The young friends of Miss Berlie Slocum gave that young lady a surprise party on Tuesday evening, and thirty-seven youngsters gathered at Slocum's Hall in honor of the occasion. Did they have a good time? Well, rather! They made the walkin' ring, and tripped the light fantastic, an' such.

A missionary tea was given at the M. E. parsonage on Tuesday evening. Tables were spread from 5 p. m. to 9 p. m. The prevailing rage among the small boys is stills. It is no unusual thing to see a youngster of 10 or 12 perched up on stilts with his feet higher than his head ordinarily would be. The matter of a few inches of mud has no terrors for them; they plunge across streets or vacant lots with perfect sang froid. (Don't know for sure whether that's good French or not.)

There was a little white frost yesterday morning and repeated this morning, and water in exposed places crusts over a little. It does no damage at this season, in fact it is rather helpful than otherwise, as it will have a tendency to repress the swelling propensity of the fruit buds and keep them back a little. They are disposed to be too precocious.

Simon S. Hartman of Tunnelton, West Va., has been subject to attacks of colic about once a year, and would have to call a doctor and then suffer for about twelve hours as much as some do when they die. That is more than anything else has ever done for me."

How They Got In.
About a month ago Josephson's New York Cash Store was entered by a burglar or burglars and an overcoat stolen. Quite a lot of clothing had been handled over and other things might have been taken, but the only thing missed was the overcoat. As the door was opened, evidently from the inside, much wonder was expressed at the time as to how the thief made his entrance, but now the mystery has been cleared up. A new sign was put up over the front of the store this week and the workmen engaged thereon found a long rope on the roof. The robbers had taken out a skylight and let one of their number down into the store by the rope, but they left no mark by which their identity might be established.

Memories of Other Days.

Hon. Rufus Mallory stopped off for a day on his return from San Francisco, going on to Portland on this morning's local. Mr. Mallory was a school teacher in Roseburg nearly forty years ago, when Main street was the principal business street, and his reminiscences of that street and comparisons of the then and now were quite interesting. The streets are muddy now, but in January, 1858, they were much worse, as they had not been improved at all, and there seemed to be no bottom to the black mud. For February Mr. Mallory said he was promised the finest weather for any country for that month, but for some reason February, 1858, was unusually wet and wintry, so much so that the sun did not show its face for the whole month, but March of that year was simply lovely. He and his partner, James Fyle, put up a few boards on the corner of Washington and Jackson streets, covered them in and opened a saloon office. The only business places on the street then were two butcher shops. Aaron Rose, the victor said, made the remark that all the butcher shops were congregating on Jackson street, some to butcher meat, and Mallory and Fyle to butcher the law. Whether Mr. Mallory butchered the law in his callow days the writer knoweth not, but he is now one of the leading lawyers of the state, and was on his way home from San Francisco, where he had been arguing before the Federal court of appeals a case involving $150,000.

The Successful Applicants.

During three days of last week, County Superintendent Douglas Wolfe and his assistants, held a teachers examination at the court house and about 31 young people were applicants for certificates. The successful ones with their post office addresses and the averages were as follows: Anna Bogus, Roseburg, 70.8; James D. Evers, Gardner, 80.2; Mary Cannon, Roseburg, 80; Etta Chapman, Glide, 80.4; Maggie Clayton, Umpqua Ferry, 73.2; James Dookey, Yoncalla, 70.6; Pearl Fetter, Drain, 88.3; Lena Hodson, Roseburg, 70.3; Luella Kennedy, Roseburg, 80; Nettie Livingston, Cleveland, 70.3; Jasper Moon, Roseburg, 80; Peter Nash, Elkton, 75.8; Ethel L. Riddle, Glenbrook, 84.4; Beatie J. Smith, Roseburg, 84.6; Manley M. Strawn, Yoncalla, 80.3; Laura Thompson, Coles Valley, 82.8; Marie Walsh, Drayton, 80.1; Mrs. Wilson, Roseburg, 88.2; Etta Wolcott, Roseburg, 80.3; William Patterson, applied for state diploma, and passed a successful examination.

The Bachelors.

