DECEMBER 14, 1896.

The War for Freedom.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The senate got into the regular channel of business today taking up the immigration bill and partly perfecting it, and also hearing the first of the speeches on Cuba, those of Cullum and Call. The disposition to put through the immigration bill was shown by the defeat of a motion by Gilson of Maryland to postpone until after the holidays. Only 13 votes, all democrats, were given in favor of the postponement. The proposition served to involve Chandler, Lodge and Gilson in several spirited colloquies. The bill was not passed upon up to the time of adjournment, but the senate agreed to what is generally known as the Lodge bill, as a substitute to the house measure. The substitute requires that all immigrants over the age of 14 years shall be able to read and write their native language and shall be required to read and write in the presence of an United States official certain lines of the United States constitution. The Cuban speeches of Cullum and Call were listened to by crowded galleries, indicating the public interest felt in the subject. The senate adjourned over to Monday.

Pending the preparation of the next appropriation bill, the house again today devoted its time to the consideration of bills on the calendar, but only two were passed during the four-hour session. One of them was a bill which the prominent playwrights and theatrical managers of the country have been laboring for some years to induce congress to pass. The purpose of the measure is twofold; first, to secure to musical compositions the same measure of protection under the copyright law as is now afforded productions of strictly dramatic character; and, second, to add, by proper court injunction processes, this protection to the authors of dramatic and operatic works. The bill imposes a fine of $100 for the first, and $50 for each subsequent unauthorized production. A bill to prohibit the sale of liquor in the capitol building was also passed. A bill advocated by the delegates from the territories, to modify the law forbidding the alien ownership of lands in the territories so as to give them the right to acquire under mortgage and to hold for 10 years, real property, was defeated. An important bill to transfer the rights of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad, under its charter, to the mortgagees when they reorganize the road, was postponed until Tuesday next.

Rolling Mills Strike.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—A cut in the wages of skilled workmen in the Pacific rolling mills at the Potrero has caused a strike which has practically suspended all operations in the big iron manufacturing plant. About 50 men walked out and their action cut off the means of employment of about 50 others. It is believed that some time today a compromise will be effected, and the wheels of industry set in motion again. The most important factor in the strike is that the men were informed that they had been working for over a week under a new schedule of rates of which they were ignorant. There are no indications of any trouble of a violent nature. In the first place, there are no ironworkers of this class on this coast, and the places of the strikers could only be filled by an importation from the East. This is not likely to take place, as the Eastern workmen receive as good wages as the men here did before the cut.

Havana Being Fortified.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The work of strengthening the fortifications about Havana is being pushed with noticeable energy. Guns are being placed on the heights around the city, all pointing toward the sea. The fortifications of the port of Mantanzas also are being strengthened. The government sent 500 laborers to Guanabacoa to construct entrenchments and erect new batteries as a precaution against a fresh insurgent raid. It is understood that the whole town is to be enclosed with a barbed wire fence. Brigadier-General de Cardenas and Lieutenant-Colonel Raoul Arango, the Cuban leaders in Havana province, reported wounded early in November, are both convalescent. Lieutenant-Colonel Arango was in command 10 days ago, and directed the late attack at Guanabacoa, across the bay from Havana.

The Philippine Rebellion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—The steamer China today brought advices concerning the progress of the insurrection in the Philippine islands. It is stated that the rebels are gaining in strength and practically control the districts outside of Manila, although the Spanish government strives to create the impression that the rebellion is practically subdued. The origin of the uprising is ascribed to excessive taxation and despotic rule, and the statement of the Spanish governor that native priests started the rebellion for ligious purposes is denied. Captured rebels and prisoners suspected of favoring the rebels are treated with great cruelty, and all sorts of indignities are heaped upon the captives taken in the field. The shipping of prisoners to the African colonies continues, and 100 rebels were shipped on October 29. During the October campaign the rebels captured the town of Muntalan and San Mateo, 10 miles from Manila. It is said the foreign residents sympathize with the rebels.

