The annual school election for this district was held in this city Monday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by W. F. Benjamin, chairman of the board of directors. After the reading of the report of the clerk, J. W. Wright in a neat speech placed in nomination G. W. Jones for director. There being no other nominations Mr. Jones was elected without opposition. Mrs. Allie Sheridan was re-elected clerk as a matter of course.

A. W. Stanton of Brockway, this county, will engage in the sheep business in Montana. Mr. Stanton is an old sheep man, who, with thousands of others, was driven out of the business by the last democratic administration, and now that the signs of returning prosperity are seen on every hand, he will again engage in the business. Mr. Stanton's family will still make Douglas county their home.

C. B. Cannon desires it to be understood that he is not a candidate for any office, the statement in the Review to the contrary not withstanding. Claud was a candidate for the postoffice at Roseburg and was strongly endorsed by his friends for that position, but another man has been appointed, and as a good republican should do he is ready to acquiesce in the result. The man who adopts this course, merits and will receive the commendation of his party.

Miss Laura E. Jones of the North Douglas Watchman, spent Monday in the city. This office acknowledges a pleasant visit with Miss Jones. She expresses herself as pleased with the encouragement she is receiving from the people of North Douglas.

Hon. Plin Cooper, made this office both a social and business call last Monday. Your Uncle Plin is a mighty fine man and a good citizen, but we are sorry to hear of his wandering away from the republican fold, where he has done such good service in the past. Better come home, Uncle Plin.

Co. A, O. N. G.

On last Wednesday evening a number of our citizens, by special invitation, had the pleasure of spending the evening with Co. A, O. N. G., at their armory, the occasion being the regular company drill and inspection. After the usual hour spent in drill Capt. Hamlin, in a very eloquent and patriotic address, reviewed the history of the citizen soldiery of this country during the past, and welcomed the citizens present. The company and their guests then partook of a substantial luncheon, served by the members of the company.

Mayor Marsters then brought in cigars, and those present spent an hour in social fellowship. Quite a large number of old veterans were present and were especially interested in the proceedings. Short addresses were delivered by M. McCoy, Capt. Conner, J. W. Wright, Capt. G. Goble, John Hamlin and Col. Thos. Gibson on the part of the veterans. Mayor Maisters, D. S. K. Buick, E. D. Stratford and C. B. Cannon also delivered short addresses, in which they complimented the company and its officers on their soldierly bearing and proficiency in drill. D. P. Fisher and O. C. Brown on the part of the company, thanked those present for the interest which the visitors had manifested in the welfare of Co. A. Prof. Brown in his remarks entertained those present with some reminiscences of the Hood River campaign of last summer, which brought down the house. Altogether the affair was a very pleasant one, and every one present went away with their opinion strenthened that Co. A. is the crack company of the Oregon National Guard.

The company voted in five new members during the evening, bringing their number up to fifty-eight.

Mahara's Minstrels.

At the Opera House Saturday night amusement lovers will have a chance to witness a real, old-fashioned minstrel show, where we can sit and while away a pleasant two hours and a half enjoying enchanting music, delightfulul singing, clever comedians and dances. The show comprises thirty-five people, traveling in its own private Pullman Palace Car. There will be a sensational street parade at noon, which is said to be finer than a coon camp meeting.

A Free Silver Talk.

Monday afternoon a large number of our citizens, mostly democrats and populists, with a sprinkling of republicans and a few ladies, gathered at the court house to listen to the speech of Hon. Chas. A. Towne of Minnesota, chairman of the free silver republican national committee. The speaker during his remarks took considerable pains to illustrate, by meane of a glass and inkstand, which happened to be handy, assisted by a couple of half dollars from his trousers pocket, that money was a "medium of exchange." Only that and nothing more. For instance, one man owned a glass and his neighbor an inkstand; each wanted the propreerty of the other; they exchanged property and were happy; they had no use for money. But one day the man of glasses wanted antoher inkstand, and behold, he could find no man who wanted to exchange with him. So he sold his glass for a piece of money and bought an inkstand from the first person he met. Once he was on to the money racket he found what a convenient thing it was. No more hunting all over the neignborhood to find some one who wanted to swap. All he had to do was to sell another glass for another piece of money and he was immediately beseiged by men who had inkstands to sell. Hence, everybody wanted money, and strife for money waxed great in the land. All engaged fiercely in the strife. Some worked for money, some wrote for money and even the preacher preached for money, and possibly, we are led to infer, the speaker talked for money. And there were two kinds of money—gold and silver. So the gold bugs conspired together and committed the crime of '73, detroyed silver—half the money of the world, and their gold was doubled in value, and therefore democrats, populists and free silver republicans should unite to smite the "gold bug" party and to restore the "money of the constitution." The speaker eulogized the old soldiers and paid a glowing tribute to Lincoln, and was heartily applauded whenever the audience thought the republican party received a blow in the "short ribs." The speech, as a whole, was heartily enjoyed and appreciated by those of his faith, and was the cause of much comment on street corners and elsewhere.

Elkton.

"Sunshine and showers
Make May flowers."

