

HOW TO KILL OFF THE A. P. A.'S.

(the American tyler).
The Tyler has no member of its staff or employees in membership in this society, and would be glad to see it disbanded. So would Rev. Dr. Neander M. Woods, of the Presbyterian Church of Memphis, Tenn., and The Tyler thoroughly agrees with him when he says, when addressing a large meeting in that city:

"I want to see the order disbanded. Such is my desire. I believe it is yours. Also, I want to tell you just four things, which, if done, would kill this order in less than ninety days.

"1. Let the leaders of the Roman Catholic church in America give the plain assurance that they pledge themselves to accept in good faith the doctrine of the complete separation of church and state, and promise not to ask another dollar of public money for the support of their sectarian institutions, and to abstain from meddling in politics; everywhere their priests dabble in politics, and the mission of Mgr. Satolli to this country was as clearly political as that of any lobbyist that ever went to Washington to put through a bill. Every bishop and priest is solemnly pledged under oath to the belief that church and state ought to be united; that the pope is the lord of every civil government, and that no state can pass laws that the Roman pontiff does not approve. Let the priests and prelates of the Roman church in America give such assurance, without any equivocating phrases, and this A. P. A. order would hardly care to hold another meeting.

"2. Let there be a disbanding of secret societies of the Roman Catholic church, especially those that are armed. It is stated that in Cincinnati there are not less than fifty separate and distinct armed and drilled companies of these societies, viz: Twelve divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, seven branches of the Catholic Knights of America, nineteen branches of the Catholic Knights of Ohio, and besides these there are many others.

"3. Let there be a radical change in the way the daily press of the country treats the meetings and principles of the A. P. A. Some editors regard them as a pack of half-crazy blockheads. Some are so devoted to their party that they fear any organization that may affect their party's success; but in all we see a subservience to the Roman Catholic element as strong as if Cardinal Gibbons was editor-in-chief. They devote ample space to the consecration of a bishop, though he takes the usual oath to persecute heretics unto death, and to obey the orders of the pope in preference to those of the nation; yet, when two or three thousand people, law-abiding taxpayers and citizens, gather under the auspices of the A. P. A., you will not find a word in our papers.

"4. Let good-natured Protestants cease saying that the Pope of Rome is only a very ancient and harmless scarecrow, and that all this excitement about papal aggression in America is sheer nonsense. They assure us that this is a Protestant country; that no Roman Catholic ever was president, and that Roman Catholics are in a hopeless minority except in a few sections. There are 70,000,000 people of all ages in this Republic, of whom 10,000,000 are avowed Roman Catholics. Then there are 15,000,000 belonging to the vicious and illiterate class, who could easily be used by any corrupt power. Of the remaining 45,000,000 not 25,000,000 can be regarded as Protestant except in name. Many know nothing of the history of popery or the trickery of Rome and of Romish intermeddling with our American institutions. Many for the sake of custom, many for the sake of temporary popularity, and very many for the sake of office, will never be found opposing the encroachments of Rome. In some of our great cities today 75 per cent of the money paid in salaries goes into Roman Catholic pockets, and in many of these cities millions of dollars in public property have been given to Roman Catholic hospitals, churches, schools and monasteries, as the price of votes and political scheming. Hence we claim that one-third of the population can be called Protestant. From 1500 to 1850 the Romish church has increased twice as fast as the Protestant churches. The immigration to this country for ten years, ending in 1890, was 5,250,000, and at least two-thirds were Romanists, many of them ignorant. Let this thing go on for twenty-five years longer, and you will see this country in the same condition, as far as the rights of Protestants are concerned, as Roman Catholic Spain and Austria and South American republics are concerned. Remedy the above evils, and there will be no work for the A. P. A."

Every Masonic body in the United States ought to know, and cause it to be understood by their members, that the sanguinary Captain-General of Cuba has ordered all Masonic Lodges closed under severe penalty. We presume he is acting from instructions from the Roman Pope, and nothing would please the old man better than another "auto da fe," with Masons burned at the stake as of old. As the leader of the Cuban patriots is a 33 degree Mason we ought all to at least pray for the speedy recognition of the republic and the downfall of misrule, bigotry and superstition in that unhappy island.—Kansas Freeman.
