Come home Story, come home.

A doctor never pays for a cigar at a drug store.

It is'nt plain Joe Lyons any more, but Judge Joseph Lyons.

Medfords high school, graduated a a class of seventeen.

Wonder what Uncle Pitn Cooper thinks about democra tic political honesty now?

A man can get a reputation for being wise, by smply keeping his mouth shut.

No man is so worthless that he can't get good men to recommend him for office.

Never open an umbrella in the house, it brings more bad luck than to break a looking glass.

The only two successful candidates on the fusion ticket in Jackson county were democrats of course.

Torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers, appear to cut but little ice. What are they for any how?

Now watch the two per cent a month town "reformers" juggle the country fellows out of the deputyships.

Why don't some of the numerous fleets in the West India waters set the sky afire above Havana for a change.

Cyclones may be all right in Texas, but they are out of their path in Oregon. Cyclone Davis has made his last biennial appearance in Oregon.

A Roseburg girl has enlisted a company, of which she is captain without the permission of Gov. Lord, and she drills it seven nights a week.

When a christian scientist loses a patient, the people raise a big howl, but when a regular doctor loses a patient it is regarded as a dispensation of providence.

It was a cold day for the "hold up" populists. U'Ren was defeated for Senator in Clackamus county, and H. L. Barkley was snowed under to the tune of 400 majority.

Douglas county is proud of Hon. Geo. M. Brown, her favorite son. To be elected to so important an office as district attorney, by so large a majority in a district which was so strongly fusion as this, is a compliment which is accorded to but few men.

There are a number of "reform" statesmen in the state, who spent all the money they had and all they could borrow, in attempting to induct themselves into a fat office, along reform lines, who will be content to allow the "plutocrats" to run things for a while.

W. S. U'Ren of "hold up fame, has brought suit against an Oregon City paper for $10,000 damages for defamation of character. The voters of U'Ren's district have by a majority of about 400 put the stamp of their disapproval on his character. He had better let it go at that.

On account of the delay in receiving the returns from Scottsburg, the official canvass of the vote could not be made before today, and is not completed so as to enable us to publish the official returns in this issue. The result however will not be different from that given in our last issue.

Salem Journal: Secretary of State Kincaid is very much disappointed over the defeat of the Union ticket. He says it seems as though the people were not disposed to ask any questions but vote blindly anything that bears the name Republican.

No they won't. Kincaid's name appeared on the ticket as a silver republican, and he never claimed to be any thing but a republican and yet the republicans refused to vote for him.

While other things figured in the defeat of the union ticket in Jackson county, it must not be forgotten that many democrats scratched populists on the union ticket, a fact which is proven by the large majorities which democrats on the ticket got over the populists. This is not a surprise, as it was understood that some people could never break away from their love for party.—Medford Monitor-Miner.

Our Foreign Trade shows an excess of exports over imports which is beyond precedent. In April the exports were about $22,000,000 larger, and the imports $45,000,000 smaller, than in April, 1897. For the ten months of the current fiscal year, the balance of trade in our favor on the merchandise account amounted to $515,000,000. At this rate, the balance for the year would be about $600,000,000. This is more than double the balance of the year 1897, although that was larger than in any previous year.

You may think that some of the country reformers will get positions as deputies but they wont. There are to many hungry town reformers, who make their living farming the farmers, and loaning money at 10 per cent interest and 20 per cent commission, who have to be provided for.

Populism and democracy mix as readily as oil and water. Fesion will meet the same fate it has in Oregon in our sister state, Washington, next fall, if it is attempted again. Our democratic brethren who went off after the fusion dame I probably now see what a fickle flirt the old girl is.—Portland Despatch (Dem.)

The Review's slanderous attack will be fully answered later, and all parties thereto fully ventilated. The charges are false, as we shall be able to show, yet he would be an exceptionally good man who would pass through four years of Democratic hell without owing a dollar. We may somewhere owe an honest dollar, but we never started a paper in a town, and after running it six months ceased its publication and with four or five hundred paid up yearly subscriptions in our pocket absconded and forced our poor old wash-woman, with three little children, to take a newspaper published in a distant town in payment of our wash bill. You goggle-eyed cur.—Oakland Gazette.

