We have been favored with another shower and grass for winter is now assured. Stock-growers are feeling easy and unless we shall have an unprecedented hard winter stock will thrive from now on. The anti-A. P. A.'s are holding secret meetings, concocting a scheme to elect their man for marshal and to fill the five vacancies on the council. These gentlemen are opposed to secret organizations—in a horn. The latest discovery in the animal kingdom, and one that attracts the attention of the naturalists, is a two tailed ass. It has the head of a democratic candidate with two caudal appendages labeled Sewell and Watson. Miss Iula Bradley returned on last evening's local and resumed her duties in the school room this morning. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lackey, of Hale, who will attend conference during the coming week. Appelhoff, teacher of vocal and instrumental music, wishes to announce to her pupils and the public that after October 1st she will take a limited number of pupils at the residence of W. A. Wesco, representing the Pacific Northwest Board of Immigration, is at the McClallen House, and will probably make that his headquarters for a week or more. He is here to take photographic views of our fine orchards, large fruits, big beets, squashes, melons, etc., for stereopticon exhibition in the eastern states.

LOOKING GLASS VALLEY.

Last week I took a trip to this beautiful little valley to view its loveliness and note its advantages. The drive over the old Coos Bay road between Roseburg and Looking Glass is at this time of the year, very fine and at many points affords several grand and magnificent views. That from the brow of the hill east of the valley is a grand one—one that impresses the beholder with awe mingled with admiration. A beautiful valley about three miles square cut up into fine farms and dotted with comfortable dwellings surrounded with shrubbery and other adjuncts of peaceful happy homes was before us. The harvest was passed and the summer was ended, and their crops had been saved. Though the harvest was not the most bountiful this year on account of an unprecedented drought, there is enough for home consumption and some to spare. The village of the same name of the valley is finely situated on a rise of ground gently sloping in all directions furnishing natural drainage and as a result the streets are dry, even in wet weather. The population of the village is small. The public buildings are, a fine public school house, an Odd Fellows hall, a store, for general merchandise, in which is the post office, having a daily mail from Roseburg, three times a week from Oakland and Ten Mile and twice from Reston, at the foot of the Coast range on the west. James Goodman is the Nasby who presides over this institution, a very genial gentleman who knows how to run a post office without talking politics. James evidently knows which side of his bread is buttered, and has an eye to business. A hotel kept by Mr. Ira B. Howard where man and beast are cared for at a reasonable compensation and a blacksmith shop to accommodate that section of the country, complete the principle and indispensable adjuncts of a thriving country village. I did not have time to visit all the farms in this valley, but from the above it will be observed that the citizens of this valley are well to do farmers. Geo. Marsh has a magnificent prune orchard of 140 acres. This orchard is too young for bearing, but it is in excellent condition and the trees are very thrifty. I noticed that this year's growth is fine, the branches showing a growth of about six feet. It will not come into full bearing till, probably, three years hence. Mr. Marsh is at present in the East, at St. Paul, Minnesota, I was told, so I failed to have an interview with him to learn more particularly the status of this fine orchard, but I judge there are at least 100 trees to the acre. That would make 14,000 trees in this orchard. The raising of poultry in this valley has engaged the attention of the farmers and quite a trade in poultry is maintained. I was told a Mr. Cannon contemplates engaging in a henery and that he purposes to put 15,000 fryers on the market next summer by artificial incubation. Mr. Cannon is an experienced poultry man and will doubtless make a success in this line. There are quite a number of others in this valley who have large young prune orchards on the way as well as other varieties of fruit for which the lands in this valley seem to be well adapted. W. F. OAKLAND.

