The Paradise Camp Mining Company near Olla are pressing their hydraulic works to completion with all possible dispatch. Their ditch is about completed and the pipe for the hydraulic works is being forwarded as fast as teams can haul it over the roads in their present condition. The pipe when laid will stretch over 2000 feet of ground.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

The business men of Roseburg are active, wide-awake men. When business is dull in their several shops they go to the bowling alley, pull off their coats and sweat like grubbers at a game of cocked hat. But when the cock asks for stove wood they cry out with injured pride: "Hans! there been a tramp here today? Me split wood! Madam, what do you take me for, a tramp?"

Hons. C. A. Sehlbrede and F. W. Benson returned Monday night from Salem, whence they went to see the elephant called "Holdip." He beats old Jumbo. He has the faculty of insinuating his proboscis into the house of representatives and breathing upon the unwelcome members his upas breath which renders them insensible to all sense of propriety, justice and honor. They can kick and grunt and howl—that's all.

Not a few who read what Mr. Robert Rowles, of Holland, Va., has to say below, will remember their own experience under like circumstances: "Last winter I had a gripe which left me in a low state of health. I tried numerous remedies, none of which did me any good, until I was induced to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The first bottle of it so far relieved me that I was enabled to attend to my work, and the second bottle effected a cure." For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by A. C. Marsters & Co.

W. A. Frater's office is being papered. Kem and Patterson are doing the work. The office will be more cheerful in its new dress. The old smoky wall cracked and discolored had become an eyesore to all visitors who daily stream into the affable treasurer's office with warrants which promise to pay; but they march out again with this indorsement on the back of the warrant: "Not paid for the want of funds. W. A. Frater, county treasurer." But notwithstanding that warrants are nearly at par, 38 cents on the dollar.

Incipient Fire.

Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock, Mr. D. Shambrook of the firm of Kruse & Shambrook, near the postoffice, saw a bright glare of fire suddenly flame up in D. S. K. Buick's office on the opposite side of the street. Mr. Shambrook ran across the street and proceeded to throw the oil stove out, which had exploded, throwing the oil out on the floor mat which was all aflame when he entered. After throwing out the burned stove, he began tearing up the floor mat and smothering the flames, which he did in a few seconds and thus averted what might have been a conflagration.

As appears, Mr. Buick had lit the burners of his coal oil stove and went up town on business, and was in blissful ignorance of the possible closing of his office in his absence by the process of fire.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have. J. F. Campbell, merchant of Sefford, Ariz., writes: 'Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds.'"

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and today stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at A. C. Marsters' Drug Store.

Notice to Stockholders.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Douglas County Agricultural Association will be held at the court house in Roseburg on Monday, February 1st, 1897, for the purpose of electing seven directors for the ensuing year and other business that may come before the meeting.

F. A. McALL, Secretary.

To the Public.

On and after this date, I wish it understood that my terms for all undertaker's goods are cash with the order. I find it impossible to do business on a credit basis, and believe that I can do better by my patrons and myself by selling strictly for cash. P. BENEDICT, Undertaker, Roseburg, Ore., April 12, 1896.

BENSON AT WORK.

Davis Adjourns From Day to Day and the Farce Goes On.

Salem, Jan. 27, 1897.

The house that organized last week with H. L. Benson as speaker does not seem quite sure of its ground. Since the failure of the senate to recognize the organization as a co-ordinate branch it seems to doubt its own ability and takes its steps haltingly. On Monday there was much curiosity about the senate.

"Will the senate recognize the house as at present organized," was a question that greeted the ears of lobbyist as well as member and the answer in every case was conjectural. The chief clerk of the temporary, or Davis house, had sent a communication to the senate informing that body that there was no proper organization of the house. The unusual document was read and made a part of the senate record without comment.

Subsequently a message was received from the Benson house, but this the president declined to put before the senate. He, however, informed the senate what it was and said if the senate desired to reverse him and consider the message it could do so. No move was made and the incident passed. The Benson house was ignored. This was a disappointment. The lobby expected a discussion and a vote. Senator King introduced a resolution to provide for the appointment of a committee to go over and see what was the matter. The resolution failed to pass by a tie vote chiefly on the ground that it was irregular.

Every senator on the floor knew just exactly what was the matter and the appointment of a committee of inquiry was superfluous, though it might make the fact of the tangle in the house a matter of record in the senate.

The members of the house themselves, especially during the past day or two, appear to be realizing that this house, as at present constituted, is powerless to accomplish any sort of legislation and, per consequence, any act performed by it is not only irregular but void, and are apparently waiting for some one to take the lead and then there will be a general breaking away, not necessarily from Senator Mitchell, but simply from the organization as at present constituted.

It is the intent, so said, of the Mitchell managers, to endeavor to hold the house together till next Tuesday and then get some sort of a vote on United States Senator if a majority of both houses can be got together. This is doubtful, because, while Mr. Mitchell has just a majority of all the members who are ready to vote for him, some want that opportunity to come about in the regular way, and will not go into convention except one provided for by concurrent resolution passed by both houses in regular session and properly organized, saying they have taken an oath to support the constitution and will support its spirit as well as its letter.

An evidence of the lack of quorum, that is, of course, if it is admitted that forty is two-thirds of sixty, came up in the house Tuesday. A motion was made to suspend the rules and read the bill by title. The vote resulted: Yeas, 16; nays, 15; total, 31. But the constitution, that document which is a higher law than any legislative act, and so much in the way just now, requires that the regular reading of bills by sections in three separate days shall only be dispensed with by a two-thirds vote of the house.

Then the question comes up again, what is the "house?" the whole number elected, or any number that might gather together? These little things as they arise tend to show the members the position they occupy and the attempt at legislation is, to say the least, half hearted and desultory.