H. W. Scott, in the Oregonian of June 8th takes occasion, to abuse and vilify Senator McBride. In the article in question, Scott says:

"He has encouraged the federal officials and their partisans, in all parts of the state, in their various combinations with the democrats and populists and has abused the confidence of the administration in all political matters relating to Oregon."

If Mr. Scott thinks the result of the election in Oregon is any indication of a want of confidence in Senator McBride, he very much mistaken. Senator McBride is a hard working, pains taking and popular senator and has in an unpretentious way accomplished much for his state. The people of Oregon understand this and propose to stand by him.

The present statutus of military affairs in this state is practically unchanged, while it is known each state is to furnish a quota of troops in respond to the call for 75,000 troops to be used in recruiting the companies now enroute to the Philippines to their maximum strength, the officials are reticent about giving out information regarding the actual number of troops to be taken from each state. It is pretty well understood, though not officially confirmed, that Oregon's quota will be 830 men. Oregon's troops will be raised, very probably, by a United States recruiting officer. The companies of volunteers throughout the state that have organized, will not be reorganized as such but the individual members of such companies can present themselves before the recruiting officer for enlistment. Members of volunteer companies lately formed have expressed themselves very forcibly against disbanding their organization and going as "fillers" for the companies that have preceded them. They perfer to maintain their organization and go as such.

This Union campaign has not been conducted as some might have wished. We should have confined the campaign for state and county offices to state and county affairs. The financial issue was involved only on congressmen. The mistake was made of bringing the national issues into the field, with such prominent agitators as Sovereign, Cyclone Davis, and others.

The editor of The Journal begged Congressman Lentz of Ohio not to attack the administration, and he did moderate his speech somewhat.—Capital Journal.

Right you are, Bro. Hoffer, as far as you go. The trouble with your campaign was, that there were, and are, thousands of men in Oregon who have been, and are, republicans at heart. Men who know that the republican party has been right oftener than any other party which has or ever will exist, in this nation. That it has been and is today the party of the people. That while it has made mistakes in the past and will no doubt make mistakes in the future, it may, nevertheless, be depended on to get right and do the proper thing in the end. And when a lot of "jaw smiths," political agitators, with no standing at home or respect abroad, are hired, at so much a speach, to traduce and vilify the republican party and its principals, it makes honest men like you and thousands of others, who like you have had a share, in making the grand history, of the republican party, ashamed, of being found in such company Better come home Hoffer. Remember that "while the lamp holds out to burn the vilest sinner may return."

Marshfield Harbor Work.

E. D. Hansen, of the tug Columbia, doing business at Coos bay and Coquille, who is now in Portland, says the harbor at Marshfield has been deepened to 21 feet at high water by the jetty so far constructed, but that the government could easily spend $200,000 more before it is completed. Work is at a standstill both here and at Coquille, owing to the government's paying more attention to Spain. But the people down there hope to see the work resumed as soon as the Dons have been done up.

The Salmon-canning industry will begin at Marshfield and Bandon, August 15, this year, as the fish are later about entering those streams than at the mouth of the Columbia.

Considerable lumber is being shipped from Coos bay, not only to San Francisco, but direct to China and to Chile, as barks carrying 800,000 feet can easily enter the harbor since the jetty improvements have caused it to scour to a sufficient depth.

ON CUBAN SOIL

Six Hudred Marines Land at Guantanamo.

MEN FROM THE OREGON LED

Spaniards Fled at the Approach of the Americans.

Off Guantanamo, June 10, via Port Antonio, June 11.—The invasion of Cuba by American forces began today. Six hundred marines have pitched their tents about the smoking ruins of the outer fortifications of Guantanamo, and the Stars and Stripes, for the first time, float on a Spanish flagstaff in Cuba.

To Captain Clark and the battle ship Oregon belong the honor of effecting the successful landing of the war. Forty marines from the battle-ship went ashore this morning and occupied the point to the left of the entrance of the bay, until the Panther arrived with 600 marines.

These, under command of Lieutenant-Colonel Huntington, arrived at 5 o'clock and within half an hour had burned the buildings of the Spanish camp and had set fire to the miserable little village which crouched on the beach under the hills of Guantanamo. The whole operation of silencing the guns and landing the forces was as easy as planning a Sunday-school picnic.