Miss Minnie Shupe of Roseburg is here visiting friends. L. D. Carl came over from Roseburg Saturday. Miss Mary Medley returned home Friday from Umpqua Ferry, where she has been visiting friends. Miss Lizzie Cooper went to Elkton last week to visit friends. H. Parry of Roseburg was in town recently, soliciting orders for gents' clothing. Miss Dora Page and Maria Marcellus went to Albany last week to attend school. Messrs. Jeff. and Bailey Singleton of Roseburg were in town Saturday. Harry Diminick of Marshfield, Coos county, stopped in town a few days last week on his way to Corvallis to attend the Agricultural College at that place. Mrs. G. T. Russell and daughter, Maude, went to Corvallis last Wednesday, where Mrs. R. will place Miss Maude in the Agricultural College. May success crown her efforts. Wm. Sawyer of Scottsburg came up last week with wheat to exchange for flour at the Oakland Mills. Mrs. James Batty and her son, Willie, returned last week from the Willamette valley, where they have been visiting relatives for some time. Stearns Bros. will commence picking hops Monday of this week, and they are wanting a large number of pickers. James Dearing has on hand boots and shoes for fall trade, also rubbers for men, women and children's wear. The S. P. R. Co. had the depot repaired in several ways last week. Also Mr. Otterbeck with pile driver crew is doing repair work on trestles between here and Wilbur. Hon. Binger Hermann spoke here Saturday to quite a large audience on the political issues of the day. Mr. Hermann handles the subject intelligently and showed that our markets were better under a strong protection system than any other. Rev. Shangle and Prof. McGhee with their families returned recently from Dallas where they attended the conference of the M. E. Church, South. They report an excellent meeting and large attendance. Rev. Shangle will have charge of the northern part of the state as presiding elder and Rev. Reagon will take Mr. Shangle's place in the southern part of the state. Rev. A. Marcellus was called to Green valley last Wednesday to perform the marriage ceremony of L. E. Thompson of Coles valley and Miss Eva R. Zachary of Green valley. The service took place at the residence of the bride's mother. May success and happiness attend them. Mrs. A. J. Manning, one of Oregon's old settlers, passed to higher life last Thursday morning from droopy of the heart. The burial took place at the Citizens' cemetery Friday. Rev. Leonard held services at the Baptist church, at which there was a large attendance. Miss America I. Young, who has been failing in health for some time passed to higher life Friday afternoon and was buried Sunday in the Citizens' cemetery. Rev. Marcellus held services at the house. A large concourse of people followed the remains to the grave. A fire occurred about one and one-half miles out of town Friday evening, destroying the residence of E. F. Schalling. Mr. S. and oldest son were away from home and Mrs. S. and the younger children were the only ones there. They retired about eight o'clock. Mrs. S. sent one of the children with a garment to hang over a chair by the kitchen stove to dry and it is supposed it was left too close and took fire. Mrs. S. awoke about 9:30 p. m. and the rooms were full of smoke. She hurried the children out and saved only a very few things, the remainder being beyond saving. Mr. Howard and son were the first there and kept the fire from spreading. Many others came but too late to lend assistance. The building has some insurance in one of the leading companies, which will no doubt be a good thing for the family. TRIBEY.

Umpqua Ferry.

Hop picking will be over here Saturday for this season. P. B. Beckley, C. H. Medley, Harry Pinkston and Phil Beckley made this place a professional visit Monday. There will be a match ball game at Looking Glass in a few weeks. Wilbur and Coles Valley will cross bats with Looking Glass and Ollala. The boys here are beginning to practice for the game. Miss Mary Medley of Oakland was here visiting with friends at this place for the past few days. She returned home Friday. Hon. W. R. Medley and Prof. A. Mahoney of Oakland are occasionally seen smiling on the hop pickers here. Dr. W. C. Gilmore and Parson Beckley droye down from Oakland Friday with decided intentions of sporting with trout on the Emmitt rapids for a day. Quite a number of persons from Wilbur, Garden Valley, Cleveland and Oakland were visitors here Sunday. The Geo. Shambrook Hop Co., are at present busily engaged in harvesting their hop crop. They have 65 acres which they will harvest this season. The hops are exceedingly large and are free from mold and lice. Hop experts say they are of a No. 1 quality and will command the highest market price. They have three large hop houses which they are running to their fullest capacity. They have employed at present 150 persons of both sexes who are camped upon the banks of the river. The pickers pass the evenings at parties, candy pulls, walks and boating, and all seem to enjoy the few weeks of hop picking life as a pleasant camping trip. Uncle Geo. Shambrook made a canvass of the voters in the yard this week and found that among the pickers they were 48 voters, 34 of the same being for McKinley, protection and sound money, to 14 who were for Bryan and free silver. This precinct will go 2 to 1 for McKinley. Taken as a rule, the silver men of this community talk without thinking and the gold men think without talking. Two silver men will make as much racket in talking silver as a dozen gold men would, and this has led many to believe that silver men are in a majority here and they doubt that McKinley will carry this precinct. But next November the scales of doubtfulness will be taken from the eyes of these people and they will see that old Douglas county will roll up a handsome majority for the G. O. P. DAN QUINN.