To Reconstruct the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Representative Barrett, of Massachusetts, has introduced a bill that members of the president's cabinet shall be chosen from the senate or house, with the restriction that the secretary of the treasury shall be chosen from the house, and the secretary of state from the senate. They are to retain their seats in congress and not lose their portfolios when the term to which they are elected expires. Only the salary of a cabinet officer is to be drawn by such official. A member of congress who passes from one house to the other will retain his position in the cabinet. They are to be confirmed in the manner now required by law.

An English Coaling Station.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 10.—The steamer Pacheco, which arrived from Lower California today, brings news that it is currently reported at Guaymas and Mazatlan that the British are taking steps to establish a coaling station at Clarion land, off the coast of Jalisco. Mexican officials displayed some concern over the report and had dispatched the steamer Oaxaca from Guaymas to the island to ascertain whether the story was true. The rumor was that a quantity of coal had been taken to the island and a landing was being built.

Maceo is not Dead.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Delegate Tomas Estrada Palma, when asked if the additional information regarding General Maceo's death had in any way influenced his former opinion as to the veracity of the news, said: "Not in the least. I cannot accept the reports so far published as conclusive evidence of General Maceo's death. I have just received a Key West cable dispatch from my agent in Havana, saying: 'Maceo passed the trocha December 6. Report of death absolutely false. You may contradict it upon my responsibility.'"

Besides the above telegram, Senator Palma exhibited several other dispatches from places in Europe and America, asking him for information regarding Maceo. Among the cablegrams one received from a wealthy Cuban in Paris, reads: "Cable us about Maceo. I place $10,000 at your disposal. Let us not dismay. Go ahead!" Another cable dispatch from Porto Plata, San Domingo, says: "Cubans and sympathizers request further information as to Maceo's fate. Accept assurance of our devotion to the cause. We will place 100 rifles at your disposal."

Articles Taken From the Bodies.

HAVANA, Dec. 10.—Through the courtesy of the Marquis Abumada, acting captain-general, the correspondent of the Associated Press today had the privilege of inspecting the articles which were taken from the bodies of the Cubans asserted to be those of Antonio Maceo and Francisco Gomez. These articles included a gold watch, marked "The Globe, Illinois," a field tumbler, a telescope, a goblet, a pair of black socks, marked "A. M.," a Smith revolver, nickel-plated, with ivory grip, a hunting knife 24 centimeters in length, with an inscription indicating it was a present from General Gorman Blanco, four cartridges, a machete and scabbard, a pair of magnificent field-glasses, a ring with the inscription, "Antonio y Maria," a rubber coat, a compass with a portrait in it of the mother of Francisco Gomez, blood-stained handkerchiefs, a portfolio marked "Gomez, stationer and painter, Naranjo street," containing a diary of military operations, and Francisco Gomez' letter to his father saying he had committed suicide. The text of this letter had already been cabled. There was also a letter from Maximiliano Gomez to his son Francisco, the text of which has also been cabled to the Associated Press.

Reciprocity With Canada.

OTTAWA, Dec. 10.—Sir Richard Cartwright will leave in a few days for Washington to ascertain whether President McKinley will enter into reciprocity negotiations with Canada. He goes at the dictation of Premier Laurier, who has frequently stated that he would, at the earliest opportunity, send a committee to Washington.

The Canal Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Representative Doolittle circulated a petition today asking the committee on rules of the house to grant time for the consideration of the Nicaragua canal bill reported from the committee on interstate commerce and foreign commerce. Nearly every member of the house to whom the petition was presented signed it, and Mr. Doolittle hopes to secure a large majority from the house in favor of the measure.

The Funding Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The rule fixing January 5th as the day for bringing up the Pacific railroad funding bill in the house has been drawn and probably will be recommended. Several members of the Pacific railroad committee will be absent before the holiday recess, and most of the time will be taken up by appropriation bills, so it is considered impracticable to deal with the railroad question before the recess.

PARLOR ENTERTAINMENT.