The Marblehead, backed by the Vixen and Dolphin, had opened on the earthworks. The shores to the left of the entrance of the harbor were lined with guns and rifle pits, but the Spanish stampeded after firing a few shots.

The city of Guantanamo lies four miles up the bay, and a little Spanish gunboat came down to help the shore batteries. But she stayed just long enough to turn around. Numerous shots were fired by the Spaniards, but not one landed, and no Americans were injured.

The main force lies within the city limits and is still to be reduced, but it is not in a difficult position, and the American officers say it can be taken in 15 minutes.

The Marblehead, Dolphin, Vixen and two colliers have been off the entrance of the harbor for several days. Yesterday morning they sailed into the channel. A mile further up they opened fire, sending 50 shots at the fortifications on the left. The hills on the right of the entrance were deserted. There are no defenses on the right side of the harbor.

No attempt was made to land until the Oregon steamed in early this morning. Captain Clark immediately sent 40 marines ashore, and 20 from the Marblehead followed. They found evidence of a very hasty departure by the Spaniards. Watches, hammocks and ammunition were scattered about the earthworks, and a Spanish flag was found in one of the rifle pits.

The little detachment of marines held the place until the Panther arrived, when they were recalled, and the work of disembarking began. The first boat-load had scarcely landed when the village burst into flames.

Company K, under Lieutenant Hall, was the first ashore, and without the loss of a moment the column started up the steep, rocky hillside to the earthworks. For an hour, a brown column of marines filed up the narrow path, eventually taking up a position at the top of the hill. As soon as the American flag was swung out to the breeze from the flagstaff of the captured Spanish camp, the Oregon steamed away to rejoin the fleet off Santiago.

The marines will hold the position until the arrival of the expected troops, in the meantime scouting in the vicinity, with the Marblehead, Vixen and Dolphin lying by to protect them.

Rear-Admiral Sampson now has a harbor and base of supplies on the south side of the island, and troops can be landed at will.

The troopship Panther reached the fleet off Santiago early today. On her way over, the Yosemite fired a dozen shells into the port of Baiquiri, but received no response.

Guantnamo is about 40 miles east of Santiago de Cuba, and is a splendid location for a base of supplies for the blockading fleet.

It is understood that the island of Cuba is entirely cut off from cable communication with the outside world. Report here has it that the cable-ship Adria cut the cable at Santiago, Monday, and that the same day the St. Louis cut the cable running from Guanto Mole St. Nicholas, Hayti. She was interrupted by shells from the shore, but the Marblehead sent several shells at the soldiers and scattered them.

Mail Service for Cuba and Manila.

Washington, June 10.—The postoffice department will extend its service to Cuba in one direction and to the Philippines another. The Cuban postoffice is called "New York Military Station No. 1," and is under the supervision of the postmaster at New York. Louis Memner has charge of the money-order branch in Cuba and E. B. Brower, of Pittsburg, has control of the work in Cuba.

The Philippine station is placed in charge of the postmaster at San Francisco, who will appoint an expert money-order clerk for that place. F. W. Vaille, assistant superintendent of the railway service of Oregon, has been detailed to have charge of other branches of the service.

The Philippines are termed in the orders "San Francisco Military Station No. 1." The New York and San Francisco offices have been put in charge of these places, as they are capable of looking after the large amount of orders that are likely to be held and can detach competent clerks to perform the work.

ARMY OF INVASION

Embarked and On the Way to Cuba.

Tampa, Fla., June 11.—The army of invasion is now embarked on a large fleet of swift transports.

The first official notification that the time for movement has arrived came in the form of an order posted May 31. The embarkation assumed definite shape Monday afternoon, June 6, when the first United States infantry, Major-General Shafter's old command, was given the honor of embarking first. As the regiment marched down the long pier at Port Tampa with its band playing, it caused the utmost enthusiasm. During the remainder of that afternoon and until daylight next morning, the movement was continued with the utmost vigor. All day Tuesday, the wharves were a moving mass of excited humanity.

