This medicine has accomplished remarkable cures of all blood diseases. It I noticed at the depot a few days ago, a coop of prairie chickens marked toHorsent from Condon, Or., by Jasper sley, an old time resident, who now lives up there. I am told Dr. Hawkins and Postmaster Lyons had them sent and have turned them loose on Putnam's ranch in Tin Pot valley. It is hoped they will thrive and our hills be as full of them as now of the China pheasants They are preity, and look some like the Bob White quails of the East.