In the McCallen parlor last Thursday a spirited entertainment was improvised by Mrs. Brackett and one of the noted guests of the house, Hon. W. E. Yates. The entertainment consisted of several songs with her own accompaniment on the piano, by Mrs. G. W. Short of Wilbur, one of the best soprano singers in Douglas. C. W. Toner, of Sherman Clay & Co. piano manufacturing company of Portland, sang and played some choice selections. Joseph Powell also sang several sentimental songs and played on his harp—he said it was a Jew's harp, but he took it from his pocket so it evidently was his own. David Houston, our affable conductor on the S. P., was present and was pressed into service and sang, "Old Black Joe" with such happy effect that he was enquired twice, and the way he came down on lower C was a caution as his voice thrilled "Old Black Joe" at end of chorus.

And again Friday evening Mrs. Short sang several songs in her usual sweet voice to the delight of the guests assembled there for an evening's enjoyment. Miss Lila Bradley also recited in good elocutionary style several pieces which were instructive as well as amusing. Mr. Powell, too, was there and added to the enjoyment of the evening. Mr. J. Fred Yates, a guest of the house, added solemnity to the occasion by reciting in a solemn and pathetic manner a composition portraying the effects of alcohol upon the votaries of the social glass. These socials are very enjoyable.

Maceo Assassinated.

The story of the death of Antonio Maceo could not be believed until it was confirmed from Cuban sources. The version received by mail at Jacksonville is credible as to the main fact, and explains all the contradictions and improbabilities in the Spanish version. These were due to perversions of the details made by the Spaniards to conceal the fact that Maceo had been decoyed into ambush by most shameful treachery and assassinated practically under a flag of truce. His murder was as savage an act of treachery as that of General Canby in the lava beds, and ranks Weyler lower in the scale of civilization than Scar-Lovered Charley. It appears that all the recent talk of negotiation with the insurgents was part of a plot to lure Maceo within reach of assassins, and that the final trap was laid by one of Weyler's lieutenants and a corrupted traitor who was serving Maceo as a surgeon. This dastardly act of barbarism will not tend to abate public feeling in the United States. This may easily be inflamed to the point of demanding the hunting of every Spanish brigand out of the Western hemisphere—Oregonian.

James Dixon Acquitted.

The trial of James Dixon for the murder of Charles Rice June 14th last, was closed Friday at 10 o'clock. The case was argued at considerable length by able counsel. Thirteen witnesses on behalf of the state and 41 on behalf of the accused—54 in all—gave their testimony in this much disputed case. Judge Fullerton delivered his charge to the jury Saturday morning at 8 o'clock. It is printed in today's paper. The jury immediately retired to their room and proceeded, it is presumed, to consider the case. On the first ballot the poll showed 11 for "acquittal" and 1 for murder in second degree.

In laying these facts before our readers we do not feel called upon to criticize or animadvert upon the case. A jury of 12 good and respectable men of our county heard all the testimony submitted and were in possession of all the material facts presented, and being instructed by the court as to the laws in relation to crimes of the character of which the defendant was accused, have, under the solemnity of their oaths, found a verdict of "not guilty."

"If my daughter should take my life, I want the world to know that she was not to blame. A strain of madness runs through her father's family, and I would rather die than be separated from her." That was the answer of Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper to the warning of her physician, and Friday morning the lifeless body of her daughter and of herself were found where death had come to them in the night. Miss Hattie Cooper had taken her mother's life and her own by getting up in the night and turning on the gas. Miss Hattie had been insane for over a year and had several times before attempted to kill her mother and herself. Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper was one of the noted philanthropists of this country, and had devoted many years of her life to philanthropic works and was the founder of kindergartens in San Francisco.

The W. A. Willis homestead on Deer creek has been sold to Mrs. M. A. Gallagher, from San Francisco, and is now occupied by her family. Messrs. Cox, Hoberg, and their associates of Portland took possession of the Volk Placer Mines adjoining the famous Victory, on Cow creek last week, and are now panning gravel. The above sales were made by D. R. K. Buick of this city.
