OMAHA. Nov. 4 .- While Bryan has probably carried Nebraska by a small plurality, republicans are not conceding that fact, since less than 300 of 1564 prebefore night, but Bryan is steadily gaining in most of the remote rural districts to hear from. His majorities, however, hope for prosperity under the gold show a decrease as the count progresses. It is conceded that Bryan's greatest strength is there, and it will probably overcome the 2000 plurality McKinley has in Omaha.

The feature of the contest is the enormous vote polled, probably 10 per cent the legislature, which will elect a United beavier than at any previous time. This is attributed to that element which The entire republican state ticket is has heretofore refused to participate in As a result of the generous manner in night as to the result. Holcomb, the democratic-populist gubernatorial candidate, is probably elected, as he ran ahead of Bryan in many sections. The probabilities are that the state ticket will be divided between the two parties, and will be close on all results.

The legislature, Lowever, is largely republican. In the congressional districts, while nothing is definitely known, in the second, where Mercer, is re-elected, there is little doubt that the republicans have elected four of the remaining five congressmen. Maxwell, silver-democrat, in the third, is probably elected.

The complete state vote will probably exceed 230,000. In view of the intense excitement in Nebraska it is considered remarkable that no disturbances of importance occured.