F. F. Wells was in town last Sunday.

P. W. Rhodes was buying cattle in Elkton last week.

P. W. Beckley had the misfortune to sprain his ankle recently. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Miss Nettie Anderson of Kellogg was visiting friends here last Sunday.

Miss Ida Levins has returned home from Scottsburg where she has been calling on friends.

The boys, we are sorry to say, were hunting coyotes last Sunday.

Dr. Gilmore of Oakland was called to Elkton a few days since, to render medical aid to Mrs. J. M. Stark, who is quite ill.

Ed Haines and P. W. Beckley each killed a coyote last week. We guess the coyotes will be taken down a "notch or two" if you boys keep on.

Little Dottie Wilson was so unfortunate as to get run over by a lumber car last week. We are sorry to hear it Dottie, and hope you can come to Sunday School next Sunday, for we miss you.

TOM.

Stirred up a Hornet's Nest.

President Hawley, by his lecture on John Brown has stirred up a hornet's nest. Papers all over the state are denouncing his lecture, and now the G. A. R. Posts are taking a hand and the chances are that by the time they get through with him, he will think John Brown's soul has marched all over him. Below will be found the resolutions adopted by J. W. Geary Post No, 7 and the Woman's Relief Corps No. 4 of Eugene:

WHEREAS, At a lecture delivered at the Christian Church on the evening of February 26, 1898, by President Hawley, he stated that John Brown was a traitor, liar, thief and murderer; and

WHEREAS, History disproves such statement, as falee; therefore be it

Resolved, That the G. A. R., W. R. C., and friends assembled on March 4, 1898, not only disapprove said statement but condemn the language and sentiment which prompted the same, and which tend to create a sentiment which is not founded on truth.

At the Presbyterian Church.

There was no services Sabbath morning except the Sunday school.

The evening chorus service was attended by a good and appreciative audience. The select readings by Miss Katie Fullerton, Miss Flossie Shambrook and Miss Ruby Gordon were of a high order and well received. Music is always a prominent feature of the services and the solo rendered by Miss Dolly Snyder deserves special mention. The address by Rev. R. B. Dilworth was interesting as they always are.

After years of untold suffering from piles, B. W. Pursell of Knitnersville, Pa., was cured by using a single box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Skin diseases such as eczema, rash, pimples and obstinate sores are readily cured by this famous remedy. A. C. Marsters & Co.

Frances E. Willard Memorial Service

A large crown gathered at the M. E. Church on last Sonday afternoon, the occasion being the services held in memory of Miss Frances E. Willard, the great leader of the Woman's Christain Temperance Union.

The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and draped with white, the colors of the W. C. T. U. The services were opened by singing, after which Rev. A. D. Westfall led in prayer and scripture reading. Rev. F. L. Moore then followed with a very eloquent and instructive address on the life and work of Miss Willard. E. D. Stratford delivered a short address on the evangelical work of Miss Willard and the Woman's Christain Temperance Union. The best thing on the program was a paper by Mrs. Helen Ferguson, of Edenbower, which was rich in thought and expression. A large delegation was present from the Edenbower union. A choir made up from the different church choirs of the city added much to the success of the services, a solo by Mr Stevenson being especially fine. Altogether the service was a complete success. At the close the following resolutions were reported as expressing the sentiment of those present:

WHEREAS, We have been informed through the public press of the whole country of the death of Miss Francis E. Willard, who was taken by the Supreme Ruler of the Universe from the midst of her labors on the 18th day of February, last; and

WHEREAS, The death of this pure, good woman is universally considered to be an irreparable loss to the cause of Christianity, home life, purity and temperance throughout the civilized world; and

WHEREAS, We, too, would mingle our grief with those who mourn, and record our estimation of her most estimable character and worthy life and labors. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in her uncompromising warfare against the prevailing vices and evil habits of the times, and to her untirtng devotion to the cause of the physical, intellectual and spiritual elevation of mankind, we regard our departed friend and sister one of God's noblest examples to help, cheer, and inspire the human race.

Resolved, That there is but one expression and that one is of grief at so great a loss. It was a sudden transition from toil to rest, from grace to glory. She was so pure, so true, so good, so invaluable to society and to the world.

Basket Social.

Abraham Lincoln Circle No. 2. ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic will give a basket social at the Academy hall, Saturday evening, March 12, 1898. Baskets containing supper for two will be sold at auction. All come and have a good time. Following is the programme: Music, address of welcome, Rev. Howell; duet, Misses Gordon and Jacobs; response, Rev. R. B. Dilworth; vocal solo, Miss Ruby Gordon; recitation, Miss Clara McCoy. Auction of baskets.

Struck by the Local.

The north bound Southern Pacific local No. 17, knocked a tramp off of the track at the divide, four miles north of here, Monday morning. The tramp had evidently sat down on his bundle to rest, going to sleep. He was brought to this place and Marshal McFarland took him to the city jail and Dr. Snapp looked after his injuries which consisted of severe bruises. His name is Walter Whitehead and he claims San Francisco as his home.—Cottage Grove Messenger,

Call for Mass Convention.

To the silver republican voters who believe in the free coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1: You are earnestly requested to be present at a mass convention to be held in Roseburg on Saturday, March 19th. 1898, for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention to be held in the city of Portland on March 23, 1898.
