The Eagle Screams.

I am an American Eagle, And my wings flap together, Likewise I roost high, And can eat bananas raw. I am an eagle, and I have Seven bills and hoars, But she cannot Sit on me. Will she please put that In her organ and grind it? I am an eagle, and I have peace, And I was born without teeth, But I have got talons, That reach from the storm-Beaten coast of the Atlantic To the golden shores of the Pacific. And I use the Rocky mountains As whetstones to sharpen them. I never cackle till I Lay an egg; And I point with pride To the egg I've laid. In the last hundred years or so, I'm game from The point of my beak To the star-spangled tip Romy tail feathers, And when I begin here, To scratch gravel Mind your eyes! I'm the Cock of the Walk, And the Henbird of the Goodness Liberty. The only Gallinaceous E pluribus inum On Record. I'm an Eagle from Eagleville With a scream on me that makes Thunder sound like Dropping cotton On a still morning, And my present address is Hall Columbia, U. S. A. See. —New York Sun.

The Way of the World.

Some people to your face will flatter, And when ere your back is turned, They will give you such a raking, That by other folks you're spurned. If men would learn to love the truth, And not so much abhor it, If the poor would more together work, The world would be the better for it. HERMAN BURSEER. Wilbur, Or. Our Fame Has Gone Abroad. In the United States senate on the sixteenth instant, the question of a tariff tax on a certain cherry stock was being discussed. In the course of the debate, Senator Vest of Missouri said: "I have been under the impression, from observation and experience, that the finest cherries in the world are raised in the United States. I have never tasted any such cherries elsewhere. It is said that they have cherries equal to them in France, but I have never seen them. The cherry of Washington and Oregon is the finest fruit in my opinion, that was ever put in the mouth of mortal man. After eating them, which you can do in any quantity without any injury to your health, I have always thought if it had been a cherry in the garden of Eden, instead of an apple, I would have gone very far toward excusing Adam for taking a bite." The question now is, What will the house do with the senate amendments to the tariff bill? The Baltimore Sun's Washington correspondent, though against the bill and both house and senate programmes, says there is little question that the senate schedule will be the law. Reed and Dingley are in daily consultation with the senate leaders, and the modification of the sugar schedule is said to have removed the last necessity for disagreement, perhaps even conference. The submission of the Hawaiian annexation treaty is believed to have worked, as was intended, to prevent a dispute over the reciprocity arrangement. The conviction is said to be general in republican circles that promptness in getting the bill through and letting congress adjourn is the first consideration, and minor desires will be waived. This is good news, if true.—Oregonian. The recent developments in congress in which a large number of democrats have abandoned the free-trade theory and supported high protection, coupled with the fact that a large number of democrats in every state where there are campaigns this fall have refused to support the silver issue, are rapidly disgusting the populist leaders and deciding them to dissolve the partnership existing between those two parties, and it is probable that fusion between populists and democrats will be impossible in the future. The Nebalem Times vouches for the fact that there is a spruce tree in God's valley, a few miles from Nehalem, which measures over 81 feet in circumference at the ground and 60 feet in circumference 30 feet from the ground. The first limb is 10 feet from the ground and measures 13 feet in circumference. The tree was killed by worms about four years ago. The stock men of Klamath county are receiving good prices for beef cattle. Five cents on foot often being paid. It is evident the worst is over for the cattle men and the low prices that have prevailed for the past few years will never rule again. The range supply is getting shorter but there is no falling off in the demand. The closing sentence of President McKinley's address at the Nashville centennial June 11th, 1897: "Let us always remember that what ever political differences have existed, or may still exist, we are still Americans before we are partisans, and value the welfare of all the people above party or section." Spectators were excluded from a police court investigation at Grants Pass one day last week, in which a woman had a boy arrested for bad language. The court seemed to think it was a case of "nip and tuck" and so dismissed the matter. Notice to Contractors. Sealed bids will be received by the Roseburg Mining company of Douglas county, Oregon, until 8 o'clock p. m. on the 10th day of July, 1897, for the construction of a tunnel on Mining Claim in NW 1/4, Sec. 17, T. 23 S., R. 4 West.
