PLACER, November 29, 1897. Thanksgiving was very generally observed at this place by the usual social gotherings and dinners. We were the guests of L. There were 30 invited guests p ceent, all of whom did ample justice to the roast turkey and numerous good things prepared by Miss Carrie and Miss Linda Rose. It was a very pleasant party it deed. The run made was a very short one, only eleven loads of ore having been crushed. However, it proved to be the best run according to

The democrate of this country will have to learn, as truths, these things be-fore they can ever again hope to control the government of this republic:

That bimetalism or the concurrent use of gold and silver coin at a parity is a myth.

That there are never two monetary standards in use at the same time.

That there is no possibility of keeping two metals at the same valuation.

That no government can keep any one metal at a valuation, much less two metals at a same valuation. All the nations on earth cannot do it.

That the stamp of the government creates no value, but merely certifies to certain conditions. That there is money of final payment called primary money. It is one thing only. All other mediums of exchange are token money-not real money, but conveniences.

That that money is primary money which is held in highest value by custom of the merchants. All other mediums of exchange are measured by it. Laws can not change this, although laws can force the acceptance of a depreciated and less valued medium, and thus rob the recipient of his due.

That gold is the world's improved machinery of exchange. It has come to stay.

That legal-tender laws are obsolete. That greenbacks are promises to pay, and the sooner the promises are redeemed the better for the country.

That it is the duty of the government of the United States to retire from the banking business That there is no natural antagonism between labor and capital.

That socialism is negation of progress, and that progress is the keynote of the That the federal government has the right to execute its own court processes. That the credit of the United States must be sustained —Mobile Register.

"When I first began to take your 'Favorite Prescription.' four years ago. I was suffering with local weakness and heart trouble. At times I could hardly endure the pain in my sides, quite low down, and had such a pain between my shoulders I could not aleep at might. Was just astired in the morning as at night. Was just astired in the morning as at night. At times there was a very sharp pain around my heart. When I would sloop over there was a dull aching just under the heart. My head ached and was continually sore to the touch. I took ten bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I can most truly say that as a result I never felt better in my life. I was more like a young girl than a mother of a family. The pain all left me, so I know that your medicines will do all that medicine can do."
