With two little children subject to croup we do not rest easy without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, for the most severe attacks quickly succumb to a few doses of it—Morrison, Colo., Dec. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by A. C. Marsters & Co.

If your children are subject to croup watch for the first symptom of the disease—hoarseness. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse it will prevent the attack. Even after the croupy cough has appeared the attack can always be prevented by giving this remedy. It is also invaluable for colds and whooping cough. For sale by A. C. Marsters.

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuritis for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by A. C. Marsters & Co.

Competition never worries us, because we "buy right" hence "sell right." The facts are these; every move in our business is only made after the most careful consideration, nothing left to chance. Shoes have advanced in price but not with us. We sell you a good oil grain shoe for $1.25 and upwards, fine shoes in proportion. If you doubt us, come and see us, convince yourself that we have what we advertise. We don't care to do all the business in town, but want to get a share of it. We firmly believe that a concern that gives its customers exceptionally good values in every instance is bound to go ahead year by year. This idea prevails throughout our entire business. Every dollar worth of goods must give the wearer satisfaction, even the all wool absolutely fast color $8.00 suits. J. ABRAHAM'S Clothing House.

IN HONOR OF B. HERMANN.

Last Thursday night Lodge No. 326, R. P. O. Elks, of Roseburg gave a social session in honor of Binger Hermann, an honored member of the order, on the eve of his departure for Washington to attend the closing session of the 54th congress. A large number of prominent citizens and warm friends of this distinguished gentleman had been invited to attend and participate in the festivities of this occasion, most of whom were present. Several whose business or social arrangements prevented their attendance, sent in their excuses with their best wishes for Mr. Hermann's safe return home. The evening was passed till 11 o'clock (which is the fixed hour of adjournment) in social converse, enjoying refreshments, listening to choice music and speeches appropriate to the occasion.

The following named gentlemen made eulogistic speeches of the honored guest, in the order following: D. S. K. Bruck, S. F. Flood, J. W. Hamilton, C. A. Schibred and Thos. Gibson. Mr. Flood mentioned that his love and admiration of Mr. Hermann was so sincere and his appreciation for his society at home was so great that he had done all in his power to keep him from going to Washington. He also thought Oregonians had not so highly appreciated the distinguished brother as he had, because, by several thousand majority, they had banished him from the state to Poland—the congress of the United States—but now Brother Hermann had triumphed over his enemies and would soon return to his home a free man. But he said, it looked, judging from appearances, that they would yet send him back for at least six years more—and he would not care if they did. He is not now so much of a friend to him as to try and keep him at home any more. This it was perceived was a pleasant sort of irony which his hearers all understood, and highly appreciated as one of Mr. Flood's happy bits with a French double entendre. Honorables Hamilton and Schibred, brother attorneys, but not brother Elks, spoke eulogistically of the honored guest.

After more beer, crackers, cheese, pickles, etc., had been duly considered, an amendment to the bill was offered, and Brother Elk Hermann rose to discuss the merits of the amendment, which he did in a very feeling and forcible manner for about fifteen minutes, when the vote was taken and the amendment carried, and so declared the Exalted Ruler, Fred Page-Tustin.

The index on the dial now pointing to 11 o'clock, the health, prosperity and happiness of absent brother Elks, were toasted by a full glass of beer and then the entire audience joined in a friendly hand linked circle and sang "Auld Lang Syne," broke the charmed circle, shook hands with their honored guest with a "Godspeed you on your journey and safe return," and departed for their homes. The social session of the "Best People On Earth" was truly a feast of reason and flow of soul and will be recalled in sterner years with pleasant memories by every participant.

Mr. James Foset of Hood river, who has been here in the employ of the S. P. R. Co., had the misfortune to receive quite an injury Thursday afternoon. While working about the steam shovel a large rock rolled down the bank striking his hip and inflicting a deep flesh wound. He was taken to his room at the Depot hotel and Dr. Gilmore attended to his wounds, and that night he was sent to the hospital at Portland on the overland train. It is hoped he will recover from his injury soon.

Last Thursday at 1:30 p. m., the Presbyterian church was crowded with people to listen to the funeral services of Rev. A. Marcellus, who passed to a higher life early Wednesday morning. The services were conducted by Rev. R. B. Dilworth of Roseburg, and assisted by Rev. Wilson of Roseburg, Rev. Skidmore of Wilbur, and Rev. Conwright of this place. At the conclusion of the service, which was very appropriate indeed, the I. O. O. F. order took charge of the remains and laid them to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery, Rev. Wallace officiating in their behalf at the grave. So ends the trials and sorrows of one of our best citizens. TRUAX.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Thompson on Mill street, on the occasion of their daughter Miss Pauline's birthday, which occurred on Thanksgiving day, a large number of Miss Pauline's young lady friends gathered in by invitation to celebrate her tenth natal anniversary. These youngsters enjoyed the festivity with ineffable pleasure. Mrs. Thompson had the parlors tastefully decorated and all the preliminary arrangements complete, and right royally did these little folks fairly revel in innocent bliss. Mrs. Thompson had two young musicians, Martin and Joseph Dupplimair, furnish some charming music on their zithers, for the entertainment of Miss Pauline's young friends. The music was very fine. The names of the young misses who honored Miss Pauline by their presence were as follows: May Kelley, Jessie Flook, Ellen Flook, Edith Patterson, Ethel Lewis, Elsie Benedick, Helena Devany, Beryl Stephens, Dale Harmon, Mabel Wollenberg, Millie Heffner, Pauline Wollenberg, Edith Brown, Maude Clements, Ruth Gibson, Ethel Shape, Alice Mahn, Trevis Dyingier, Floy Houston, Alice Livingston, Audrey Davis, Hazel Brown. Master Leo DeVany and Leonard Thompson.

There were also several older ladies in attendance, viz: Mrs. R. B. Houston, Mrs. L. Beiflis, Mrs. W. Dyingier, Mrs. M. DeVaney, Mrs. W. A. Sovern, Mrs. W. B. Singleton and Mrs. C. L. Minkler. After these little folks had engaged in various plays to their hearts delight, they were seated at the table where a superabundance of those good things which delight the young folks tastes were served and another half hour was enjoyed in discussing cakes, candies, nuts, lemonade, etc. Miss Pauline and her young lady guests sang for the PLAINDEALER reporter, at his request, that beautiful and pathetic song, "When Papa Comes Home Tonight." Thanking these young misses for singing this beautiful song and a sincere wish for many recurring happy birthday anniversaries, the PLAINDEALER reporter took his leave, while joy unconfined was progressing in the happy home of Miss Pauline Thompson.

Orphans.

The county has charge of three children, Viola, aged 11; Flossie, aged 7; and Clifton, aged 2 1/2 years, respectively. The mother and stepfather, Weyer, were drowned in Smith river a few months ago by the capsizing of a row boat above Gardiner, and left them without a protector, except a father somewhere in Montana. He wants to take them but he is a worthless, good for nothing man, it is claimed, not a suitable person to have charge of so young children. These children are quite intelligent and any one wishing to adopt one or more of them, would do well to apply to the county court.

The Latest From Hinman.

It is bruited on the streets today that Bob Stephens, deputy sheriff, has returned from Medford, where he has been after Rob Hinman. He tracked him to Rogue river so close upon his heels that Hinman rolled a log into the river and essayed to cross on it. Stephens drew a bead on him with his revolver but just as the deputy was about to pull the trigger Hinman slipped off the log and went to the bottom—was drowned. We advise the Review to get that log and lay it away with that other log it has. It would be a good companion to the one it got from Coos county.
