambrook tried to send you to jail on this charge. Perhaps he was of the same opinion the grand jury was on that question. You know, John, that his home is in Coles Valley and that he is interested somewhat in the cattle business in this valley. So if you had been a poor man and without "scads" of money you might have been convicted, might you not John? But your money saved you, did it? But you could not get action on Dave Shambrook with all your money, could you, John? You had to stand trial just the same as if you had been a poor man. I guess you are correct, John, when you say that it was your money that saved you.

Did it ever occur to you, John, that perhaps the cattle men of this county might want just that kind of a man for sheriff. A man whom money can't buy and who would go after a rich man charged with stealing cattle just as hard as he would after a poor man charged with that offense.

Public Speaking.

Robert Winniford was in town Thursday purchasing various articles of our merchants. When ready to start home his wagon was well loaded with a fine cook stove and his furnishings, chairs, spring bed, brooms, etc. May success attend you, Robert.

F. A. McCall, nominee for clerk on the peoples party ticket, and Robert McLaughlin, nominee for sheriff, in company with other prominent men of their party, were here Saturday looking after their interests. Mortimer Whitehead, a prominent populist speaker from the East, delivered an address at Young's hall in the afternoon.

DRAIN.

Hon. A. M. Crawford and G. W. Riddle, republicans, J. W. Hamilton, democrat, and J. E. Adcox, populist, held a joint debate here Wednesday before a crowded house. The meeting resulted in great good for the republican ticket.

Messrs. Gazley, McCall and McLaughlin, prominent populist candidates, spent Sunday in town, looking after their political interests.

Miss R. L. Smith of Salem organized a hive of Loyal Maccabees here Saturday. The following officers were elected and installed: Lady Commander, Mrs. C. E. Jones; Lt. Commander, Dora McCallister; Post Commander, Mrs. M. Holyfield; Lady Sergeant, Diana Taylor; Mistress at Arms, Emma Holyfield; Chaplain, Mrs. E. Rhodes; Sentinel, Mrs. J. J. Hedden; Ticker, Mrs. L. N. Whipple; R. K., Lia Miller; F. K., May Applegate.

One week more and then the agony will over. I am not a prophet, but I have a prophecy just the same. Here it is: The populists will poll about 1000 votes, the democrats 1125 and the republicans 1475. See if we are not about right. REPORTER.

GLENDALE.

Today has been warm and pleasant. It is the first really spring like day of the season.

Politics are the all-engaging topic of conversation at present, and the outlook for the republican candidates is growing brighter every day. In Douglas county republicans are united and are on the alert for the evident attempt being made by the opposition to divide our party, and by that means give them a victory which they are sure they will fail to gain, unless they secure it in that way.

Every day some new scheme to entrap unwary voters is unearthed, but the sweeping victory we will attain June 1st will show how futile is such misleading work.

Rev. Edward Goraline and family of Drain have arrived at Glendale and will spend the summer here.

The Glendale base ball club played a match game at Wolf Creek today with the Wolf Creek nine, in which our boys were beaten.

C. S. Jackson, one of the populist candidates for representative, will speak here this evening. Mr. Jackson is an intelligent gentleman, whose only fault is that he is on the wrong ticket.

Miss Nettie Redfield of Boskydell was at Glendale visiting friends today. MOLLIE.

CANYONVILLE.

Vote the straight republican ticket the hottest fight next Monday will be over the county sheriff. Vote for D. R. Shambrook. Don't throw away your ballot on side-shows.

It is reported on the streets of Canyonville last Saturday, that B. C. Agee, the democrat nominee for sheriff, had gone up to Elk creek to look for some horse thieves that escaped from the Roseburg jail, while he was sheriff of this county.

Mr. James S. Benson, a popular young druggist of this place was married last Sunday to Miss Orpah Wynne, one of Cottage Grove's estimable young ladies.

The republicans will have a grand ratification meeting in Parsley's hall, on Saturday night, May 29. Come out all ye democrats and populists and listen to facts. Geo. M. Brown and Hon. C. A. Schilde of Roseburg will address the citizens.

