THE FEDERAL SENATE.

Changes in March, 1901, and Some Possibilities.

On the 4th of March, 1899, the terms of 30 federal senators will expire. Of these 11 are republicans, 15 democrats, 3 silver republicans and 1 populist.

The latest estimate which has been made gives the republicans 49 votes after March 4, 1899.

The terms of the following republican senators will expire March 4, 1899: Aldrich, Rhode Island; Burrows, Michigan; Clark, Wyoming; Davis, Minnesota; Hale, Maine; Hanna, Ohio; Hawley, Connecticut; Lodge, Massachusetts; Proctor, Vermont; Quay, Pennsylvania; and Wilson, of Washington.

The democrats whose terms will end at the same time are: Bate, Tennessee; Cockrell, Missouri; Daniel, Virginia; Faulkner, West Virginia; Money, Mississippi; Gosman, Maryland; Gray, Delaware; Mills, Texas; Mitchell, Wisconsin; Murphy, New York; Pasco, Florida; Ruch, North Dakota; Smith, New Jersey; Turpie, Indiana, and white of California.

The silver republicans going out are: Cannon of Utah, Mantle of Montana, and Stewart of Nevada, and one populist, Allen of Nebraska, will also go. It is regarded as certain that the republicans will hold eight of their 11 states, namely: Rhode Island, Michigan, Minnesota, Maine, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont and Pennsylvania.

They expect also to hold Ohio and to gain West Virginia, Maryland, Wisconsin, New York, North Dakota and New Jersey. The democrats will hold Tennessee, Missouri, Virginia, Texas and Florida. Money of Mississippi has already been re-elected. The democrats will probably lose West Virginia, Maryland, Wisconsin, New York, North Dakota and New Jersey, and will have to fight for Delaware. They may gain a senator in Utah, and it is considered as possible that Mr. William J. Bryan may be elected to succeed Allen, the Nebraska populist.

The legislators just chosen in Maryland, Virginia and Ohio will elect senators. In Virginia Mr. Daniel is expected to succeed himself, and in Ohio Mr. Hanna expects to be re-elected. In 1901, 17 republicans, 11 democrats, 1 populist and 1 silver republican will go out.

Choate in 1856.

A striking evidence of the dread and aversion which the republican party aroused in some conservative minds, even in New England, in the early days of its existence, is shown in these words from a letter by Choate in 1856 to the Whig State Committee of Maine: "The first duty of Whigs is to unite with some organization of our countrymen to defeat and dissolve the new geographical party calling itself republican."

"The question for each and every one of us is, by what vote can I do most to prevent the madness of the times from working its maddest act—the very ecstasy of its maddest—the permanent formation and the actual present triumph of a party which knows one-half of America only to hate and dread it; from whose unconquered and revolutionary banner fifteen stars have been erased or have fallen; in whose national anthem the old and endearing airs of Eutaw Springs and the King's Mountain and Yorktown, and those later of New Orleans and Beana Vista and Chalmette, breathe no more?"

"The triumph of such a party puts the union in danger. * * * And yet some men would have us go on laughing and singing at a present peril, the mere apprehension of which as a distant and dire possibility could sadden the heart of the Father of his Country and dictate the grave and grand warning of the farewell address."

They Will Not Let Up.

"It is a good time," says the Chicago "Times-Herald," "to draw in those long, labored calamity editorials on the 'impending treasury deficit' before they are frost-bitten."

Nay, nay, good brother; these dismal lucubrations shall not cease. If they are to be no more forthcoming, wherewithal shall the free-trade croaker and the mungwump kicker be comforted?

These fellows thrive on disaster and fatten on stringency. No matter if the situation be reversed, as likely it will, and a healthy surplus take the place of the inherited deficit. In that case they howl about excessive taxation and lie about the causes that produced the prosperous condition.

They will never let up; be assured of that.—Economist.

