LAI'D TO REST.

Daniel Watts, an inmate of the Oregon soldiers' home, was taken violently ill on the evening of Thursday, the 4th inst., and died at 3 o'clock on Saturday morning. The remains were interred on the evening of the 6th in the burial place of the home by the side of comrades who had preceded him.

Daniel Watts was born in Vanderburg, Ill., in 1834; enlisted as a private in Co. "A" 129th Illinois infantry, Aug. 2, 1862, and was honorably discharged on the 8th day of June, 1865.

It will be but a few years and the Grand Army of the Republic will be a thing of the past. Its membership is limited to those who wore the uniform of the Union during the civil struggle of 1861-5, and in the course of nature those who took an active part who have not already answered the roll call for the last time will soon feel and finally respond and step out to join the "innumerable caravan." In the few words above in which reference is made to the army career of Daniel Watts, how one's thought is carried back through the years to the times that tried men's souls, when the nation was divided against itself and the fate of a government of, and for the people hung in the balances. From 1862 to 1865 with Sherman's army. That meant marching, hardship, privation, fighting, suffering, and all for what? That the flag of the Union should be the flag of the institutions and the homes of the land; that the promises of its stars should be performed and the nation preserved. Those who took part in that struggle are fast passing away. They earned a nation's gratitude and in the performance of last sad rites they shall receive a nation's tears.

Around the open grave of Daniel Watts were gathered many of his old comrades, members of the home and of the local post, and with the impressive ceremonies of the order performed by men whose locks are whitened with the frosts that shall know no melting, and while the strains of "Nearer My God to Thee,"

In rich melody and deeply pathetic tones floated out on the evening air, they laid him there.

Under the sod and the dew. To wait the Judgment Day.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

One James Nelson was arrested at Oakland on Friday night on a warrant telegraphed from Yoncalla, and is now in jail here. Nelson's offense is in the possession of numerous letters addressed to himself from the G. W. LeMoore collection agency, purporting to have headquarters in room 410, Commercial building, Portland. The letters were addressed to different points on the Southern Pacific between Portland and Roseburg. Each of them contained a statement of collection of $20, which, after a deduction of $2.00, left $18.00 in Nelson's favor. A check on a well-known Portland bank was inclosed, covering the amount, signed by G. W. LeMoore.

After trying to pass several checks on the merchants of Cottage Grove, Nelson went to Yoncalla, where he made a small purchase from G. W. Cartwright and tendered a check in payment. Cartwright accepted the check and gave Nelson the change, but suspecting something wrong, immediately wired to the Portland bank on which it was drawn. He was informed that the check was no good. Nelson had gone on south, but the telegraph overhauled him and he was taken in at Oakland. His method was about as follows: He would write himself letters and send them to the towns at which he expected to stop. Arriving there he would represent himself to be without ready funds, and pass the checks inclosed in the letters, presenting the letters themselves for identification. In this way he must have acquired quite a sum for he had $101.35 on his person when arrested. This was taken in charge by Sheriff Agee, it will come in handy to buy sundries for the prisoner by and by, should he "go over the road."

Simon Caro returned home Saturday morning from Salem. He is full of reminiscences of his visit. He was counted by the speaker once on a motion to adjourn, there being one more necessary to carry the motion, and on a rising vote Mr. Caro stood up and thus enabled the speaker to declare the house adjourned. There is no telling how far-reaching that vote may be, or what deep questions of legislation may be effected thereby.

Simon S. Hartman of Tunnelton, West Va., has been subject to attacks of colic about once a year, and would have to call a doctor and then suffer for about twelve hours as much as some do when they die. He was taken recently just the same as at other times, and concluded to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took one dose of it and it gave me relief in five minutes. That is more than anything else has ever done for me." For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

The sum of $63,875.75 is the amount in gold dust on Grants Pass shipped during the year 1896, to the government mint in San Francisco. This was bought from the numerous smaller placer mines of that section and the northwestern mining districts of Jackson county. Several other firms as well as the local bank at Grants Pass bought and shipped a great deal of gold dust the past year. The big placers send their outputs to the mint direct. The Observer estimates that Josephine county alone produced $500,000 in 1896 and predicts an increased yield the coming season.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Weber, Holland, Mass., had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with anything. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

THAT SCHOOL CASE.

Division of District No. 16, Reversed.

Regarding the trouble in the school district at Civil Bend, the Salem Statesman, obtaining its information from the office of the state superintendent, says:

In the matter of the appeal of A. W. Stanton and L. B. Nichols, two of the directors of school district No. 16 of Douglas county, from the decision of Douglas Waite, county school superintendent of the same county, State Superintendent G. M. Irwin has reversed the decision of the county superintendent, in dividing the said school district.

The ground alleged for the appeal was that the petition presented to the school superintendent was not signed by a majority of the legal voters of the district, as required by law, being signed by only twenty-nine persons, three of whom were not legal voters of the district. The remonstrance presented against the division was signed by forty-one persons.

The matter was argued before State Superintendent Irwin on January 14th, at which time the case was taken under advisement, in order to secure an opinion from the attorney general on certain points of school law.

