MARCH 4, 1897.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END.

When these lines meet the eyes of the readers of the PLAINDEALER we shall be living under a republican administration. At noon today Mr. McKinley was inaugurated President of the United States and assumed control of its affairs.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

The arguments of the papers of Honolulu that the objections to the annexation of the United States of the Sandwich Islands are principally based on the assertions made that the competition of Hawaiian sugar would run our own cane and beet sugar out of the market.

A populist contemporary states that failure of the legislature to organize will cost the state $200,000 in interest on warrants and $100,000 in the perpetuation of useless commissions.

Fusionists propose but the middle of the roaders dispose. Fusion may be accomplished in some localities but the middle of the roaders evidently intend to go it alone as a national party after this.

The avidity with which active political partisans inveigh against prosperity indicates that they would be willing to wreck all chance for anything of that kind in the hopes of gaining a moiety of political advantage.—Herald.

IN WASHINGTON.

McKinley Now President of the United States.—The Cabinet. At noon today on the steps at the east front of the capital, William McKinley of Ohio, was daily inaugurated president of the United States in the presence of a mighty throng.

The president-elect appeared in the best of spirits and showed no traces of his recent illness. It was generally remarked by onlookers that he was certainly stouter and of better complexion than when last in Washington.

A rough total of the number of the regular and militia soldiers and sailors in line in the big parade, shows an aggregate of 11,300 to 12,000. The escort of president McKinley numbered about 5000. The civic organizations vary in strength, but were estimated at 12,000.

On Tuesday night President and Mrs. Cleveland entertained at dinner Mrs. McKinley. The invitation was not a novelty, as it is always usual to a change of administration.

The resolution was opposed by Holt and advocated by Mitchell, who said, referring to the condition in the house: "It would now require the most drastic measures known to law to bring about organization. As senators, we had better peaceably go home than have the militia called out."

NEWS NOTES.

It is now President McKinley. Ex-president Cleveland is suffering from gout. Congress is expected to be convened in extra session March 15.

The states that voted for Bryan in 1896, in 1891 were either slave states or deserts. William Brown, a man of unbalanced mind, committed suicide at Tillamook Tuesday.

A Baker City girl with two suitors, named Mann and Mouse, very properly decided to be a Mann. Russell Montgomery, son of J. B. Montgomery, of Portland, Or., is a lieutenant in the Cuban army.

The $10,000 breach of promise case of Sarah E. Pierce against J. B. Coleman, at Eugene, has been dismissed. President Cleveland vetoed the immigration bill but the house passed it over the veto.

The Lane county grand jury, now in session at Eugene, consists of W. C. Coleman, J. T. Rowland, O. Green, F. H. McLean, William Preston, H. Kennep and A. J. Chapman. Frank A. Lux, a wealthy grain merchant, and member of the Lux Brewing Company, while out shooting in Contra Costa, Cal., accidentally shot himself Sunday.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Governor Tanner and Party on a Fast Train Encounter a Slide. The train containing Governor Tanner and his staff, on the way to Washington, came very near being dashed over a cliff by a slide. It is said to be one of the narrowest escapes in railway history.

Had the train struck them with any force at all, it must have been derailed, and in that place that meant a horrible accident. The roadbed there is nothing but a large cut in the face of a bluff.

Mrs. Sarah Weatherly, the subject of this sketch, died at her home in Elkton on the night of February 24th, 1897, in the 47th year of her age, after a lingering and painful illness of several months. Her disease was tumors of the bowels.

Flining Notes.

These are busy days at the Jewett mine. They are pushing ahead in the shaft, the ore body is now from seven to eight feet in width and getting richer all the time.

Dr. H. R. Littlefield, one of the chief spirits in the mining and milling enterprises of Olalla, was registered at the McClallan Tuesday. The man who neglects his health for the sake of the money he is getting is dancing with death.

Enclosed please find at once sent stamps, Texas, for which please send me a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers. Any one can say the best blood-purifier in existence."

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

After having been confined to the house for eleven days and paying out $25 in doctor bills without benefit, Mr. Frank Dolson of Saint Ste. Marie, Mich., was cured by one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm costing 25 cents and has not since been troubled with that complaint.

Mask Ball. April 1st, there will be an extra prize for the best bicycle trick rider. One prize for best decorated wheel. For particulars see next paper.

Death is a dance in which death always comes out victor. If a man will only spare enough time to take care of his health, to eat and rest and sleep properly, and when he feels slightly indisposed will resort to the right remedy, he may work as hard as he pleases, and pile up money steeply high, without fear of untimely death.

Enclosed please find at once sent stamps, Texas, for which please send me a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers. Any one can say the best blood-purifier in existence."

THE LEGISLATIVE FIASCO.

The Drastic Treasures of the Davis House Were Impotent. On Monday last a dispatch from Salem published in these columns on that day briefly outlined the course adopted by the Davis house to compel the attendance of absentees and proceed with the organization along the original lines, ignoring the action of the house in its removal of Speaker pro tem, Davis and the election of Smith of Marion as speaker pro tem, and the subsequent election of Hon. H. L. Benson of Josephine, permanent speaker.

The Kentucky authorities seem disposed to grant too many beligerent rights to the lynching bee. Six lynchings in six days is a pretty good record. It is said "they rested on the Sabbath."

Indian War Veterans.

Gov. Lord yesterday received letters from Hon. W. R. Ellis and Hon. Binger Hermann, in reply to letters from him notifying them of the communication recently addressed to Speaker Reed by Oregon's chief executive, asking for favorable action on the Indian war veterans' pension bill.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic will be pleased to know that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and if taken as soon as the disease appears, it will prevent the attack. For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.
