DEMANDS OF THE HOUR.

The republican party is again to trial. It has been restored to power by the voice of the people. The PLAINneates now advises the party to move forward in reform. It further asks the party, and will insist upon it to refuse to make any appropriations at the next legislature which are not absolutely for the needs of the state government. The PLAINDEALER demands and will insist upon it that the next legislature reenact the mortgage tax law, and exempt from taxation all evidences of indebtedness which are of record and none other. and that all record evidences of credit
