ELECTION AFTERMATH.

The result of the election in this county last Monday furnishes food for reflection. By an analysis of the vote last Monday it is apparent that the vote was freely used by the democrats to elect the sheriff. It cannot be claimed that it was because of the candidate's ability. For the other candidates on the ticket with him, known to possess more ability than he, but whose offices are not remunerative to the bosses, were defeated. The democrats concentrated their most Herculean efforts to elect the sheriff, who ran ahead of his ticket in almost every precinct. This fact cannot be claimed on the grounds of personal popularity, for the precincts which gave him his largest vote are generally republican, and his home precinct, which has usually gone democratic, gave his opponent, Shambrook, last Monday a small majority and which two years ago gave Beckley, democratic candidate for sheriff, nine majority, while Mr. Martin (Pop) got 53 votes, within 3 votes of a majority over both democratic and republican, while McLaughlin (Pop) this year got only 24 votes. Here is a falling off of the populist vote more than half. Where did those populists go? To Age in his own home? Not much. So on the grounds of popularity the claim is without force, and there is no right left but the most logical one, viz: That money accomplished the business, verifying the reported rife upon the streets before election that one of the bosses was heard to say "I will give $3000 to elect Age."

THE OUTLOOK FOR PROTECTION.

The McKinley movement means that the American people are determined to have complete restoration of the policy of Protection for home industry. This is the whole of it. Mr. McKinley is an able, pure, and in every way estimable gentleman. But had less ability, and was his personality less engaging, the situation would not be different. An overwhelming majority of the voters would accept him as their candidate, and elect him to the office upon a platform containing nothing else than a declaration for high Protection. Of course many men in the party would not be satisfied with this, and are indeed much dissatisfied as things are; but there can be no mistake respecting the temper of the multitude. The people are resolved, first of all, to strike down the men and the system that are responsible for the wreck of their industries. Every attempt to divert them from this purpose has failed and will fail. Not only will Mr. McKinley be nominated, but he will be elected probably by the largest popular majority ever given for a Presidential candidate. One of the cheering things about this prospect is the promise that the results of a Protectionist victory in November are likely to be more or less permanent. The last high Tariff came at the end of a period of prolonged prosperity under unbroken Protection. The people did not know what Free Trade or low duties meant. They have learned in the past two years in the school of suffering. Now they want another high Tariff, and when they get it, the indications are that they will stand by it and hold fast to it. The outlook for the Free-Trade propaganda in the United States for the next ten years is made particularly dismal by the wonderful impetus of the McKinley boom.

The populists on the state ticket appear to be on top. Vandenberg of Coos county is elected to congress from the first district, and Quinn of Multnomah from the second; and Penneyer is mayor-elect of Portland and great is the rejoicing of the pops. They have rode into position on the tidal wave of discontent and warring factions of the republican and democratic party leaders. It may, but not likely, teach them a salutary lesson.

The Canadian farmer must be looking forward with satisfaction to the harvesting of his next hay crop. During the McKinley Tariff period our imports of foreign hay averaged only 50,000 tons a year, but in nine months of the current fiscal year we imported no less than 246,814 tons, practically all of which came from Canada.

The senate bond bill has passed the senate prohibiting the issuing of bonds. The vote was 32 for and 25 against it. The bill is as follows: "Be it enacted, that the issuance of interest-bearing bonds of the United States for any purpose whatever, without further authority of congress, is hereby prohibited."

An arrangement of this kind might suit the democratic brethren this year. For President—Young Mr. Russell of Massachusetts. For Vice-President—Young Mr. Eckels of Illinois. Declaratory of principles—Anything to beat McKinley.

The story that comes from Fieber's Corners, O., of seven children born to Mrs. Charles Constock, a few days ago, is apparently well authenticated, but the limit of public credulity has been reached, and the fire will be sharply drawn at octuplets.

INDUSTRIES THAT PROSPER.

There are two industries in the United States that are now prospering, namely, the manufacture of sewing machines and of paper bags. While this is satisfactory to those whose capital is employed therein, and to those who are thereby enabled to secure work, it is doubtful whether it will be appreciated by the majority of the country. One of the largest manufacturers of sewing machines in the United States has informed us that his works were never so busy as they have been for some months past. He has received large orders for sewing machines which are to be used in the manufacture of wearing apparel and other goods that have formerly been made by hand. But the influx of cheap foreign goods has compelled these manufacturers to use sewing machines rather than hand labor in order to meet the competition. The result, of course, will be more idle labor, due, directly, to the abolition of our protective tariff.

