Both the president and governor of Oregon have designated Thursday, November 26th as a day for Thanksgiving to the ruler of the universe for the blessings we poor mortals enjoy; and for the curses we are supposed to kick ourselves. But will the people do either? That's the question.

HOBO NUISANCE.

During the early part of last week the authorities, both city and state, were presented with a condition of apparently conflicting jurisdiction as to which should make arrests of some hoboes who had got into a quarrel among themselves down in what is called "hobo flat."

The PLAINDEALER made mention of the affair in Mondays and Thursday's paper so far as it could get from conflicting rumors any reliable information on the subject. After diligent inquiry into the matter and making due allowance for exaggeration pro and con, the case seems to be about as follows: Sunday night, or early Monday morning, November 9th, a man was found near the stock yards in an insensible condition from the effects of wounds inflicted upon him by some unknown parties. The sheriff was notified of this fact as the case was evidently a violation of the statute of Oregon and one which the city had no jurisdiction over. The sheriff took care of the wounded man, who is now being cared for by the county authorities. During the forenoon of Monday, as appears from concurrent reports, several hoboes, who had indulged quite freely in the ardent, quarreled among themselves over, as near as a PLAINDEALER reporter could learn, a distribution of some money one of them has possessed himself in gambling in one of the saloons of the city. His name has not been learned. In the fight among them, the man who afterwards did the shooting, was worsted. He then went to a second hand store and purchased a pistol and went back to the scene of the conflict with the avowed purpose of having satisfaction by shooting one or more of his assailants. When he returned he was again pitched upon, and again beaten by the same parties, and was knocked down and his pistol taken away from him, which, it is alleged, was done in the presence of the city marshal, who had been requested by the man with the pistol to protect him. Having been beaten the second time by one of the belligerent hoboes, he went to the second hand store and bought a Winchester and returned, remarking on his way that he would give the coroner a hobo for his jury to sit upon, or words to that effect. And that if the marshal would not protect him he would protect himself. Thus equipped he returned to renew the fight, threatening to clean out the whole batch. When he got near the late scene of his discomfit, he met the hobo who had beaten him before, and the fight was renewed by the fellow pitching at him head foremost as if to grapple him; whereupon the hobo with the Winchester shot at him without taking special aim, hitting him in the thigh near the groin, and brought him down.

The foregoing, without going into details, is substantially correct, as near as is ascertainable from the thousand and one stories about concerning the matter up to the shooting. After the shooting, which was clearly a violation of statutory law, and as the city has no authority to punish such offences, the arrest and punishment, if found guilty, are matters for the county officials to deal with. The question is, in such cases: Has the city officials any authority to arrest such violators of statutory law? If they have it is certain they must turn over such offenders to the county authorities for trial and punishment, as the city authority has no jurisdiction except for a violation of city ordinances. If the marshal was present when the man assaulted and beat the other, it was doubtless his duty to arrest him on the spot as a disturber of the peace, and have him tried on that charge and fined, if found guilty. The PLAINDEALER has no disposition to excuse or palliate any offense or shirking of duty by an officer whose duty it is to maintain order or the dignity of law. What ought to be done, in the opinion of the PLAINDEALER, is the abatement of this tramp nuisance if possible. If those fellows were made to work on our streets with a ball and chain attached to them on a regime of bread and water, it would doubtless cause them to give Roseburg a wider space between their visits here. These fellows are becoming intolerable nuisances and some rigorous punishment should be resorted to to remedy the evil. It is hoped our city authorities will look into this matter and devise some effective remedy.

Late reports from the lower Willamette are to the effect that the rise in the river at Oregon City was 27 feet this morning. Snow was falling then, but since it has begun to rain again and the prospects of a still further rise is certain. The amount of rainfall for this month is phenomenal, being the heaviest for November for many years, being 4 inches during 48 hours.

GAMBLING.

