How many people in these parts are interested about what that Protective Tariff League is doing? Our people are studying the monetary question. They know the tariff has been settled for good and forever. They want to know whether this government is going to coin enough money for them to transact business with, or whether they are going to be sold into slavery. The old tariff issue is a thing of history and our friend must quote from some other source.-Star.

Only those blatant demagogues who have made so miserable a failure of their manipulation of the tariff laws of the nation are uninterested in the work of The Protective Tariff League, for that League is working along the only line which will save the United States from annihilation. It is true that our people are studying the monetary question of which are democratic friends are endeavoring to make a scarecrow to frighten people away from the only real issue, protection, which just at present is far more important than ever before, and the more they study it the more they see into the fatuitous fallacy of popocratic free silver and free trade logic .- Charleston, Ill., Scimitar.

Why Germany Has Protection. The adoption of the policy of protection in the German Empire may be fairly ascribed to the study of its successful operations in the United States, which was given the subject by Prince Bismarck. It was on May 14, 1882, that Bismarck, in one of his able speeches before the German Reichstag, said :

"The success of the United States in material development is the most illustrions of modern time. The American nation has not only successfully borne and suppressed the most gigantic and expensive war of all history, but immediately afterward disbanded its army, I make the following lib- 10 found employment for all its soldiers and eral offer: Call and I will 10 marines, paid off most of its debt, gave labor and homes to all the unemployed of Europe as fast as they could arrive like the one printed opwithin its territory, and still by a system of taxation so indirect as not to be per- card is used up you may 5 ceived, much less felt. Because it is my deliberate judgment that the prosperity of America is mainly due to its system of protective laws I urge that Germany has now reached that point where it is necessary to imitate the tariff system of the United States."

Sound Sense About Sound Money. No matter how sound our money may be, it will not conduce to our prosperity so long as its principal mission is to pay the foreign manufacturer for goods that ought to have been manufactured in our own country; so long as the chief avenue of its expenditure points away from instead of toward home. Four years ago our money was not only sound, but it was also active. It paid to American workingmen the highest average wage they had ever received; it kept our industries busy turning out the largest production they had ever known; it moved the wheels of commerce in all directions, caused the largest known consumption of the products of our farms and, in short, brought to every legitimate interest in the United States a degree of prosperity without previous parallel. This it did because it was backed by systematic and uniform protection. We need to get back to those favorable conditions. We shall not be prosperous until we do.-The Scranton, Pa., "Tribane," July 29, 1896.

That "Wider Market."

The imports of woolen goods for the second fiscal year under the Wilson law ending June 30th, '96, were 46 per cent larger than those of the last calendar year, and the latter were 242 per cent larger than the imports for the last year of the McKinley law. The increase alone in the imports of foreign woolens since the repeal of the McKinley law represents a quantity of woolen goods which, if made in America of American wool, would have absorbed more wool than is now annually raised in the United States. This is the way the tariff has worked which the Hon, Wm. J. Bryan supported, "in order that our manufacturers might manufacture for a wider market." Under it they have not only had no wider market, but have been deprived of our home market, thereby destroying the only customer that the American wool grower ever had,
