Eckels' Views Upon Finance.

Washington, Jan. 28.-Controller Eckels today gave his views on the fi- Watchmaker and Jeweler, nancial condition of the country to the house committee on banking and currency. Several bills had been referred to Eckels for his judgement, and he analvzed them.

While there was no doubt of the necessity for changes in the government financial system. Eckels said the public was disposed to attribute too much of the existing trouble to a lack of monetary legislation. Over-trade, over production and extravagance in private and public expenditures partly induced by speculation, were largely response. The the country's business difficulties. The sugar planters of Louisiana and the manufacturers of beet sugar from Nebraska have urged protection for their industry. If one followed the tactics of the ffree-trader, one might ask what these men had done to deserve anything at the hands of the party of McKinley. But the system of protection Is not one which is regulated by the electoral votes of the several states. It is the "American system" in the fullest sense of the word.
