VOL. XXVIII.

ROSEBURG, OREGON, THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1897.

A Celebrated French Plag-Ship of Five Years Ago Now Sold for Old time the Czar was received in Cherbourg by the most powerful fleet the French Government could get together, this old wreck lay unobserved in a corner of the harbor. Some thoughtful person has called attention to it in order to provide skeleton at the love feast between France and Russis. It reminds the French that though it is a fine thing to be able to fight the rest of Europe, it is Only five years ago, in 1891, the Marengo was the flagship of the French squadron which went to Cronstatt and received a tremendous welcome from the Russians. It was this reception which initiated the France-Russian alliance, and it is the Czar's last visit to France which has published it to the world as an established fact.

Up to that time France had been iso-ing a clayey hill. He says it should be built below the present road making a good grade and no hill. Well, Bro. Spalding, we know you do all you can, but you need more work and sid.

Last Friday was the end of the public school and the little folks of the primary department, Miss Ella Kent teacher, and the intermediate department, of Prof. Blanchard's, met in chapel and made addresses and sung songs, and dislogoes and sung songs, and dislogoes.

The Marsney, which is necessarily a subordinate in the alliance. A great army is an essential part of the national policy of Bussia, but a navy is a somewhat superfluous and very expensive luxury. France is, therefore, allowed to provide this. She must keep up a ruinous competition in ship building with England, in order that Russia, who is far stronger than England on land, may not fear her on the sea.

Milk Bricks. Milk may be bought by the brick in summer, like some kinds of ice-cream. It is frozen solid. From a fad, frozen milk has grown to be more or less of a necessity, in the warmer countries of Europe. The Belgian government designs to increase the trade at an annual outlay of $50,000, and in Copenhagen a company has been formed and arrangements have been completed for its regu-

Scrape all the scale insects off the fruit trees now, and hunt out every nest of insects. The red spider and brown mite which are becoming so bad in Colomite which are becoming so had in Colorado, can now be eradicated by spraying with kerosene emulsion of double strength, and we believe a good going over with a lye wash would have a great effect on the embryonic insects. The covered nests of the leaf roller should be mashed with a knife,—Field and Ferm.

Report of Roseburg Public Schools for Term Ending Feb. 19, 1897.

Brain Stems..

Hon. J. T. Bridges is at home sick with typboid fever. His course at the legislature is generally commended. He is one of the sensor House, tried to organize and legislate, but a few disappointed candidates for speaker obstructed all organization. Be they republicans or populiest they will soon find out how they stand. The idea of a republican majority in assembly saying Simon says thumbs up or down is ridiculous. Mitchell or not, the people demanded some legislation and we got none. Do those obstructionists want Sylvester P. as next U. S. senator? He is in a fair way to become such if the republicans don't act more in harmony.

we got none. Do those obstructionists want Sylvester P. as next U. S. senator? He is in a fair way to become such if the republicans don't act more in harmony. They should have organized and elected a U. S. senator. There are other fit republicans if they could not elect Mr. Mitchell. We need at once a republican senator in the U. S. senate. This past legislature is the best argument for electing U. S. a nators by popular vote.

"Up to that time France had been isolated in Europe. On land she was threatened by the triple alliance, the sele purpose of whose existence was to keep her in check. On the sea, her hereditary enemy, England, was always watching her coasts. Under these conditions it is no wonder that she well-comed with almost hyeterical delight an alliance with the mightlest empire in Europe.