It may be a matter of principle sometimes to vote for a man who cannot be elected, but that is usually when all of the political parties have put up candidates who cannot be trusted. That is not the case however, with regard to the office of sheriff. Mr. D. R. Shambrook is well and favorably known all over the county and thoroughly qualified to fill the office creditably, if elected. But he may be defeated if to many votes are diverted to R. C. Agee and R. L. McLaughlin thereby placed in the lead. B. C. Agee, himself cannot come within cannon range of election. The only effect of voting for him is to help McLaughlin. Every voter who thinks of casting a ballot for Agee should stop and ask himself the question, "Do I want to elect McLaughlin?" If he does not so desire he should vote for Shambrook.

HARDWARE SHOP TALK.

The Salesmen Recount Their Amusing Experiences With Various Customers. One morning, when by mistake we had arrived at the store ten minutes before the arrival of the boss with the keys, the men were amusing themselves relating their experience with various customers.

"Why is it," asked the Tool Man, "that so many people get 'twisted' with corkscrews and screwdrivers?" "Nature of the tool," suggested the Cutlery Man.

"Whatever the reason," continued the Tool Man, "I have observed the almost universal confusion of a screwdriver and corkscrew. It is an everyday occurrence with 'hubbs' as well as men, only I lay aside for a corkscrew and a man for a screwdriver and then look at you so surprised."

"Or when they want a 'lid lifter,'" said the Store Man, "mine people out of ten look for a 'stove lifter.'" "Did you ever notice," remarked the Cutlery Man, "how a man or a woman exposes themselves when at a loss for a name?"

"What's in a name anyway?" interrupted the Tool Man. "The woman who asked for 'beard' tacks got what she wanted as quickly as though she had asked for 'beard' tacks. Such requests give opportunities for mental gymnastics, and thus relieve the lethargic tendency incident to continuous routine work."

Without apparently observing the interposition the Cutlery Man continued: "The other day a lady came rustling into the store. She was one of those nervous, bustling little women, and she wanted a pair of 'trawncippers.' Noticing my blank look, she said: 'You know, like this,' making a motion with her thumb and forefinger that at once suggested 'trawncippers.' When a man wants an article he can't name, he writes out a pencil, takes the back from an envelope and proceeds to give an 'idea.'"

"A lady gave me an idea," again remarked the Store Man, "on selling gas stoves. While showing them to her she asked some question to which I confessed ignorance. To my surprise she said: 'Well, you may not use this one. I asked Mr. — (naming a competitor) that question, and he told me so much I did not know what to believe, but I do believe you.'—Hardware.

Natural Gas.

An experiment of some importance is reported, made with a view to determine, if possible, the origin of natural gas. Irrespective of theories hitherto prevalent. For this purpose dried seaweed was steeped in water which had been freed from air, and on the third day gas appeared, continuing to be evolved in diminishing quantity until the tenth day, when some 803 cubic centimeters had been collected. The evolution had evidently ceased, though after standing two years and a half 30 cubic centimeters more of gas collected in the apparatus. The gas differed from the first, consisting, it is reported, almost entirely of methane—the chief constituent of natural gas—from which it is inferred that this slow secondary decomposition of vegetable matter has some relation to the origin of natural gas.—New York Sun.

He Will Be an Innocent Thing.

The sun beat hotly upon the parched earth. "Oh, I see," he exclaimed joyously. "That woman who throws the ball is trying to hit the woman with the hat. Oh, dear, why doesn't she run the other way? Are those women out yonder the bases? How stupid in me! You told me that before, didn't you? Is one side going out without a run? Isn't that lovely, after the other side had to run so much?"

This pretty young man with the blue veil prattled on and on, seemingly oblivious that the tall lady in the checkered suit sat silent and preoccupied beside him.—Detroit Tribune.

New York's Reputation.

Mr. Godham—So, I remember have a particle of fear on the ocean. Don't you know, sir, that one is safer on a transatlantic liner than on a city street?

Mr. Lakeside (of Chicago)—Humph! Well, to tell the truth, I believe if I had to choose between a ocean steamer and a New York street, I'd do as you do—take the steamer.—New York Weekly.

Women's Endurance.

While men may note strength, women have more endurance and a greater capacity for protracted and monotonous labor. In those countries where women work in the fields side by side with their husbands and brothers, the latter may accomplish more work, the former can labor a greater number of hours.

"Crossed" tears are alluded to by several Latin and Greek authors, it being a supposition among the ancients that the crossible, after killing a man, ate all his body but his head and shed tears over that before eating it also.