Governor Lord has appointed Squire Farrar, of Salem, as a member of the state board of equalization for the third judicial district, to succeed S. D. Gibson, deceased. Mr. Farrar is a pioneer citizen of Salem and was for many years engaged in business as a grocer in that city. He has large property interests in and about Salem. He has always been a republican.

For Over Fifty Years.

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

A party left Seattle recently, and will attempt to reach Dawson City over the snow. The chances are they will either perish or return soon.

The endless chain of which Mr. Cleveland complained has ceased to revolve. Its missing link is the democratic party. —Yamhill Reporter.

A New York minister has announced three Sunday evening sermons on "kissing," "dancing" and "dirting." That clergyman probably spent his summer vacation at the seashore.—Special.

A Lane county woman will consent to let her husband go to Klondike in the spring if he will draw up a paper to the effect that if he hasn't returned in three years it means that he will never return, and that she is at liberty to marry again.

Seattle is said to be filled with gamblers, who run things high. Recently at that city Fatty Nickerson got ahead of the experts $5000. The Klondike excitement has taken a great many to that city, and they have found plenty of gold.

The Mitchell-McBride combination are said to be willing to concede the state ticket to Corbett's friends if they can name the legislative ticket. That is probably the line on which "harmony" will be restored between the two bands of slightly factional brothers.—Salem Journal.

A Kentucky pastor stood up in his pulpit and affirmed there is no devil, and his congregation ejected him from the church and fired about twenty pistol shots after him. By this time he is probably converted to the belief that there is more than one church-going devil in Kentucky.

Items like this are now frequent in Northwest papers: All the warehouses in Pullman, Washington, are overflowing, and the grain is being stacked on the outside and roofed over. The yield is greater than ever before known in Whitman county, and will possess a valuation equal to that at which the entire county was assessed last year.

A new method has recently been invented for making strong and reliable telegraph and telephone poles of paper. They are said to be impervious to the weather and very durable. Water pipes are also made of paper in England, and are said to be a success. A chimney has been built of paper at Breslau, which is said to be absolutely fireproof. It is the only chimney of the kind known.

Reduced rate of interest is a fact that stands against the alleged scarcity of money. In all financial centers interest is very low. Never before, indeed, was it so low. Here in the Northwest every one knows that the interest rate has been greatly reduced from the rate of former years. Money can be had anywhere, at very low rate of interest, if only the lender be assured of the safety of the loan.—Oregonian.

"Bryan's virulent warfare upon Senator Hanna has been the most contemptible part of the campaign of 1897," says the Omaha Bee, and the sentiment is endorsed by every right-minded man. To abuse a rich man simply because he is rich is to rebuke economy and thrift, for few men become rich unless they possess these qualities. Neither the ability to make money honestly nor the disposition to save it is justly censurable. Hanna made his money in business, and while acquiring wealth he has done more to create opportunities for labor to earn living wages than Bryan and all his mining speculators have ever done.—Telegram (dem.)

"As I look back over more than a third of a century that I have sat on this bench of the supreme court of the United States, I am more and more impressed with the immeasurable importance of this court. Now and then we hear it spoken of as an aristocratic feature of a republican government, but it is the most democratic of all. It carries neither the purse nor the sword, but possesses the power of declaring the law, and in that is found the safeguard which keeps the whole mighty fabric of the government from rushing to destruction. This negative power, the power of resistance, is the only safety of a popular government."—Justice Field.

A. K. Peterson, who has been fishing in the Fraser river, says that the pack of fish there and in Alaska is large, and that the cannerymen have really more fish than they know what to do with. On the Sound fishing is still going on, and the amount of second-grade fish packed will be enormous. Mr. Peterson says the fishermen on the Fraser river and in Alaska attribute the increased amount of fish caught yearly to the killing off of the seal herds by pelagic sealing. As the fish seem to be increasing, instead of diminishing, notwithstanding the vast quantities caught, there may be something in this theory. The hair seals, which frequent the mouth of the Columbia, eat salmon and kill lots of them, and probably the fur seal does the same. A good healthy seal should eat a salmon a day, or two or three of the bluebacks they catch in the Fraser and in Alaska, and the immense herds of seal which go up to the Behring sea every year would consume vast numbers. If the herd of sea lions, which have their headquarters at Seal rocks, just south of False Tillamook, were exterminated, the number of fat Chinook salmon coming into the Columbia would be greatly increased.—Oregonian.

