KEEP UP THE FIGHT.

The campaign of last year was a bat tle of the standards, gold and silver. There were other issues of great imporportance but they were lost sight of for the time being behind the profound interest manifested in the all absorbing question of "16 to 1." Silver lost and the people decreed that the gold standard should be preserved. The advocates of the free and unlimited coinage of sil ver are not dismaved and it is boldly asserted that the fight is to be kept up. This is not only true in the South and Middle West but champions of the white metal in Oregon are advising their following to keep up their organizations and the silver forces for the fight of 1898. In that year we are to elect two congressmen and a full set of state officers and a desperate battle is sure to come. It remains to be seen whether this state is to maintain its position in the progressive column, the column of civilization, or take a long stride backward by voting in favor of being Mexicanized, of going to the silver standard. It is idle to talk about bi-metaliism with free courage. under any ratio. It has been tried time and again and always inited signally We shall have the one standard or the other, however much we may desire the two. Do not be deceived by fine spun theories. Theories are sometimes the more plausible but the facts of bistory are the safest guides. The laws of commerce can no more be upset by statute than the laws of gravitation. As Abraham found that he must pay for his his in the burial place of Ephron in corren money with the merchant, so shall we find in this latter decade of the 19th century that the merchant will determine what is current money. The way to prevent disaster is to be prepared for the attack. The sound money people should keep up their organizations and continue the campaign of education. The people are willing to learn; they want to know what is right and once assured on that point will continue therein.

Judging from the experience of the past, if a person expects political preferment at the hands of his party he must keep at least his public acts within party usage.