Bilyeu of Lane has threatened to read the riot act to the contending factions if they don't get together soon. He said, and truthfully, that one side was not all right nor was the other all wrong and there must be mutual concessions.

Hazeltine, the senator elected as a Mitchell republican from Multnomah, wanted to exclude the Oregonian reporter from the senate because that paper had stated that he was appointed on the committee on municipal corporations at his own request. But the senate is not yet ready to apply the gas law. If every senator who happens to be criticized by the newspapers should feel as the senator from Multnomah, then he will soon have votes enough to carry his resolution and exclude the paper reporters.

In one of our former letters I referred to the contest of E. T. Hatch for the seat of Representative Lee of Polk. In this Mr. Hatch claims to have discovered sufficient fraud to show that he and not Lee was elected and desires a recount.

When Mr. Hatch, to use a common phrase, got onto this, he naturally went to the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee and laid the case before him. This was last fall. To his surprise he was referred to Mr. Jonathan Bourne, who was the secretary of the republican committee last spring but at the time of which I speak, if common report was true, was the chief mogul, not second to John C. Young himself, of the populist forces. Here Mr. Hatch got no satisfaction, and in a subsequent interview with Mr. Hreh was given to understand that unless he would agree to vote for Senator Mitchell he could expect no aid from the State Central Committee. You can draw your own conclusion.

Noel is taking part in the deliberation of the house. While it is not denied that he was ineligible, according to the conditions laid down in that dreadful document, the constitution.

Dr. C. W. Tower of Marshfield is here looking after the interest of the proposed county of "Bay" which, according to the plan is to be carved out of Coos with Empire City as the county seat. "Bay" was the name on the original bill as introduced to create the county of Lincoln. Why not change this later "Bay" to Jefferson? We have no Jefferson county in Oregon yet, or, perhaps "Hamilton" would do better.

R. A. Graham, the Coos Bay, Roseburg and Eastern contractor, looked in on the legislature a few hours on Monday. In reply to the question as to when his road would be continued through to Roseburg, said, "It depended on what kind of laws they would be expected to do business under."

EDENBOWER ENTERTAINMENT.

Long before seven o'clock, Tuesday evening, the school house was packed from platform to door, with people of all ages, eager to hear the maiden effort of the "Edenbower Bachelor Club." The curtain rose at half past seven and the ball was set to rolling by a song in character, entitled "Tread on the tail of my coat." After this, followed in quick succession recitations, readings, dialogues, solos, full choruses and tableaux. The program is too lengthy to repeat in detail, and to mention any one in particular as doing extra well would be an injustice to the others, as each one rendered his part to perfection; each number received hearty applause. The "business meeting" of the club was one of the chief selections and fairly brought down the house, as also did the closing song. At about ten o'clock the master of ceremonies thanked the audience for their attendance and good attention and also announced that $6.20 had been taken in at the door. The Bachelors intend to present the proceeds toward helping the W. C. T. U. to build a hall in this neighborhood. Tuesday evening every one present acknowledged that a hall is the very thing we need. The school house is small and many had to remain standing in corners and against the wall where a chair could not be placed. As the audience left the room the happy and smiling faces and the merry sallies ringing out upon the night air, once could but recognize that every one felt the better for an evening spent in laughter caused by the Edenbower Bachelor Club. In Probate Court.

In the matter of the estate of Joe Rosin, deceased, R. M. Conkling was appointed administrator of said estate and bonds fixed at $500. J. C. Aiken, L. Schmeiser and L. A. Sanctuarr, were appointed appraisers of said estate. The bonds of the administrator were approved and filed.

In the matter of the estate of Albert McGuire, deceased, it was ordered that the Administrator, E. A. Hinkle, make a deed of conveyance of title to Elijah Olliphant, embracing the premises sold him as the highest and best bidder, November 21, 1896, as provided by law, and final settlement fixed for March 1, 1897.

In the matter of the estate of Clifton Weyer, minor, of two years and a half, Geo. M. Brown was appointed guardian of said minor, Clifton Weyer, upon filing bonds for $2000. Bonds were filed January 23, 1897.

Almost a Fire.

Wednesday, at precisely 3 p. m., that dreaded cry of Fire! Fire! Fire! was heard which was taken up and passed along the streets by the men and women and children, who were upon the streets and soon the fire bell on the council hall rang out its warning clangor. The hose carts were soon moving towards the residence of Mrs. Alice Sheridan, on the corner of Cass and Stephens street. But before the fire boys got their hose carts in position the glad news came echoing back, "It's out; it's out; it's out" and the fire boys returned their hose carts to their stalls, and resumed their work at their several places of business, the same as if nothing had occurred.

The fire originated by a spark accidentally being dropped in or flying into the woodbox near the kitchen stove and Mrs. Sheridan being out at the time of its bursting into a blaze it was not discovered till it had arrived at that condition. It was discovered however by the neighbors and extinguished before it did any considerable damage.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottles at A. C. Marsters' Drug Store.

Treasurer's Notice.

Notice is hereby given to all parties holding Douglas county warrants indorsed prior to July 27th, 1892, to present the same at the treasurer's office in the court house for payment, as interest will cease thereon after the date of this notice.

Dated this 25th day of January, 1897, at the City of Roseburg, Douglas county, Oregon.

W. A. FRATER, County Treasurer.

TSILCOOS LAKE.

November and December were awful for wet weather. January has been fair with a few cold days. Navigation has resumed. The bars are passable much of the time now.

La Grippe has raged furiously on the Siuslaw and Umpqua with many victims between these waters. In Florence and Glendale this affliction has been very distressing. Dr. Saubert has several times had the tug Roberts as his vehicle up and down the raging Siuslaw. When the family of the owner, captain or crew of this little steamer gets desperately ill the tug is the doctor's means