The county superintendent was reversed and his action in dividing the district set aside.

It seems that the county official was somewhat hasty in that he divided the district on the same date on which the petition for it was presented to him, thus giving the remonstrators no opportunity to be heard. Subsequently the remonstrance was presented, but the motion of the remonstrators to re-open the case and give them a hearing was overruled by the county superintendent. From this ruling and the official action the directors appealed with the result indicated above, namely the discomfiture of the county school superintendent.

An appeal was filed in the circuit court from the decision of the state superintendent on Saturday and the case will come up on a writ of Review before Judge Fullerton at the next term of court. No. 116 wants to be set apart from No. 16, and it is No. 116 that appeals.

A Wreck.

The overland train, northbound, due here at 11:45 last night did not arrive till 8:20 this morning. The delay was caused by the derailing of the south-bound overland at Nori, on the Sacramento division in California, on Saturday night. Several cars left the rail at the siding and effectually blocked the track. A few persons were injured, but with the exception of one who had an arm broken, none seriously. Just before the train reached Roseburg this morning, it was announced in the cars that there would be a stop of 20 minutes for breakfast, and as soon as it stopped the passengers piled off and began looking about for eating places, but the breakfast order had been countermanded and the proclamation, "All Aboard," caused a great hurrying and scurrying to get back on the train. Perhaps it is needless to add there were some remarks that would not look well in print. The "Devils Auction" Company was on the train en route to Portland.

Weather Synopsis.

The month of January was a record breaker in one particular—the paucity of rainfall. From the summary furnished by Observer Gibson it is noted that the mean temperature for the month was 42, or 2 above the average for 20 years. The highest was 62 on the 20th and the lowest 31, on the 27th, and the greatest daily range was 30 degrees on the 22d. The total precipitation for the month was 1.65 inches. This is the lowest in 20 years and 4.54 inches below the average which is 6.05 inches. The greatest rainfall for January was in 1890, the year of the big flood, when the fall amounted to 12.23 inches. For the season, from Sept. 1, 1896, to date, the fall has been 19.93 inches, and as the average is 20.18 we are only .25 short. The number of clear days were 5; partly cloudy, 14; cloudy, 12.

Circuit Court.

Judge Fullerton sat in chambers today, and the following proceedings were had.

L. Stenger et al. vs. T. J. Jackson; sheriff ordered to make deed.

Carlon Bros. vs. S. T. Robinson; motion to retax costs. Clerk's decision sustained.

Caro Bros. vs. J. Grills; motion to deliver redemption certificate disallowed.

F. M. Moore vs. W. N. Moore; submitted and taken under advisement. Attorneys directed to file briefs.

J. B. McGee vs. Nicholson & Johns; order for publication of summons.

Case and Pool arraigned entered plea of not guilty, also plead former acquittal on same charge. Bail reduced to $300 and remanded for trial.

Mrs. Hoffman's Lecture.

The lecture by Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman, of Missouri, last evening, at the First Baptist church, was well attended considering the very stormy night. The subject, "The Problem that Faces Us," is one of profound moment to the people at this time. Mrs. Hoffman's array of facts, demanding the attention of men and women at this day amid the present complications, was such as to deeply impress her hearers. At the conclusion of the lecture the audience arose as with one voice to request the return of Mrs. Hoffman, that hundreds of others might listen to the fire of her eloquence and lincing argument.—Daily Post, Camden, N. J. At Roseburg, February 22.

On Friday last the body of Manuel Guest, a young man 26 years old, was found near a wood camp in the mountains two miles from Ashland. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

It makes your cakes, biscuit, bread, etc., healthful, it assures you against alum and all forms of adulteration that go with the cheap brands."

BACHELORS PROTEST.

The bachelors of the local lodge of Knights of Pythias took umbrage at the remarks of a correspondent in the lodge paper, "The Senator," and have protested. The article in question accused the half score bachelors of the lodge as being "forlorn specimens of that unfortunate class as ever disgraced any community. Poor old cowards, ready and willing to 'do all and dare all' but the thing they ought to do—pop." They are named therein as Free Johnson, L. A. Sanctuary, D. Looney, James Temple, F. M. Zigler, S. L. Kidder, F. H. Churchill, and a few more who might marry if let alone.

The bachelor protest is as follows, and has been forwarded:

MR. SENATOR: Evidently your correspondent from this place, in the last issue of the Senator, attempted to be facetious or sarcastic, we don't know which. However, he tried to make it appear as though the bachelors of Alpha Lodge No. 47, were a lot of crusty old fellows, a disgrace to the lodge as well as the community. If the said old bachelors were to absent themselves from the lodge there would be no lodge, as they are always found in their places, which cannot be said of some of the married brothers. We regret that the last day of last year (leap year) closed and not one had received a proposition. It was not our fault. Our forlorn condition is deplored by us, and as we are a little sensitive in the matter we don't like to be made fun of throughout the whole domain. The "sisters" are reminded that it will be a long time before another leap year but they can take advantage of our unprotected condition in the meantime. Bro. Ford organized a section of the Endowment Rank at our last meeting of which a majority were old bachelors. Ladies, take notice.