In the other case, the manufacture of paper bags, the demand is reported to be as being simply unprecedented. Naturally this would suggest a much larger volume of retail transactions. So it does, but only in smaller lines and smaller quantities. The demand now is for the smallest sized bags that are made, and the manufacturer ascertained the reason for this. It appears that the masses of wage earners and the poorer classes of our communities are buying smaller quantities of the necessities of life than they used to do. Instead of five pounds of sugar being purchased at a time, the order is given for only one pound. Instead of selling a pound of tea the retailer sells only a quarter of a pound package. The democratic "protection" has enforced the most rigid economy among buyers and every dollar earned has to be husbanded to the utmost.—American Economist.

Our Next Congressman.

It is almost certain that W. S. Vandenberg is elected to succeed Binger Hermann in the next congress. While the republicans of this county were much enaged over Mr. Hermann's defeat for renomination they stood up manfully and gave Mr. Tongue their support at the polls whether sound money or free silver coinage men. They laid all minor questions aside and voted for Mr. Tongue almost to a man in Douglas county. Mr. Hermann's home, it being sufficient for them to know that Mr. Tongue was a republican and a Protectionist. The money question cut no figure in the matter. From what news we can get, at this writing, Douglas county is the only county in the first district that has given him a respectable majority. This they have done largely out of their great respect for Mr. Hermann. They did not want it said that they knifed Tongue because of Mr. Hermann's failure to be nominated at Albany.

The latest dispatches are to the effect that Vandenberg is elected by from 200 to 300 majority, and also Quinn of the second district, by a small majority, both populists. This is the result of the Oregonian's forcing Northrup to run independent for sound money. The old adage: "you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink," will apply in this case. The Oregonian could lead out his nag, Northrup, but it could not make the voters take him into volens.

Only think of the gal of it! The twice-a-week stamping machine, in connection on the election claims it as a great anti-A. P. A. victory, but adds: "Not all the anti-A. P. A. ticket was elected." Well, we should say not. Only two out of the twelve offices, and one of those secured by bribery and unparalleled corrupt practices. They should indeed feel proud of the so-called victory.

A kid Tuesday evening looked over his papa's shoulder as he read the Review extra. After looking on for a few minutes he cried out, "papa, papa!" "What souney," asked the fond father. "Why, how little the Review has got since the election." "Ah, you young rascal, it has only come out of the little end of the horn."

The bull-headedness of the delegates to the district convention and their disregard of the known wish of the people has cost the republicans of Oregon a congressman. They will have more sense next time. This thing of forcing one's self upon the people won't always work.

There are rumors that Cleveland will drop a bombshell message on the Cuban question just in time for the report to make a noise in the Chicago convention, and then an effort will be made to carry the administration programme through before the smoke clears away.

The editor of the Chicago Tribune evidently had his eye on Oregon when he wrote: "The air appears to be full of politicians engaged in the invigorating exercise of flopping."

The outlook of the political complexion of the state is that the free silverites will carry the state, and force so far as they can the free silver question to the front.

The next legislature on joint ballot will stand about 56 Rep., 12 Pop., 6 Dem., 3 bi-metal and 3 Mitchell men. The Review had its rooster out early Tuesday morning, but it soon crowded itself sick and was taken in to be doctored.

POLITICAL MANIPULATIONS.

Owing to the kaleidoscopic changes in political manipulations by the scheming politicians, Oregon has now dropped into the category of free-silver states. The Oregonian with a jealous eye upon Mitchell sought to down him by indirection in his fight upon Hermann. To accomplish this end, it has circitiously fomented into activity the office hunting bee of several "favorite sons," and thus a half dozen third-rate aspiring politicians, by the Oregonian's flattering their vanity, induced them to make a bold push for Hermann's place. Thus incited and emboldened by cajolery, on one hand, and sphystry on the other, a quartet of these politicians formed a combination to defeat Hermann, and then gambled for the spoils amongst themselves afterward. In this scheme the Oregonian has succeeded that far, turned Hermann down and forced one of the combine upon the people against their wishes. But the Oregonian had reckoned without his host. Evidently, it believed that the rank and file of the people would take the medicine prescribed however bitter it might be, without making anything more than a wry face. The results of Monday's election has shown that the people have got their eyes open to the true situation of affairs, and will no longer tamely submit to it. They have risen in their sovereign power and repudiated this infamous scheme by the use of the only means left to them, the ballot.

A Gentle Corrective.

It is what you need when your liver becomes inactive. It's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets; they're free from the violence and the gripping that come with the ordinary mild methods are preferable. For every derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels, these tiny sugar coated pills are most effective. They go about their work in an easy and natural way, and their good effects are always in evidence. Being composed of the choicest, concentrated vegetable extracts, they cost much less than other pills found in the market, yet from forty to forty-four are put up in each seal glass vial, and sold through druggists, at the price of the cheaper mass pills. Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headaches, dizziness, constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, heart-burn, pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Put up in sealed glass vials, therefore always fresh and ready. Whether used as a dinner pill, or as a laxative, or as a purgative, they are equally acting and searching cathartic, these little "Pellets" are unequalled. As a "dinner pill" to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets."