A few months ago one of our prominent citizens, "just for a past time" got into a game of cards in one of the saloons of this city, with professional "shufflers of the cards." He soon got rid of his cash on hand, but inspired with a desire to regain his loss with an additional inspiration by the spirit of oldry, he borrowed ten dollars from the bar for which he gave his note. But that soon went the way of his cash on hand, so he borrowed ten dollars more of the bar giving his note for the same. Then ten dollars soon disappeared also. Soon it was discovered that the last ten dollar note was not right and a new one was demanded—the last ten dollar note was crumpled up and thrown away. But the new note was duly signed and as appears without inspection of its provisions. Our prominent citizen paid the twenty dollars supposing he had liquidated the debt. But to his behold, a note was presented by one of the parties who figured in the transaction, for one thousand dollars duly signed by our prominent citizen who by the way is considered financially "well-to-do." This note he refused to pay and the matter came before his honor, Justice Hamlin, for investigation.

The justice after hearing the testimony pro and con and upon the parties making amicable settlement of the matter by giving up the one thousand dollar note to the maker, dismissed the case. Thus ends chapter one in this gambling affair.

But by provisions of the statute of Oregon, it is made the duty of the district attorney or his deputy and others officials named to bring action against any one they may know to be guilty of a violation of said statute regarding gambling. Armed with this provision of law, I. B. Riddle, deputy district attorney, made complaint against S. G. Hamlin for unlawful gaming. After a hearing in this case, the justice bound them over to the next term of court under bonds of $250 each. The parties furnished the required bonds, Finas Dillard and Tony Thompson as bondsmen. So ends chapter two. Chapter three will be given at the close of the next district court.

Catarh Means Danger.

Because unchecked it may lead directly to consumption. Catarh is caused by impure blood. This fact is fully established. Therefore, it is useless to try to cure catarh by outward applications or inhalants. The true way to cure catarh is to purify the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, cures catarh by its power to drive out all impurities from the blood. Thousands of people testify that they have been perfectly and permanently cured of catarh by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Treasurer's Notice.

Notice is hereby given to all parties holding Douglas county warrants introduced prior to June 1, 1892, to present the same at the treasurer's office in the court house for payment, as interest will cease thereon after the date of this notice. Dated this 23d day of October, 1896, at the City of Roseburg, Douglas county, Oregon. WM. A. FRATER, County Treasurer.

Six weeks ago I suffered with a very severe cold; I was almost unable to speak. My friends all advised me to consult a physician. Noticing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised in the St. Paul Volks Zeitung I procured a bottle, and after taking it a short while was entirely well. I now most heartily recommend this remedy to anyone suffering with a cold. Wm. Kuhl, 678 Selby Ave., St. Paul, Minn. For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

The Arcata to be Withdrawn.

President McNeill, of the O. R. & N., who returned yesterday from San Francisco, denied that there was any truth in the report that there had been any arrangement of freight rates between himself and the officials of the Southern Pacific covering the business between Portland and San Francisco by water. Traffic Manager B. Campbell, of the O. R. & N., when seen yesterday, said

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

First Annual Exhibit Under the Auspices of Reno Relief Corps. There was a grand display of flowers at Parrott's hall on the east side of Jackson street last Friday night, Saturday and Sunday night. The greater portion of flowers, of course, were chrysanthemums. The exhibit was very fine, presenting a very extensive show of the ox-eye daisy, a variety of the (crucos) gold, and (anthemum) a flower—a gold flower. The development of these flowers, we are told, began in China and Japan. This family of flowers are now very popular in Europe and America. The exhibit last week was a superb affair and reflected great credit upon the exhibitors.

Trains Delayed. High water 5 1/2 miles south of Creswell has washed away the road bed. Gangs of men at work repairing the track. There is no information indicating when trains can pass. There is no prospect of trains from the north before dark. Train 31, probably at 4:30 p. m. " 16, at 7 or 7:30 p. m. " 18, at 10 p. m. " 15, at 11:40 p. m.

The rains began Saturday morning and has been quite continuous and heavy till today. Indications that rains will not be able to make time for several days. The extent of the washout is yet unknown but is thought to be quite extensive.

DeMoss Family.

