The PLAINDEALER has been kept in the dark with regard to this matter, except what Sutherlin's friends say in his favor or what his accusers say against him. We were excluded from the grand jury room and can say nothing except what came to the surface from that star chamber court surreptitiously. One grand jury found an indictment; that was lost, strayed or stolen, and the against Mr. Mitchell. other grand jury could not find one. The presumption of law is that a man is innocent of a crime until he is proven guilty. Sutherlin has not been proven guilty, so of course he is innocent.