Late in the afternoon, every commanding officer was ordered to get his regiment in readiness for immediate movement, and soon afterward word was sent to send the troops upon the transports as quickly as possible. Trains of coaches and cars of all descriptions were placed on sidings near the various camps and baggage, arms and ammunition were hurried on board.

Tuesday evening, about 8 o'clock, Lieutenant Miley, who was in the hotel telegraph office with General Miles, was seen to rush into the hall toword General Shafter's apartments. Immediately, the two returned to the telegraph office. The regular operator was evicted, the office doors were closed and Captain J. E. Brady, the cersor, took the key. General miles and General Shafter were then placed in direct connection with the war department, and a half hour's conference ensued. The result of this was hurried conferences of the officials followed by a wave of excitement. "The army of invasion must immediately depart" was the word, and from the comparative calm of a few minutes before, the scene was changed to one of action. Scurrying feet hurried from room to room, while horses, flecked with foam, sped from camp to camp; special trains were hurriedly coupled and baggage piled aboard. All during the night, the feverish rush continued.

To Sieze the Ladrones.

San Francisco, June 9.—The evening Post will say today that the cruiser Charleston will not go to the Philippines at once, but her destination is the island of Guahan, in the Ladrone group, which are controlled by the Spanish, and which are about 1500 miles from Manila and 300 from Honolulu. The chief city of Guahan is exceedingly well fortified for such a small place, and affords one of the best harbors and coaling stations in the Pacific. About six months ago the fortifications were strengthened by the Spanish to present formidable resistance in case of attack.

The Post says the United States will seize the group and use Guahan for a Pacific coaling station in addition to any others she may desire. The Charleston, the Post continues, was ordered to wait at Honolulu for the first fleet of transports that left the city and to take the ships to the Ladrones.

It is asserted that artillery which went on the Peking was really intended to garrison the fortification at Guahan, and after quiet is restored and the islands are under control of the United States that the Charleston, with transports, will go to Manila.

It is said the Monadnock will not stay at Honolulu, but proceed to the Ladrones and there remain as permanent guardian of the interests of the United States.

Tea Being Rushed into the Country

Tacoma, June 9.—It is reported here that importers are making a quiet and extraordinary effort to hurry all the tea possible into America before the prospective high war duty shall become effective, and that probably at least four of the Northern Pacific Steamship Company's fleet of steamers will arrive here this month, an exceptionally large number.

In view of the fact that the government is securing the use of these steamers for transports, it is inferred that the vessels may be loaded with tea at the nearest available point and rushed to Tacoma before July 1, saving thousands of dollars duty, which would go to Uncle Sam after the war revenue law became operative, and at the same time hurry the boats along for service in embarking troops to Manila.

The Olympia is due here June 19, and the Arizona July 7. The Columbia is in Japanese waters, and the Tacoma will be in Yokohama in a day or two, and could be returned here in a very short time.

Pacific Coast Steamship Company officials here can say nothing about such a move, "claiming that arrangements for freight coming this way are made on the Asiatic side.

Sagasta's Cabinet Totters to Its Fall.

New York, June 10.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says:

Popular feeling against the government and all existing institutions is assuming a dangerous phase. Everybody believes the Sagasta cabinet and liberal party will soon have to make way for Campos, Silvela and the conservatives, who will take a last stand for the defense of the dynasty against the bitter rage of the nation by making a pathethic appeal to the pope and the continental powers of Europe.

A startling telegram from Governor-General Augusti caused an impression that Manila either had surrendered already or was on the eve of surrendering. The latest report is that Augusti, in a fit of despair tried to commit suicide, but was prevented from killing himself by Admiral Montejo and the generals who wish to hold out.

The queen regent is profoundly grieved and alarmed at the news of the progress of the war, particularly the report from the Philippines.

Will Not Act Under Present Conditions.

London, June 10.—Replying to a question in the house of commons today as to whether the British government or any of the European powers have any intention of intervening to secure the termination of the Spanish-American war, Balfour, the government leader, said:

"Her majesty's government will gladly take any favorable opportunity for promoting a cessation of hostilities and negotiations for peace, but any action upon its part for this purpose can only be undertaken if there is a reasonable prospect that it will be well received by both parties and likely to lead to an agreement between them. Unfortunately there is not sufficient grounds for believing that this condition exists."