While Baby Sleeps.

The angels smile as from the shadow of stillness comes the silvery sweet echo of a young mother's lullaby. Gently to and fro the cradle swings, while the soft musical notes lull to repose the delicate bud of humanity. The sunlight drifting in at the window leaves in the room a pathway of golden glory. The tired mother looks down on her sleeping babe and she drifts backward into the days of own childhood. Across the fields of time an echo steals along, distinctly clear, and reverberating into cadences softly rising and falling. Her mother's voice and the years glide by, and the past blends with the future, and her own baby will have grown to manhood, and the visions and dreams are deliciously haunting, when perhaps life's honors will crown him and joy pervade the sphere, and then another's cradle will swing to and fro, and then the dream will be over and—Baby stirs, coos, and tiny hands clutch the covering.

The young mother awakens from her reverie and tending over the infant form, raises it to her bosom crying with maternal pride, that, "The sweetest dreams of all time are those mellowing into the reality of the present."

A Big Ditch.

A correspondent of the Myrtle Creek Beacon thus describes the big ditch of the A. B. C. Mining Company now completed:

"The mine to which this ditch will carry water, is situated seven miles from Glendale on the west side of Cow creek and embraces 2200 acres of mining land. The ditch heads in a small canyon through which a little creek flows, on the south side of Battle mountain. For a distance of a mile and a half the ditch is six feet on top, 2 feet in the bottom, and 3 feet deep. Here it strikes Perkins creek, which is also tapped. From Perkins creek the ditch is larger, being 4 1/2 feet on top, 3 feet in the bottom, and 3 feet deep, and is of this size for a distance of nearly four miles, where it then strikes Merriam creek. From here for a distance of 28 rods the ditch is again of different dimensions, being 5 feet on top, 2 feet in the bottom, and 3 feet deep, and this ditch will empty into a mammoth reservoir now under construction and when completed will be 200 feet long by 50 wide, and 6 feet deep. The present wet weather is delaying the work somewhat. This Company will employ about 25 men this winter and will run five giants, one of them being ordered lately.

The widow appeals to the sympathy of even the most callous-hearted. Here is a woman still in the springtime of life, deprived of the stay and support upon which she had every right to depend, and her future overshadowed by the loss of the one man upon whom she had centered her love and affection. A man has no right to sacrifice his life in the mad race for money, by neglecting his bodily health. A man owes it to himself and to his wife and children to live a long and helpful life. If a man would live he must keep healthy.

Health is a matter of a little patch here and there. Look after the little ailments and the big ailments will take care of themselves. They will never come. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery keeps the body in perfect health. It promptly eradicates the little ailments that bring serious illness. If the serious malady has already arrived it promptly cures it by removing the cause. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver and makes the appetite keen and hearty. It makes the assimilation of food perfect and supplies the blood with the life-giving elements that build new and healthy tissue and firm muscles. It tones and builds up the nerves. It drives impurities and disease germs from every organ of the body. It cures all diseases due to overwork and worry and faulty nutrition. It is an unfailing remedy for weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, severe cough, bronchitis, asthma and kindred affections. It cures 98 per cent of all cases of consumption.

Mr. Isaac J. Downer, of Spring Valley, Rockland Co., N. Y., writes: "For three years I had suffered from that terrible disease, consumption, and heart-disease. Before taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I had wasted away to a skeleton; could not sleep nor rest, and many times wished to die to be out of my misery. Step by step the signs and realities of returning health slowly but surely developed themselves while taking the Discovery. Today I tip the scales at 125, and am well and strong. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' has also cured my daughter of a very bad ulcer located on the thigh."