This famous singing family gave one of their musical entertainments at the Baptist church last Thursday evening to a very good house, numerically. The music was very fair. It covered a wide range of instruments which showed a great versatility of talent. The three tunes at once by the elder DeMoss, and playing two cornets at once by Geo. DeMoss were considered great feats, although such feats have ceased to be novel ones. They are native Oregonians and sang "Sweet Oregon" with considerable uncton and appreciation of the audience.

Douglas County Bank.

Messrs. S. C. Flint and Peter Hume have disposed of their interest in the Douglas County Bank to Messrs. O. F. Godfrey and son Frank, who will hereafter conduct the business of this popular exchange. Messrs. Flint and Hume retire from the firm with the best wishes of the public as gentlemen with whom it was a pleasure to do business. And Messrs. Godfrey will no doubt maintain the reputation of this house as a valuable adjunct to Roseburg's business interests.

Christmas Festivities.

Elaborate preparations are being made for a tree and dance by the B. P. O. Elks at Christmas and those having the matter in charge will make a success of it. The committee appointed for the purpose is as follows: Fred Page-Tustin, F. K. Coffman, Eugene Parrott, Hermann Marks, W. Jamieson, Ira B. Riddle, Mrs. Fred Page-Tustin, Mrs. C. F. Cathcart, Mrs. Charles Curry, Miss Lizzie Parrott, Mrs. C. Y. Benjamin and Miss Mettie Rapp.

Elda Wood Gets a New Trial.

Judge Fellinger yesterday rendered a decision in the matter of the notion of Elda Wood, convicted some time since of robbing the Coos bay stage, for a new trial. A new trial was granted, and was set for December 1.

that the steamer Arcata would be withdrawn from the Coos and Humboldt bay route at an early date, but that the service would be continued by his company to those lays, including additional points, at rates that would be favorable to all in interest.—Oregonian.

ROSEBURG'S OPPORTUNITY.

To Secure the Encyclopedic Dictionary. The Pacific Coast Newspaper Syndicate extends to the people of Roseburg and vicinity an opportunity to secure a limited number of sets of the great Encyclopedic Dictionary, upon the same easy terms as were recently offered in Portland and at the low introductory prices.

This offer will hold good, at most, for a few days only, as the purpose of the Syndicate at the present is confined to distributing a limited number of sets at various points in the state for the purpose of comparison with other works of reference. This distribution is rapidly approaching its end, after which it will be impossible to obtain the work except at the advanced prices.

As far as Roseburg and vicinity is concerned this is the final opportunity. The payment of $1 secures the delivery of the entire set, four massive volumes, (375 pages, 250,000 words, of which 50,000 are treated encyclopedically) at your home or office. The balance due to be paid in twelve monthly payments of $1.25 each.

You will never again have such a chance. Send your name and address at once to the Pacific Newspaper Syndicate in care of The Plaindealer and you will be supplied with sample sheets for examination, free of charge. See advertisement in another column.

Notice To Contractors.

Sealed plans and specifications and bids will be received at the office of the county clerk of Douglas county, Oregon, on or before January 14th, 1897, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the repairing of the entire bridge and approach across the South Umpqua river at Roseburg, Oregon, by replacing all timbers, floor and woodwork, extending cement piers to present length of bridge, and to widen the entire bridge four feet. All joints to be laid in white lead, and timbers above floor to be painted. All old timbers, including stringers, to be carefully taken down and piled in road on either side of river. Bridge to be completed by August 1st, 1897.

Also at the same time and in the same manner, specifications and bids will be received for making the county jail of Douglas county, Oregon, more secure in manner following: By lining the entire inner wall with No. 11 steel plate and that to be ceiled with an eight inch additional brick wall laid in cement mortar. Present plastered ceiling to be taken off and timbers covered with No. 12 plate. Old window grates to be repaired and two additional cross bars put on, and all five windows to have additional new grates put in cement laid wall and fastened to the steel lining. The court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated this 12th day of November, 1896. A. F. STEARNS, County Judge.