The following from the Chicago Inter-Ocean is respectfully referred to the bachelors of the K. of P. Lodge of this city, with especial reference to L. A. Sanctuary and D. Looney:

"The New York Sun is raising the question, 'Should old bachelors marry?' Certainly they should, and the sooner the better. The best thing in this world to any man of soul is a good wife. A man can scarcely be said to begin to live until he has loved and married. Life in old age is full of dreariness in some upper rooms of a boarding-house. It is no easy thing, 'marrying a lottery.' There are millions of good women in the land waiting to make homes of comfort and peace and happiness for the millions of bachelors who are hesitating. There are good reasons why many men and many women do not marry, and they are valid. But that does not change the fact that there are multitudes of single people who have no such reasons, who would do well to marry."

A Good Program.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the celebration of the birth of Pythianism tomorrow night, have prepared a good program. The program will be speaking, Fred Page-Tustin being the speaker, singing, instrumental music, cards, chatting, (gossip), etc. The order has now reached a sturdy manhood, having successfully passed the periods of infancy, and youth, and is now in its prime. The Pythian system being in it, think, and rightly too, they have cause to celebrate.

Case Settled.

One of the foreclosure suits by the Roseburg Building & Loan Association in this city, against E. A. and M. J. Prehler, has been settled. Fisher & Wimberly of the Review Pub. Co. have bought the property and the association stock, settled the delinquencies and assumed the future payments of the Prehlers, and the case is dismissed. By this sale Messrs. Fisher & Wimberly become the owners of the premises on Jackson street, now occupied by D. S. West as an insurance agent.

Competition never worries us, because we "buy right" hence "sell right." The facts are these; every move in our business is only made after the most careful consideration, nothing left to chance. Shoes have advanced in price but not with us. We sell you a good oil grain shoe for $1.25 and upwards, fine shoes in proportion. If you doubt us, come and see us, convince yourself that we have what we advertise. We don't care to do all the business in town, but want to get a share of it. We firmly believe that a concern that gives its customers exceptionally good values in every instance is bound to go ahead year by year. This idea prevails throughout our entire business. Every dollar worth of goods must give the wearer satisfaction, even the all wool absolutely fast color $8.00 suits.

J. ABRAHAM'S Clothing House.

G. A. Sehlbrode, president of the Douglas County Sunday School Association, is informed from state headquarters that Prof. H. M. Hamill, a Sunday School worker of national renown, will be in Roseburg, April 11, 1897, and will have charge of the Sunday school convention to be held at that time. At a meeting of the superintendent this afternoon to take the preliminary steps for program, etc., the following were appointed a general committee of arrangements with authority to appoint other committees: Messrs. F. W. Woolley, J. G. Flook and William Perry. A cordial invitation is extended to the Sunday School workers of the county to attend.

Witcope's Dates Cancelled.

The following letter is self-explanatory: Portland, Or., Feb. 17, 1897. J. MICELLI, Roseburg, Or. SIR: Owing to the breaking down of our films last night at Salem, which renders the vitascope useless without the pictures, we are compelled to cancel our engagements further until new films ordered arrive from the East, and which we have telegraphed for but are unable to get the day that we will receive them.

The Wheat Market.

A San Francisco dispatch of Monday says: Wars and rumors of wars have caused a decline in wheat, both in local and foreign markets. Chicago has followed the rise in the Liverpool market, and San Francisco has taken its cue from Eastern and foreign markets. In the Liverpool market today wheat rose 1 penny per quarter, or 500 pounds, and Chicago, under the influence of this advance, advanced three points, while a similar advance was noted on the call board of the San Francisco produce exchange. In the San Francisco market there were large sales on the call board. May wheat, which on Saturday was $1.32 per cental, opened today at $1.33 and rose to $1.35. December wheat, which on Saturday closed at $1.18, opened today at $1.19 and rose to $1.20. The market closed strong. The bulls are particularly confident and jubilant over the favorable condition of the market.

Advices from New York of the same date says: The wheat market recorded to the European war news this morning, with an advance of 1/2c on Saturday's curb price, carrying May to 81 1/2c on the first sales. There was little excitement among local shorts until later cables bringing in more peaceful accounts somewhat allayed their fears. Speculation was larger than it has been in many weeks. A midday reaction of 1c was followed later by a full recovery on large purchases for export, aggregating 248,000 bushels. May wheat on this well reached 81 1/2c, and then fell off to 80 1/2c near the close.

At Portland the market was a trifle firmer. Walla Walla quoted at 80 c and 81c and Valley at 82 c 5/8c per bushel.
