One of the finest and best equipped railroads is the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. On our recent trip through South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois we tried this railroad and know whereof we speak. The road is splendidly equipped with fast trains, the coaches are all furnished with the latest improvements and it is a pleasure to ride with these people. They employ none but sober, industrious men who constantly look after the comfort and safety of the traveling public. Anyone traveling in the above or adjoining states should take the Milwaukee road by all means if it is convenient to do so. If you wish information concerning this excellent and popular road ask any ticket agent, or write to C. H. Eddy, General Agent, at Portland, Or., and he will gladly give it.

Admiral Dewey Has Engaged the Spanish Fleet

AND SWEEP IT FROM THE SEAS

There will be no "Tomorrow" for the Spanish in Asiatic Waters.

"We have met the enemy and they are ours." This time it is a whole Spanish squadron. There appears to be no doubt but that the American squadron, in the Asiatic waters, under the command of Admiral Dewey, has engaged and sunk almost if not all the Spanish squadron of Manila harbor in the Philippine Islands. The details of the engagement can not be obtained at this hour, but it will be known when the full account is obtained that the Spanish fleet has been either destroyed or captured and that our marines are in possession of the Philippines. There are also reports of serious uprising of the populace in Spain, which presage the overthrow of the Spanish Empire. The next few days will probably be rought with incidents of the greatest importance. Below we give a description of the two squadrons which have just fought the most important battle in modern naval warfare.

CAMP MCKINLEY.
IRVINGTON PARK, April 29, 1898.

ED. PLAIND DEALER: Company A, has gone into quarters at Camp McKinley in Irvington Park. The boys were served with a nice breakfast, and are comfortable bivouaced, and every thing quiet and serene. The trip down was one continued ovation, every town and station was densely thronged with citizens who came out to cheer the boys in blue.

In many places we were informed that business houses were closed, the whole country taking a holiday; but while this holiday appearance might be suggested by the throngs of people, the waving of flags and the seas of flowers that were lavished, yet there was that deep, earnest undertone which could never be mistaken for levity. It was the spectacle of a true and deep American patriotism aroused to an intensity such as has not been felt for a generation. "Boys, remember the Maine," was repeated from thousands of lips. It will never be hard to fight in a cause backed up by such a sentiment. The "taps" are sounding which must close these observations. Will write again when opportunity and subject matter present themselves.

Havana Bay.

Republished by request from The Inter Ocean of April 2nd.

I want to go a-vailing!
Out upon the briny deep,
For I've got some pressin' business
That ain't ought to keep.
Ship me to Havana bay,
Where torpedoes careless play
An' accidents are happenin' in a most peculiar way.

To that same Havana bay,
Where the Maine at anchor lay,
An' her sailors sleepin' peaceful were all blown to judgment day.

I'm no great hand at sailin',
I'm a lubber on the sea;
The farm an' Jennie need me—
But there's voices callin' me—
Callin', callin', night an' day,
Callin' so I cannot stay.

Callin' so I'm mighty certain I've got business down that way.
In that same Havana bay,
Where the Maine at anchor lay,
An' her sailors sleepin' peaceful were all blown to judgment day.

There are graves I want to visit,
There's a wreck I want to see;
I've a message for the Spaniard
That those voices gave to me.
So just ship me right away,
Ship me to Havana bay,
Where our sailors on our warship hadn't even time to pray.

To that same Havana bay,
Where the Maine at anchor lay,
An' her sailors sleepin' peaceful were all blown to judgment day.
